DEATH OF HON. J. H. SULLIVAN.

Hon. John H. Sullivan, a member of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and a Sinking Funds Commissioner, died suddenly on Sunday, April 9, at his home in East Boston.

Mr. Sullivan was born in Bere Haven, County Cork, Ireland, April 27, 1848. He came to Boston as a sailor while a young man. He studied at Comer's Commercial College and fitted himself for the survey of cargoes and the care of docks and shipping, in which branch of business he achieved an enviable prominence and reputation, as well as a high measure of pecuniary success.

Mr. Sullivan was a member of the Common Council in 1884 and 1885, and served as an Alderman in 1886, 1887, 1891 and 1892. In 1888 he was elected to the Massachusetts Senate, and was a member of the Governor's Council in 1895, 1896 and 1898. He served on the Board of Commissioners of Sinking Funds from 1896 till his death. In 1898 Mr. Sullivan was elected to serve for two years as a member of the newly established Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

In public and private circles Mr. Sullivan was highly and deservedly esteemed as an honorable, able and kindly man, an active citizen, and an upright and faithful public servant.

RESOLUTIONS OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

At a special meeting of both branches of the City Council, held on Monday, April 10, for the purpose of taking appropriate action on the death of Hon. John H. Sullivan, feeling and appropriate remarks upon his character and public services were made in the Board of Aldermen by Messrs. Barry, Day, Prescho and McDonald, and in the Common Council by Messrs. Hickey, Mulcahy, Bagley, Kasanof, Simpson, Chamberlain, Giblin, Battis and Lydon.

The following resolutions were passed unanimously by both branches in concurrence:

Resolved, That the City Council has learned with deep regret of the sudden death of the Hon. John H. Sullivan, a member of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and a Sinking Funds Commissioner. During his long and varied public service, as a member of both branches of the City Council, as a State Senator, and as a member of the Governor's Council, he deserved and secured the confidence of the public, and the esteem and affection of his associates, through his unswerving honesty, conscientious performance of duty, and agreeable personal qualities. We lament his untimely death, and place upon record our sense of the loss which the city has sustained.

Resolved, That we tender our respectful sympathy to the bereaved family of Mr. Sullivan, and that an engrossed copy of these resolutions be transmitted to them by the City Clerk.

The following orders were also passed in concurrence:

Ordered, That the City Hall be closed during the time set apart for the funeral of the late Hon. John H. Sullivan.

Ordered, That the City Messenger be directed to cause the flag on City Hall to be placed at half-mast until after the funeral of the late Hon. John H. Sullivan.

Ordered, That all City work be suspended in East Boston, without loss of pay to employees, on the day of the funeral of the late Hon. John H. Sullivan.

The following-named gentlemen were appointed to attend Mr. Sullivan's funeral: On the part of the Board of Aldermen, Chairman Barry and Messrs. Berwin, Day, McDonald and Prescho; on the part of the Common Council, President Kiley and Messrs. Hickey, Moore, Horrigan, Peck, Connolly, Bagley, Collins and Leonard.

PAYMENT OF FEE FOR OPENING OF STREETS.

Following is the decision of the Supreme Judicial Court, given by Judge Morton, in the suits brought by the Boston Elevated Street Railway Company and the Boston Gas Light Company against the Superintendent of Streets of the City of Boston regarding the payment of a fee of $1 by the companies for each permit to open streets in the city:

As I understand these cases, the only matter in controversy is the right of the Superintendent of Streets, under the direction or authority of the Mayor, to compel the petitioners to pay $1 for each permit which they are required to have to open streets in the lawful and proper prosecution of their business.

I do not understand that any question is seriously made that except for their refusal to pay the fee required for the permits, they would have been issued, or that the petitioners are not otherwise entitled to them.

Something is said in the answer to the petition of the Gas Company about a consent to open the streets being required and none having been given. How much that is relied on I do not know.

In the answer to the Elevated Company's petition it is admitted in substance, as I understand, that they need no further authority than they have for doing the work to which the applications for permits relate. If the want of consent in the Gas Company's case, on the part of the proper authorities, to the opening of the streets is relied on, then that case will have to stand for further hearing on that point.

But I assume that the only want of consent that is relied on is that arising out of the refusal to pay the charge of $1 for the permits.

There is no statute or ordinance authorizing the collection of the fee. In that respect this case differs from those cited by the respondent in which the imposition of such charges has been sustained. The respondent justifies it under Statutes of 1885, Chapter 266, Section 6, by which the executive powers formerly vested in the Board of Aldermen as surveyors of highways and otherwise, are now vested in the Mayor, to be exercised by him through the heads of departments.

But however just and reasonable the charge may be in itself, I do not see how in the absence of any statute or ordinance authorizing it, the Mayor and Superintendent of Streets have the right to impose it. It seems to me that it does not come within the scope of the executive and administrative powers of the Mayor and Superintendent of Streets, to institute a fee bill and to compel parties having otherwise a legal right to permits to pay the fees thus established therefor as a condition of issuing them. Such a power, I think, can only be conferred in cases like these by statute or ordinance. The expenses rendered necessary in the way of clerical help and supervision and examination must be presumed to be included in the appropriation or must otherwise be provided for.

As I understand the issue presented, it seems to me the writ should issue.

General Order No. 588.

Reserve Officer Herbert H. Fay, of Division 10, having been commended by his captain for meritorious service in obtaining evidence and assisting in arresting persons engaged in counterfeiting United States money, he is hereby appointed a patrolman in the police force and assigned to duty in the same division.

THE SPARROW NUISANCE.

In view of the urgent need, as represented by Superintendent Doogue of the Public Grounds Department, of assigning Foreman Kennedy and his assistants, who have lately been engaged in destroying sparrow nests upon the Common, back to the regular work of the Department, His Honor Mayor Quincy has directed that this work of destroying nests be now discontinued for the season. It was not anticipated originally that it would prove such an undertaking, or that it would withdraw so much labor from the regular work of the Department, and it is now felt that such work of the Department should not be longer slighted.

Mr. Kennedy has been directed to report to His Honor the Mayor upon the results of the work accomplished, and to observe, as far as possible, whether the sparrows proceed to rebuild their nests as soon as the men are withdrawn.

Messages from the Mayor.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL.

A special meeting of both branches of the City Council was held at 12 M., on Monday, April 10, 1899, in their respective chambers, City Hall, pursuant to the following call:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, April 9, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

You are hereby requested to assemble in your respective chambers on Monday, April 10, 1899, at 12 M., for the purpose of taking appropriate action upon the death of John H. Sullivan, a member of the Board of Apportionment and also Sinking Funds Commissioner, which occurred suddenly this morning, and of expressing the sorrow felt by the citizens of Boston at the loss sustained through his untimely death and their respect for his memory.

Respectfully,

DAVID F. BARRY, Acting-Mayor.

The following message from His Honor the Mayor was received:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, April 10, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

It becomes my painful duty to announce to you the death of Hon. John H. Sullivan, a member of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of this city, and also one of the Commissioners of Sinking Funds. Mr. Sullivan served as a member of the Common Council in 1884 and 1885, as a member of the Board of Aldermen in 1886 and 1887, as a member of the State Senate in 1888, again as a member of the Board of Aldermen in 1891 and 1892, and as a member of the Governor's Council in 1895, 1896 and 1898. During this long and varied career in public office, Mr. Sullivan had won for himself the confidence of the public and the high regard of his associates, and this city loses by his death one of its most representative and public spirited citizens, as well as a faithful public servant. The value of his services to the city in the important position which he held at the time of his death was recognized by all, and his death leaves a vacant place which can hardly be filled.

In view of the long and faithful service which Mr. Sullivan has rendered to the City of Boston, and as a mark of appreciation of his character and services and of the loss sustained by his untimely death, I recommend that appropriate resolutions be passed by the City Council, and that a joint committee be appointed to represent the city at the funeral.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Sent down.

Appointment of a Constable.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, April 12, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

Subject to your approval and confirmation, I hereby appoint George E. Kerr a Constable of the City of Boston for the term of one year, beginning with the first day of May, 1899.

Mr. Kerr is appointed to take the place of Mr. George W. Goode, who has been appointed a Constable for the above term, but who does not care to serve; and I recommend that action upon the appointment of Mr. Goode be indefinitely postponed.

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Laid over, under the law.

Veto — Bay-window Permit.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, April 12, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my signature a vote passed by your Board on April 3, granting permission to John O'Connor to project two bay-windows from building No. 50 Ellery street, Ward 15, two and one-half feet over the street line.

I find that this street is only twenty-seven feet wide and that there are now no bay-windows on it. This vote is therefore contrary to Section 32 of the Revised Regulations of 1898, which provides that "no person shall project a bay-window over any street less than thirty feet in width, unless another bay-window already projects over such street," and that "no person shall project a bay-window more than eighteen inches over any street, unless another bay-window already projects more than eighteen inches over such street."

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Veto — Cellar Excavation.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, April 7, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my signature a vote passed by your Board at its last meeting, granting leave to Sidney F. Squires to excavate the cellar of building 329-331 Tremont street, Ward 10, at grade 9.

The Board of Aldermen is authorized by law to grant licenses, subject to revocation at any time, authorizing the construction of cellars at a lower grade than twelve feet above mean low water "in buildings, no part of which is to be used as a dwelling"; but I find that this building is to be used for hotel purposes.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Fees for Street Openings.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, April 12, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

The Street Department has, for over two years, been charging a fee of $1 for the issuing of a permit for opening the streets, and the revenue from this source has amounted, during the past year, to about $10,000. By the decision of Mr. Justice Morton of the Supreme Judicial Court, it appears that the Superintendent of Streets does not have power to make these charges unless the City Council shall by ordinance authorize him so to do. (See page 269.)

I therefore recommend the passage of the accompanying amendment to the ordinances.

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

An ordinance to amend Chapter 38 of the Revised Ordinances of 1898.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 1. Chapter 38 of the Revised Ordinances of 1898, is hereby amended in Section 8 by adding at the end thereof the following:

"The amount to be paid for each such permit for other than city work shall be as follows:

"Class A, $1 each for ordinary excavations, laying drains, laying wires, conduits and railroad tracks, occupying streets for erecting and repairing buildings, and other purposes connected with buildings, when they do not become a part of another permit, placing electric poles in the streets, placing coal-holes and vaults under the sidewalks, moving buildings, feeding horses, selling fruit, etc., from buildings, selling fruit, etc., from areas, occupying sidewalks for more than ten minutes for the purpose of loading and unloading goods (yearly permit), driving cattle, wearing advertising coat and hat (yearly permit), making emergency openings, and for any other purpose except those in Class B.

"Class B, twenty-five cents each for raising and lowering goods into and from buildings, erecting signs, erecting and repairing awnings, projecting electric lamps, distributing fine sand on pavements, occupying sidewalk to repair sidewalk lights and covers, occupying sidewalk and portion of street for cleaning snow from roofs of buildings (yearly permit), watering streets with watering carts. For extension of any permit, twenty-five cents must be paid."

The ordinance was passed and sent down for concurrence.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL.

A regular meeting of the Common Council was held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 7.45 P.M. Thursday, April 6, 1899. President Kiley occupied the chair.

Board Meetings.

Cemetery Department.

A meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Cemetery Department was held at the office of the Trustees, in City Hall, on Tuesday, March 28, 1899, at 2.30 P.M.

There were present Messrs. Brackett, Morse, Fallon, Hersey and Atteaux.

Voted, That the Chairman be empowered to negotiate and exchange with William Jennings for lot No. 834 on Central avenue in Mt. Hope Cemetery, some other lot of equal value and dimensions, in another portion of the cemetery, and that no charge be made for the removal of bodies now in lot No. 834 to the lot exchanged for; the reason of the foregoing being that the construction of the new office building and change of avenue necessitates the use of the lot now owned by the said Jennings.

Voted, That the Superintendent be instructed to discontinue, after the present season, the planting of lots in Perpetual Care with flowers and shrubs, and that after the present season a charge be made to lot-holders for the planting of same.

Voted, That the Superintendent be instructed to arrange for the expenditure of the sum of $5,000 for providing new greenhouse-room at Mt. Hope Cemetery, and that he be empowered to receive bids for the doing of the work.

Voted, That the Superintendent be empowered to demolish such of the old and insecure greenhouses as is necessary to make way for the construction of the new one.

Voted, That an order be placed with the Yawman & Erbe Manufacturing Company to furnish a metallic cabinet for the Department office, as per plan submitted, for the sum of $457.

for a clerk and store-keeper for the Parental School at a salary of $25 a month.

Voted, That the Committee on Photographs be authorized to take photographs of the children in the country homes at an expense not exceeding $10.

It was moved that it is the sentiment of the Board that the building formerly used for the infant hospital be now used entirely for the work of the Board and, aside from the offer made to the West End Hospital, no offer from any other source be considered for its use.

An amendment was offered that this matter be referred to the next meeting, Miss Cheever, the Chairman and the Secretary voting in favor of this amendment; Mrs. Quinn, Mrs. Dewey, Mr. Dasey and Mr. O'Hare voting against it. The original motion was then passed, Miss Cheever, the Chairman and the Secretary voting against it.

A letter from Mr. Anthony, of February 25, was read.

Voted, That the appointments and resignations in this letter be approved.

Mr. O'Hare reported on the repairs and alterations at the House of Reformation that they were nearly completed.

Voted, That until the telephone be re-established a system of signals be arranged to call the steamer "John Howard" and that a boat's crew be organized among the boys.

With reference to the resignation of Herbert Putnam as Librarian, the following resolutions were adopted:

In accepting the resignation of Mr. Herbert Putnam as Librarian, the Trustees of the Public Library of the City of Boston desire to put upon their records the following votes:

That they recognize the harmonious and helpful relations between the Librarian and the Trustees from the day he accepted the office; the remarkable administrative qualities he has shown in directing the alterations by which the Library Building has been so well fitted for its purposes; in increasing to so large a degree the interest the public takes in the Library, until to-day it has a larger constituency than any other; in instituting so successfully the work of the Public Library in connection with the public schools, and in making the public realize that this institution, created and supported by it, really belongs to it, and needs its ever-enlarging patronage and generosity.

That they appreciate the feeling which leads Mr. Putnam, at much personal sacrifice, to give up his position here to take charge of the Congressional Library at Washington, and his desire to make it the culmination of the library system of this country, and in time one of the great libraries of the world.

That their highest regard goes with him in the difficult work he is about to assume, and their faith in his gifts to bring it to the most successful issues.

Voted, That James Lyman Whitney be appointed Acting Librarian; to enter upon his duties when the resignation of Herbert Putnam takes effect.

DEATH OF JOHN McNAMARA.

The death of John McNamara, a prominent contractor and builder, occurred on Sunday, April 16, 1899, at his home in Dedham. Mr. McNamara was for many years a resident of South Boston, and in 1888 represented Ward 14 in the Common Council.

APPOINTMENT OF INSTRUCTOR IN MILITARY DRILL.

Lieutenant-Colonel George H. Benyon of Watertown, who was elected by the School Committee on the eleventh instant to be Instructor in Military Drill in the Boston High Schools, holds the position of Assistant Adjutant-General on the staff of General W. A. Bancroft, in command of the Second Brigade of the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia. Lieutenant-Colonel Benyon, who is a native of Brighton, has been connected with the militia since 1879, when he joined Company C of the Fifth Infantry. He became a corporal in 1880, second lieutenant in 1881, first lieutenant in 1884, captain in April, 1887, and was appointed regimental adjutant in September of the same year. In July, 1888, he was elected major, and in July, 1897, received his present staff appointment.

Lieutenant-Colonel Benyon has had much experience as an instructor in military drill in various high schools in the neighborhood of Boston, including those of Newton, Malden and Woburn.

At a meeting of the School Board, held on June 12, 1897, Major Benyon, as he was then known, received twelve votes out of twenty-three votes cast in the election for Instructor in Military Drill, and was declared elected. Subsequently the School Committee, having discovered that under the statute a two-thirds vote was necessary to elect, held a special meeting on June 14, when Captain J. T. Paget was elected on the fourteenth ballot.

The terms of service of Lieutenant-Colonel Benyon's predecessors are as follows:

General Hobart Moore, elected in September, 1862, served until his death on the twenty-sixth of April, 1894. Captain Joseph T. Paget, elected June 14, 1894, served until his death on May 10, 1897. Lieutenant Erasmus M. Weaver, jr., U.S.A., elected on October 12, 1897, resigned March 1, 1899.

USE OF THE SUBWAY.

In response to an order of the House of Representatives requesting information with regard to the use of the subway, the following communication from the Boston Transit Commission was received by the House on April 14, 1899:

TO THE HONORABLE THE SPEAKER AND
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHU-SETTS:

The Boston Transit Commission respectfully submits its reply to the following order, passed by the House of Representatives and received by the Commission at its meeting on April 11:

"Ordered, That the Boston Transit Commission be requested to inform the House of Representatives forthwith whether the subways leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company are now being used by said company to the full capacity thereof, especially at the Park street station, and, if not, in what manner and to what extent said subways may be more fully utilized and travel therein expedited."

The first question is whether the subway is now being used to its full capacity, especially at the Park street station.

There are three sets of tracks in the subway. One set enters at the Boylston street incline and forms a loop at Park street. The second set consists of the through tracks running from Pleasant street to Travers street. The tracks of the third set enter the subway at Travers street, pass up Hanover street to Scollay square, and return again to the northern exit by way of Cornhill and Washington street.

The loop tracks are at various points connected with the through tracks by switches for the convenient transfer, when desired, of traffic from the one to the other. At the northern terminal these switches are controlled from an interlocking tower.

Inasmuch as the tracks within the subway are free from the interference which surface tracks suffer from foot passengers, from teams and from grade crossings, it is obvious that between stations the subway tracks have a greater capacity for traffic than surface tracks.

What is the capacity for traffic at the subway platforms?

Last fall, during the first two months or so of the operation of the subway as a whole, the traffic on the Park street loop was delayed at the Park street platforms and the public inadequately accommodated. The Elevated Railway Company, however, soon initiated changes in the method of operation adapted to the requirements of the situation. These changes consisted in increasing the number of berths at the platforms and in notifying passengers in advance as to the exact point at which each car was to stop.

On December 9 last, before these changes were fully developed, it was found that 195 cars passed around the loop at Park street in the hour of maximum traffic—that is, between 5 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon. This traffic did not result in congestion of cars within the subway.

The card-indicator then in use could be seen only from a portion of the platform. Electric indicators at each end of the platform, readily visible from all parts of the platform and from the stairs as well, have since been installed, and the method of handling the traffic has in other respects been materially improved.

Since the said December 9, 1898, this Commission has had counts made of the number of cars passing over tracks in the subway in the maximum hour on a few days only. The following is the result of these counts so far as the Park street loop tracks are concerned:

Thursday, December 15, 1898, 176; Wednesday, January 18, 1899, 187; Wednesday, March 29, 1899, 155; Thursday, March 30, 1899, 175; Tuesday, April 4, 1899, 181.

It is evident that if with the only partially developed methods of handling passengers and cars in use on December 9, 1898, 195 cars per hour could be handled without congestion, the improved methods of operation now in use will permit the running of a larger number of cars, and that the limit of traffic capacity on these tracks has not been reached. Admirable as are the present methods of operation there is opportunity for still further improvement in the future.

Complaint has been made in regard to the crowding which has occurred on the Park street platform in the eagerness of people to get on board the loop cars. Before the present methods of operation were adopted this crowding was most objectionable and in many cases dangerous. The chief cause of the trouble was that no passenger knew where his car was going to stop until it appeared at the platform. The distribution of passengers, therefore, to the several cars had to take place practically after the arrival of the cars, and people who were at one end of the platform, in hurrying to the other to get their car, caused much confusion, excitement and hustling. While there are still people who have not learned to avail themselves of the information furnished by the electric indicators, it is believed that the difficulty above referred to is now practically remedied. It was a difficulty which was foreseen by the Commission before the plans of the subway were adopted, and its solution was then worked out on the line of the device now in use.

It must be borne in mind that if there are more people desiring passage on a car than there are seats within it, they will, in their eagerness to take that particular car, and get a seat, crowd towards and upon the car platforms, no matter how large may be the open space around the car.

So far as the other two sets of tracks in the subway are concerned, the number of cars requisite for present traffic does not utilize them to their full capacity. Each of these two sets has at least as great a capacity for traffic as the Park street loop. The through tracks are now carrying about three-fifths as much traffic as is carried on the Park street loop, and the traffic on the Scollay square route is still less. The answer to the first question is therefore that the subway is not now being used to its full capacity.

The next question is in what manner and to what extent the subway may be more fully utilized and travel therein expedited. The subway is utilized at the present time to the extent of the business which is brought to it. It is capable of doing more business when more business is offered.

If congestion in any part should occur in the future relief should be sought, as it has been sought at the Park-street station, by improved methods of operation, and also by transferring traffic from the overburdened tracks or portions of platforms to those less heavily loaded.

The subway was carefully planned to avoid all grade crossings by cars going in different directions, but it was also planned with special reference to facilitate the transfer of traffic between tracks for cars going in the same direction. The problems of operation which occur within the subway are not the same as those which occur on the surface, and it was not to be expected that they would be correctly solved at once, or that the full benefits of the island platforms would be immediately developed.

The present methods of taking up tickets and transfer checks in the cars in the subway is a source of considerable delay to traffic and inconvenience to passengers. This system is particularly prejudicial to rapid transit where the stations are so near together, as they must necessarily be in the very heart of the city. If the company could devise some method to avoid these delays by taking tickets from passengers as they enter the subway, according to the system in use on the New York Elevated Railway, much would be accomplished towards promoting rapid transit, the convenience of the public would be increased, the transfer turnstiles and barriers at the Park-street platform would be unnecessary, the special stop for the transfer station at Park street would be done away with, and passengers could have the choice of several platforms at which they could transfer instead of being limited as at present to those particular platforms especially arranged for transfer service.

It is recognized that it is not a simple matter to carry out this suggestion consistently with the operation of cars outside of the subway, but it is believed that the problem can be solved and that it is not more difficult than other problems which have been solved by the company in its efforts to promote rapid transit.

The Boston Transit Commission,

By GEORGE G. CROCKER, Chairman.

INSANE HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

The following is a condensed summary of the report of the Insane Hospital Department for the year 1898-99, which constitutes Document 16, 1899:

On February 1, 1899, the patients in charge of the Trustees numbered 1,560, classified as follows: (1) in the Boston Insane Hospital, 578; (2) in State institutions for the insane, including 28 boarded in families, 867; (3) in other institutions 115, including 34 criminal insane at Bridgewater, 41 inebriates at Foxboro' and 40 feeble-minded adults at Waverly.

Bills amounting to $184,418 have been approved by the Trustees the past year for the board of the insane in State institutions.

During the past year the two hospitals at Austin and Pierce Farms have been consolidated under one Superintendent for administrative purposes. The hospital at Austin Farm has been made a department for women, and the hospital at Pierce Farm a department for men. A consulting staff has been appointed, and a training-school for nurses will soon be established.

The land and buildings on Canterbury street, formerly used by the Health Department as a small-pox hospital, were transferred to the Insane Hospital Department. The buildings were condemned by the Board of Health, and have been burned.

At Austin Farm the wooden building known as Ward A, originally built for female paupers, and long considered unsuitable and unsafe for the insane, was condemned by the State Board of Insanity as a fire-trap. The City Council has authorized the Trustees to close the building, and 100 patients are being transferred to the State hospital at Medfield.

The Trustees believe that there should be a Metropolitan hospital established to care for all the insane of Boston. The present location is eminently suitable. Sufficient land for a model metropolitan hospital can be acquired.

In order to begin the work of developing a metropolitan hospital, the Trustees have asked for an appropriation of $353,000 for buildings and land. The Trustees again urge the necessity of installing an electric light plant.

The special report of Dr. Lane, the Superintendent of the hospital, which is appended to the report of the Trustees, shows the movement of population within the hospital during the calendar year 1898, as follows:

	Men.	Women.	Total.
Patients in the hospital December 31, 1897 .	249	268	517
Admitted	156	180	336
Whole number treated,	405	448	853
Discharged	85	196	281
Patients in hospital January 1, 1899 . .	320	252	572

The daily average population has been slightly over 530, an average that is 41 higher than that of last year.

Dr. Lane goes on to say: In spite of the fact that an unusual number of patients have been admitted, the number discharged, recovered, i.e., 33, is no larger than usual. This is explained by the fact that a very large number of old people have been received. Sixty-seven admissions were over 60 years of age. On the other hand, the number of deaths, 75, is unusually large, and is to be accounted for by reasons already stated, and from the fact that there were over 19 deaths from general paresis. The excessive proportion of cases of the latter disease is due to the fact that the cases are from the city. The death-rate was 8.7 per cent. of cases treated, or 14.1 per cent. of the daily average. The average age at death was 55 years. Twenty-four cases were discharged as much improved, 16 improved, 40 not improved, and 8 as not insane; 85 were transferred to State institutions. The percentage of recoveries to admissions was 10 per cent., and to discharges, 11.7 per cent.

These figures show clearly that there has been more strictly hospital work done than ever before.

Formerly, the Department was embarrassed by old and efficient attendants leaving to go elsewhere for better remuneration. A sliding scale of wages was adopted, more care was taken in selecting applicants, and a two months' probation was adopted. The result has been fewer changes than ever before in the nursing staff, and a corresponding increase in efficiency.

The purchase of supplies has been made in open market. An experience of many years in this institution shows that the quality of supplies was never so good when under contract system, and in many instances the prices have averaged less. Contrasting the weekly per capita cost of food the past year ($1.02), with cost in 1896 ($1.19), when food was purchased under contract, a strong argument is found for the present system.

It would seem as if this hospital had reached a parting of the ways. If it is to continue to advance, and take rank with the larger hospitals, a considerable sum of money must be expended on land and buildings, and the erection of a large hospital be entered upon. Without a generous appropriation for this purpose, it seems to be a serious question if it will pay the city to continue this small institution, which, with its imperfections and inconveniences, must continue to be run at a comparatively high per capita cost.

Under the former management of officials with short terms, it seemed as if a broad, systematic and consistent growth was not possible. Now with a permanent Board of Trustees such a plan of development may be carefully made and carried on, and a careful study of the possibilities of the present site shows that the location is ideal, and only needs the necessary funds to provide an insane hospital that will be a credit to our city.

Appended to the report is a financial statement, an extensive series of tables which relate to the character of the inmates of the hospital and the results of their treatment, and the rules and by-laws of the Trustees.

The financial statement shows that the total expenditures of the hospital amounted to $125,030, and the income to $16,439; and the net weekly cost per capita for a daily average of 530 patients is given at $3.93.

The heaviest items of expenditure were: Salaries and wages, $45,513; food, $28,340; fuel, $11,431; repairs and alterations, $8,040; agriculture, $6,422; household supplies, $3,986, and water, $3,699.

The record of cases admitted within the year is as follows:

CEMETERY DEPARTMENT.

The annual report of the Cemetery Department for the fiscal year ending January 31, 1899, which constitutes Document 5, has been presented to His Honor the Mayor. The burial-grounds, cemeteries and tombs, which are either owned by or in charge of the City of Boston, number eighteen, located in various parts of the city. The work done, and the needs of each cemetery, are specifically set forth in the report. There were 2,048 interments during the year, of which number 1,711 were at Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Apart from the city poor, the Department is obliged to bury the pauper dead. To meet this demand a lot was established, adjacent to Mt. Hope Cemetery, in which, during 1898, 500 bodies were interred. There are now in this lot the remains of some 20,000 persons, and at the end of 1899 there will be absolutely no room for additional interments.

If the bodies are to be buried, a large tract of land outside the residential limits of the city should be acquired for the purpose. The Department believes, however, that not only for paupers, but for all conditions of people, cremation is a proper and fitting method. The Department has given this matter due consideration, and carefully considered the desires of an element of our citizens who believe in cremation, and think the city should make provision therefor at a moderate cost. On the other hand, the Department realizes that some are opposed to any system of cremation.

It has been suggested that an underground crypt could be constructed, with niches, in which bodies could be placed, and kept therein for a specified number of years. Another suggestion is to inter the remains in a certain plot of ground, and after the ground is full, reinter in the same plot, making no attempt to preserve the identity of the remains previously interred.

By an order passed by the City Council, $25,000 have been appropriated for the purpose of providing a chapel at Mt. Hope Cemetery. It is believed that this cemetery, under proper treatment, will eventually become self-supporting.

As soon as the card catalogues are finished, the Department will have an accurate record of interments in all the cemeteries and burial-grounds. During the past year the inscriptions and much historical information concerning the older cemeteries have been compiled, together with plans showing location of all stones, markers and tombs. All this information will be made available to the public before the close of 1899.

The regular appropriation of the Department for the year, together with the interest on the Perpetual Care Fund, was $47,610. In addition to this, there were special appropriations as follows: Chapel at Mt. Hope Cemetery, $25,000; Mt. Hope Cemetery, $2,500; Copp's Hill Burial-Ground, $1,000; fence at Evergreen Cemetery, $1,500. The expenses of the Department, from the regular and special appropriations, amounted to $52,562.79. The receipts were $29,744.92.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

At the meeting of the School Committee, held on the eleventh instant, the Superintendent of Schools presented his nineteenth annual report, which constitutes School Document No. 3, 1899.

Aside from the usual statistics of the schools and statements regarding the condition of military drill in the high schools, the value of the instruction in industrial art given in the evening drawing schools, and the general intent and scope of the new rules and regulations, the report is devoted chiefly to a discussion of questions relating to the appointment of teachers and to recommendation of measures for securing greater efficiency in the teaching force.

Superintendent Seaver's views and statements may be summarized briefly as follows:

The whole number of pupils in all the day schools on the thirty-first of January, 1899, was 77,464, showing an increase of 1,903 since January, 1898. This increase is surprisingly small, being but little more than one-half of that reported last year, 3,612, and considerably less than that reported year before last, 2,634.

The Latin and High schools have increased slightly more this year than they did last; the grammar and primary schools have increased considerably less, and the kindergartens have slightly decreased.

These facts explain why fewer new teachers have been appointed this year than last year or the year before. They also explain why the pressure for more new school buildings has not increased as much as formerly.

The total number of teachers appointed in the grammar and primary schools this year was 51, last year 88, and 99 the year before.

There are in the grammar and primary schools about fifty places falling vacant each year, in which it is reasonably safe to employ beginners at teaching, like the recent graduates of the Normal school. The number of graduates of the Normal school each year is greatly in excess of this. The number of graduates last June was 101, in the June before 102, and in the June before that 76. Next June the number will be considerably over 100.

Each year there is a large surplus of graduates who do not obtain permanent appointments. The accumulated surplus during the last few years has been growing at the rate of about fifty a year.

In September last there were altogether 256 normal graduates of the years 1890-98 ready for appointment. This number had been reduced by the end of January, 1899, to 225. Next June the number waiting for appointment will be raised again above 300.

The expectation that Boston Normal graduates would secure a permanent appointment in the Boston schools, at most a year after graduation, has been generally realized till within a few years. There has also grown up a feeling that appointments belong to Boston Normal graduates, as a matter of right. The over supply of Normal graduates has produced a feeling of discontent and a sense of injustice, because appointments are so few and tardy.

The source of this troublesome over supply must be cut off. In other words the number of pupils admitted each year to the Normal School must be limited.

Not all young women who aspire to be teachers in the city schools can be received. If the city needs but fifty or sixty young teachers each year, let the Normal School be limited to the training of no more than that number.

The Normal graduates of the year 1898 were placed upon a merit list.

Whenever a vacancy was to be filled from this list, the names of three candidates standing highest on the list were given to the principal of the school in which the vacancy existed.

Then all three of these candidates were requested to visit the principal, who, after due consideration, made his choice. The two candidates not chosen by this principal, together with the candidates standing next highest on the list, were mentioned in the same way to the next principal having a vacancy to fill, and so on. This method has been followed with absolute fidelity.

It has been asked how far the appointment of teachers other than graduates of the Boston Normal School, and who usually come from outside the city, has diminished the Normal graduates' chances for appointment.

The answer is that no material change has taken place this year. From September 1, it is found that Boston Normal graduates have received this year 61 per cent. of the appointments for which they were eligible. The average for the three years preceding this is 62 per cent.

Classes in the sixth and seventh grades, particularly, are generally known as hard classes. Such places must be filled with teachers of considerable experience. For teachers of this description resort must often be had to the holders of the Supervisor's certificates of qualification. It is always possible to find among the certificate-holders strong teachers of five, ten or fifteen years' experience, who are willing to come into this city from neighboring cities and towns; and our schools need the matured power and skill of such teachers. Many of the best teachers now in the service came originally from other places.

In many schools the number of teachers now employed is considerably in excess of the number permitted by the regulations. Divided responsibility, and an unwillingness to drop teachers whose services are no longer necessary, are accountable for what exists; but now that an undivided responsibility has been placed on the Superintendent, he cannot silently allow the present state of affairs to continue beyond the end of the present year, without becoming himself accountable.

The number of these extra teachers — not more than five or six in the city formerly — is quite large now, not less than fifty or sixty.

It appears highly probable that more than one-half of the extra teachers are unnecessary; that they could be discharged at the end of the year without injury to the schools; or certainly without more injury than other schools now suffer by being held to the regulations. In other words, it would seem to be possible to effect a saving of some $15,000 in salaries, and yet continue the employment of all extra teachers whose services are really necessary.

Mr. Seaver instances certain inequalities of administration that have insensibly grown up, and need remedying, viz.: (1) teachers of cookery are all paid on the same salary scale for services varying from 29 to 96 per cent. of the theoretical maximum; (2) teachers of wood-working are paid a fixed salary, while the work done ranges from 56 to 92 per cent. of the theoretical maximum; (3) sewing teachers are unequally paid owing to the lack of even approximate uniformity in the size of their classes; (4) there is an unnecessary number of ungraded classes; (5) the irregularities and injustice incident to the present system of paying teachers on leave of absence and their substitutes.

Mr. Seaver urges that a just and economical administration of the schools requires:

(1.) That the number of young women trained in the Normal school for the teaching profession should be limited to the needs of the city schools.

(2.) That the number of teachers employed in each school should not exceed the number permitted by the regulations, save in cases of clearly ascertained necessity.

(3.) That teachers of cookery and of wood-working, being paid full salaries, should teach the full number of classes each week, which classes should usually be full or nearly so.

(4.) That classes in sewing should usually be of full size, and classes of half size or less, when permitted, should be paid for in teachers' wages at a reduced rate.

(5.) That ungraded classes should not be established for any other reasons than those which the regulations contemplate, and that any classes which have been so established should be discontinued.

(6.) That the city should make a deduction from the pay of every officer, teacher, clerk or janitor absent from duty, and should pay for the services of all substitutes.

The following table presents a consolidated summary statement regarding teachers and pupils in the general schools supported by the city on January 31, 1899:

RIFLE RANGE FOR THE MILITIA OF BOSTON.

The following communication regarding a rifle range for the militia of Boston was submitted to the Board of Aldermen at its meeting held on Wednesday, April 12, by the Corporation Counsel:

LAW DEPARTMENT.

Boston, April 7, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

In reply to your inquiry as to "what are the duties and the powers of the Board of Aldermen in relation to providing a rifle range for the use of the militia of Boston," I have to say that, by Section 90 of Chapter 367 of the Acts of the year 1893, the Mayor and Aldermen of cities and the Selectmen of towns are required to "provide suitable grounds or places for the parade, drill and target practice of the militia belonging to their respective cities and towns," but by Chapter 142 of the Acts of the year 1898, no land is to be acquired by the City of Boston for said purposes prior to the first day of June in the year 1899. The effect of said last-named act is to suspend the powers of the Board of Aldermen given by the Act of 1898 until said first day of June, 1899.

Respectfully,

ANDREW J. BAILEY,
Corporation Counsel.

Messages from the Mayor.TO THE COMMON COUNCIL.

A regular meeting of the Common Council was held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 7.45 P.M., Thursday, April 13, 1899, President Kiley in the chair.

The following messages were received from His Honor the Mayor:

Water Service, Dorchester Lower Mills.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, April 13, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Water Commissioner in reply to an order requesting information as to why the high pressure water service has not been extended to the Lower Mills District, Dorchester.

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE WATER COMMISSIONER.

City Hall, April 13, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: Under date of April 7 I reported to you on the order of the Common Council, asking in reference to high service water in Dorchester. Since then I have received a communication in reference to this question from the Metropolitan Water Board. After a hearing with them on the question, a final report will be sent in in regard to the supplying of high service water to portions of Jamaica Plain and Dorchester.

Yours very truly,

JOHN R. MURPHY,

Water Commissioner.

OFFICE OF THE WATER COMMISSIONER.

City Hall, April 7, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: The order of Councilman Hibbard, which you have referred to me, can best be answered by the following copy of a letter sent to the Metropolitan Water Board under date of February 14, 1899:

OFFICE OF THE WATER COMMISSIONER.

City Hall, February 14, 1899.

HON. HENRY H. SPRAGUE, Chairman, Metropolitan Water Board, Boston, Mass.

GENTLEMEN: Some time since, two requests were made upon your honorable body to which no response has been made up to date.

(1.) In reference to whether you decline to assume the responsibility of laying a new pipe to East Boston under Chelsea creek.

(2.) The question of high service for Dorchester and Jamaica Plain.

It is necessary that we should receive a reply to these questions at once, so that I can be in a position to tell the people of Dorchester and Jamaica Plain when they are to receive the increased pressure. A similar reason applies for immediate reply on the question of the pipe underneath Chelsea creek. Kindly let me hear from you at once.

I understand that it is proposed to widen the draw-way at Chelsea north bridge. If this should be done, the Water Department will abandon the siphons across the draw-way and abandon the line of pipe with which the siphons are connected. I advise you at this early date, so as to give you an opportunity to take any action that you may desire.

Yours very truly,

JOHN R. MURPHY,

Water Commissioner.

Last year I had a conference with the Metropolitan Water Board, and we agreed to leave the details of the question of high pressure for Dorchester and Jamaica Plain to be worked out by the City Engineer and the Engineer of the Metropolitan Water Board. I understand that, as a result of that conference, the Metropolitan Water Board would be ready the first of this year to grant the City of Boston's request for high service supply in these localities. The plans for making the necessary changes in the main water-pipe system for supplying Dorchester and Jamaica Plain have been made, but up to to-day the Metropolitan Water Board has not answered my communication. For that reason I am not in a position to give the information called for by the order.

As far as Jamaica Plain is concerned, the Boston Water Department is ready to let on the high service supply on short notice, but we cannot do so without the consent of the Metropolitan Water Board.

As regards the high service for Dorchester, the work of rearranging the water mains cannot be commenced upon until we have some assurance that our request to extend high service to that district will be granted by the Metropolitan Water Board, and the time required for doing this work would be at least several months.

Yours very truly,

JOHN R. MURPHY,

Water Commissioner.

Street Watering.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, April 13, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Superintendent of Streets in reference to an order now pending before your body, relative to street watering, and urging that some action be taken to relieve the present unsatisfactory state of affairs.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

STREET DEPARTMENT.

City Hall, April 13, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: The order in relation to street watering, sent down from the Board of Aldermen, was assigned by the Common Council to the meeting to-night. At the last meeting two amendments were offered, one that a certain portion be assessed on the railroad companies maintaining tracks in any street watered, the other that the assessment be only authorized within the four-mile limit. In regard to the first, I would say that I understand that such an assessment cannot be levied on the railroad companies without action by the Legislature; and should the second amendment become operative, no watering can be done outside the four-mile limit, as no money is provided therefor; and this, I think, should be called to the attention of the Common Council, so that such action as may be taken may be with a full understanding of the conditions.

I also desire to urge that some action be taken to relieve the present dust conditions.

Yours very respectfully,

BENJ. W. WELLS,

Superintendent of Streets.

Placed on file.

The report of the Committee on Registration and Special Cases was accepted and placed on file.

The Electrical Construction Division reported that the telephonic communication with Long Island will probably be restored within two days.

The Committee on Medical Department and Dietary reported that no transfers of patients to the State Hospital for Consumptives, at Rutland, have been recommended by the resident physicians and staff. The hospital at Rutland is now full, with a waiting list.

Voted, That the matter of diploma for graduates of Training School for Nurses be referred to the Committee on Medical Department and Dietary, to report, and that the executive agent be requested in the meantime to make necessary inquiries.

Voted, That the question of weight of cistern at Long Island and of overflow be referred, with power, to the Committee on Buildings and Grounds.

Voted, That the following appointments, recommended by the Acting Superintendent at Long Island, be confirmed.

Kate Holmes, head laundress, at $20 per month, Margaret A. Kelley, head nurse, at $25 per month, Kate B. McAdams, head nurse, at $25 per month.

A letter from His Honor the Mayor, in regard to charge for water at Long Island was read. The letter stated that the Water Department had sent word that $3,000 will henceforward be charged to Long Island instead of $2,500. It also stated that this sum might probably be transferred to this Department from the extra income which would accrue to the Water Department on this account.

The Acting Superintendent appeared before the Board, and recommended that the attempt to raise vegetables and produce be discontinued. In his opinion it would be impossible to get the necessary cultivation done, and that there will be only enough men from now on to do the necessary work on the ice pond and in raising hay. The question of seeds for summer vegetables, and consideration of the recommendation of the Acting Superintendent were referred to the Committee on Buildings and Grounds, with power.

The Superintendent of the Charlestown Almshouse reported the resignation of Mrs. Ellen Mahoney, matron, on account of prolonged illness.

Voted, That the resignation of Mrs. Ellen Mahoney be accepted, to take effect May 15, she to be excused from duty on April 1.

The Chairman will write a letter to Mrs. Mahoney, expressing the recognition by the Trustees of her valuable and faithful work.

Voted, That the Committee on Buildings and Grounds be requested to confer with the City Engineering Department as to the requisite steps to secure a new powerhouse.

EXPORTATION OF MANUFACTURES.

According to the most recent publication of the United States Treasury Bureau of Statistics, the exportation of manufactures in the fiscal year 1899, is likely to show an increase of more than $30,000,000 over that of last year; that of iron and steel alone will supply more than one-half that increase. In the eight months of the fiscal year for which the Treasury Bureau of Statistics figures are now available, the exports of iron and steel are nearly $16,000,000 greater than in the corresponding months of the preceding fiscal year, and show a gain of 36 per cent. over those of last year, and nearly 70 per cent. over those of the preceding year. In importations of iron and steel there is a reduction as compared with last year, though not in so marked a degree, the falling off in imports for the eight months being but 10 per cent. while the corresponding period of last year showed a reduction of 20 per cent.

The force of the Department consists of one sealer, ten deputy sealers, one messenger and one keeper.

Following is a summary of the operations of the Department for the year:

CHARLES E. STRATTON, Esq., Chairman,
Board of Commissioners of the Department of Parks.

SIR: Replying to your letter of April 10, 1899, asking if Castle Island, Boston harbor, which during the war with Spain it became necessary to use in connection with the submarine mine defense of Boston, can now, without detriment to the War Department, be restored to the care of the Park Department of the City of Boston, I beg to inform you that the Chief of Engineers, United States Army, under date of the tenth instant, reported that as the work of unloading and storing the mines is now completed, there is no reason for the further exclusion of the public from said island.

EXPENDITURES OF THE WATER DEPARTMENT.

Water Commissioner Murphy has submitted to His Honor the Mayor the following communication and report relative to the expenditures of the Water Department:

OFFICE OF THE WATER COMMISSIONER.

City Hall, April 17, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: In reference to the statement made at the hearing at the State House, that the Water Department was spending more money since the State had taken a portion of its system than before, I would report that such statements are incorrect. I submit copy of the report of Andrew Stewart, examiner of accounts, which shows that in the fiscal year 1897-98, before the State took a portion of our system, our expenditures were $1,071,837.11, and that in the year 1898-99, which covers the period since the State took control of a portion of our system, the expenditures were $898,827.37, showing a difference of expenditures between the two years of $173,009.74.

Yours very truly,

JOHN R. MURPHY,
Water Commissioner.

28 State Street, April 15, 1899.

HON. JOHN R. MURPHY, Water Commissioner:

DEAR SIR: At your request I have made an examination of the expenditures of the Water Department for the fiscal years 1895-96 to 1898-99, inclusive, the figures for the purpose having been obtained from the reports of the City Auditor and the Water Department reports for the above-mentioned period. I submit to you herewith my finding in the matter.

Yours very truly,

ANDREW STEWART.

FREE MUNICIPAL CONCERTS.

Up to date the Music Commission has given in the various districts of the city twenty-three free chamber concerts. The artists have been a quartette of instrumentalists, a pianist and a vocalist at each concert. The works performed have been of the highest musical kind, comprising compositions by Mozart, Haydn, Raff, Wieniawski, Boccherini, Sarr, Bremer, Schumann, Paderewski, Taubert and Herold. The vocal numbers have been drawn from the compositions of song writers of the best school. These concerts have been given in the following sections:

Two each at East Boston, Charlestown, Roxbury, South Boston, Old Public Library, South End Ward-room, Jamaica Plain, North End, and one each in the districts of Dorchester, Neponset, Brighton, Mt. Pleasant, Warren street district and Boylston Station.

The last two series of concerts were given mostly in the public school halls in the various districts.

The audiences in each of these places were limited only by the size of the hall, and it is estimated that nearly 20,000 have listened to the programmes offered by the artists during the season.

The Music Commission is at present planning the open-air concerts for the summer season, and have engaged the services of thirty-seven well known musicians to constitute the Municipal Band for the season. The position of director will be filled by Mr. Emil Mollenhauer, whose work as director of the series of Music Hall concerts during the winter season was so well received by the musical critics and the public generally. A certain number of concerts will be given on the Common and South Boston, and other sections of the city. The class of music offered will be most attractive to the music lovers of the city.

Veto — Boxing of Tree.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, April 14, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my approval a vote passed by your Board at its last meeting, granting permission to I. Mandelstein to box a tree at 126 Sumner street, East Boston, for the reason that a permit cannot legally be given to place a sign around a tree.

I assume that the purpose in boxing the tree is to furnish support for a sign, as it would not be necessary to get permission from the Board if it were simply intended to place a suitable guard around the tree for its protection.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The vote whereby the said permission was granted was reconsidered, and the question came on again granting it, the objections of His Honor the Mayor to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Board refused to again grant permission.

Boys' Playground, Franklin Park.

I transmit herewith a communication from the Board of Park Commissioners in relation to the order requesting the Board to allow young boys their former playground in Franklin Park.

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

MAYOR'S CIRCULAR.

The following circular to members of boards in charge of departments has been issued by His Honor the Mayor:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, May 1, 1899.

TO THE MEMBERS OF BOARDS IN CHARGE OF DEPARTMENTS:

Your attention is called to Section 1 of Chapter 129 of the Acts of 1899, which, as amended by Chapter 170 of the Acts of 1899, reads as follows:

"When in any city the election of any city officer is vested in the Common Council, or in the Board of Aldermen, or in both acting jointly or concurrently, or in any other municipal body or board, the election shall not be valid unless it is made by a viva voce vote, each member who is present answering to his name when it is called by the clerk or other proper officer, and stating the name of the person for whom he votes, or declining to vote, as the case may be; and the clerk or other proper officer shall record every such vote."

You are respectfully requested to see that the provisions of this act are complied with.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

INSTITUTIONS STATISTICS.

Following is the report of Mr. John Koren to the Department of Municipal Statistics with regard to institutions statistics of the city:

TO THE DEPARTMENT OF MUNICIPAL STA-TISTICS:

The study undertaken for your Department of the statistical material relating to the dependent and delinquent classes who become charges upon the municipality had a two-fold object: (1) to determine the availability for study and publication of the data at present collected; and (2) to consider the methods of investigation and record-keeping in vogue, as well as the general question how far, under systematic methods, information of public usefulness can be expanded. The present report only deals with the data now available, so far as this can be said of raw material collected without uniformity of plan by the different departments, and from which statistics are deductible.

The departments in question are those under the charge of (1) the Pauper Trustees, (2) the Children's Trustees, (3) the Trustees for the Insane, (4) the Penal Commissioner, and (5) the Overseers of the Poor. They may be considered in the order named.

The general available facts relating to the inmates of the almshouse at Long Island cover: (1) the movement of population which is so recorded as to show daily the aggregate number of inmates present by sex, department (in hospital, etc.), the number of children, the number on leave, admissions, discharges and deaths; a weekly summary is made of the same information. (2) The employment of inmates. Daily returns are made to the Superintendent of the number of persons assigned to work, specifying to what kind. No attempt is made, however, to bring these facts into relation with capacity for work and the non-employment of the capable. At the Charlestown almshouse the movement of population is balanced weekly on the same general plan as at Long Island. The inmates at Charlestown are not employed. The population statistics are on record at the Institutions Registration Department.

The special data of statistical value now available relating to pauper individuals are comprised under two heads, the "personal" and the "public record" of the individual concerned. The former is made to include the following facts: Age, nativity, parent nativity, nativity of spouse, race, physical condition and characteristics, mental condition, degree of education, habits, last occupation, wages earned, religion, citizenship, and length of residence in country, State and city. The public record yields but three facts of general interest, namely, occupation, health and conduct of the person while an inmate. His record, if any, in other institutions, receives as a rule scant attention.

The above information are accessible through the cards kept in the Institutions Registration Department. Special cases are inquired into with greater minuteness by agents directly under the Pauper Trustees, but much of the extra information collected by them, which relates particularly to the antecedents and family history of the individual concerned, is recorded in such a manner that it does not easily lend itself to classification and tabulation; it seems, moreover, to be collected largely with an eye to the treatment of the pauper.

It will be observed that the data at hand are not of a kind to throw much light on the inception of pauperism or the immediate and active cause of dependence except in an indirect manner. Further than to determine their settlement, no scheduled information is recorded concerning the State paupers sent from Boston.

With the investigation of cases of dependent and delinquent children the Institutions Registration Department concerns itself but to the extent of looking into their settlement history, as this may be required. It contents itself with copying a part of the information collected by the agents of the Trustees for the Children.

No less than ninety-two items are called for in the investigation cards relating to children. Omitting all unessentials, there remain the following data of social value: (1) Regarding the child; its age, race, nativity, parent nativity, manner of support, religion, physical condition and characteristics, mental condition, education, occupation, wages, character, offence, and sentence; (2) regarding its parents; age, nativity, religion, time spent in the United States, residence, condition of home, occupation, income, habits, character, physical and mental condition, aid received, and prison record; (3) regarding brothers and sisters of the child; their institution and reformatory record. In addition, reports are sought concerning the family of the child from the Associated Charities, Overseers of the Poor, other societies, and the police.

It will be seen that, when filled out with some completeness, which is not always the case, the schedules afford fairly comprehensive knowledge regarding the child, its antecedents, family relations, etc., making it possible to trace in some instances the influences causing dependence or anti-social conduct.

The career of the children while under the charge of the Trustees is followed with care; but the records of the institutions, and information received from families with whom the children are placed, yield little information of interest, except so far as they relate to the movement of population, the facts concerning which are always accessible.

The Institutions Registration Department does not investigate the cases of the pauper insane, except to determine settlement. All other data are derived from the hospital records, and are divided so as to constitute the personal and public record of the inmate in the same manner as noted for the paupers. In addition, ampler provision is made for the record of the insane in other institutions, and the form of their insanity is described.

Outside the medical record, which is not a proper subject for public consideration, the available facts about the insane are, on the whole, meagre. It is difficult to learn of their antecedents and general family history owing partly to the nature of the case and partly to the reluctance of relatives and friends to make any disclosures.

The daily reports made to the Penal Institutions Commissioner of the movement of population in the two houses of correction are, of course, complete. Beyond this the information concerning the individual prisoner, secured in the first instance by prison officials, and by them transmitted to the Registration Department, is not comprehensive. As in the case of paupers, the personal and public record are separated. The first is practically identical with that obtained for paupers, the second dealing as a matter of course with the nature of the offence, sentence, time spent in prison, occupation while in confinement, and manner of discharge. Usually no effort is made to trace the history of the prisoner in other institutions, neither is it practicable from the manner of keeping the records to learn with exactness the former commitments of prisoners to either house of correction; in short, no light whatsoever is offered on the causes of criminality.

The schedules of the Overseers of the Poor being designed principally for the purpose of recording facts showing whether the applicant is entitled to public aid, they at present contain a minimum of social facts adapted for study and tabulation.

Concerning the applicant may be learned: Age, sex, color, nativity, parent nativity, present and former occupations, whether intemperate, insane or demented, family relations, with particulars regarding marriage; place of birth, occupation, death and citizenship of husband or wife. The same data are also sought relative to descendants and ancestors of applicants. On the other hand, full account is naturally given of the aid granted, dates and amount of aid, and whether any has been obtained from other sources.

Lately an attempt has been made to secure fuller information about visitors to the Wayfarers' Lodge and Women's Shelter by means of the card system, which promises some statistical material of value. The data sought relate to age, marital relations, nativity, parent nativity, physical and mental condition so far as it affects employment, class according to capacity and habits, last employment, earnings, and the time of residence in the city.

It is patent from the above resume that the manner of collect social statistics relative to dependents and delinquents by the city departments is in an embryonic state; a partial exception may be made in the case of the work performed under the Trustees for Children. There is generally a lack of system, of uniformity in methods, of attempts on the part of one department to draw upon the knowledge of others; and, in consequence, the sum total of the available statistics is not one that affords a basis for scientific study. Certain general facts relating to nativity, sex, race, etc., are at hand, but the effort to penetrate beyond the commonplaces of institutions' records is yet to be made.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN KOREN.

CITY MESSENGER DEPARTMENT.

The annual report of the City Messenger Department for the fiscal year ending January 31, 1899, constituting Document 8, has recently been presented to His Honor the Mayor.

There were sixty-five meetings of the Board of Aldermen held during the year requiring the attendance of the Department, and forty-six meetings of the Common Council.

There were received and delivered the past year documents, bound publications, etc., as follows:

Bound publications received and delivered	6,659
City Documents received and partly distributed	70,500
City Council minutes received and partly distributed	55,500
Daily "Advertiser" received and delivered	9,990
Maps received and distributed	500
Orders of business for City Council meetings received and distributed	18,000

The display of flags on the flag-staffs located in various parts of the city, and the use of ropes and stakes on account of parades, reviews, etc., were arranged for during the year.

The total receipts from subscriptions and sales of THE CITY RECORD during the year amounted to $242.02.

It is recommended that the Aldermanic Chamber and ante-room be painted, and also that a large committee-room for hearings, etc., be provided.

The appropriation for the Department for the year was $29,000. The expenditures were $28,999.83.

MARKET DEPARTMENT.

The Market Department has presented its annual report for the year ending January 31, 1899, to His Honor the Mayor. It constitutes Document 22.

The portions of the buildings used for market purposes are generally in good condition, and will need only ordinary repairs, with the exception of that portion in the basement which is used for sanitary purposes. The closets and appurtenances connected with this part of the building are in very bad condition, and should be replaced with new and modern conveniences.

Should such changes be made, a proper person should be placed in charge, to keep them in a clean and neat condition. They would then answer all the purposes of a public sanitary in this section, and be a saving in the expense which would be incurred by establishing a new place for the same purpose.

The work of reconstructing Faneuil Hall is progressing slowly, owing to delay in obtaining some of the material required. While the work has occasioned considerable annoyance to the lessees, they have been enabled to continue their business without much interruption, and feel that when the work shall be completed they will be relieved from many annoyances they have experienced in the past, and feel more secure in their holdings. The outside vestibule doors leading to the market in this building should be made new, to be in keeping with the rest of the building when completed.

In addition to the repairs and changes in the stalls and cellars which are made by the lessees at their own expense, they have also had placed on the roof of the buildings snow-guards as a protection from slides. The expense for this work, amounting to about $500, was paid by the lessees, with the exception of $123 which the Market Department assumed as a part of the expense to be paid by the city. The iron frame awnings which were erected around Faneuil Hall Market about a year ago have given perfect satisfaction. When new awnings are placed around the Faneuil Hall building, it is suggested that this same principle be carried out.

The streets surrounding the market-houses are in very bad condition, on account of the constant digging up which has taken place for several years in repairs and renewing of gas, water, electric and cold storage pipes, as well as new sewers which have been laid in North and South Market streets. These improvements have been made in such a thorough manner that the streets ought not to be disturbed for several years, and a new and improved pavement, such as was laid on Commercial street a few months since, would be of great benefit to the immense amount of teaming traffic which occurs in this part of the city.

During the year the police detailed for duty at the market have made eighty-six arrests.

There have been condemned 783 pounds poultry, 232 pounds veal, one barrel and two carcasses of venison, 283 pounds fish, ten barrels cucumbers, besides large quantities of fruit and vegetables which have been sent to the dumping-scow. Some arrangement should be made whereby, when larger quantities of this refuse matter accumulates than the Sanitary Department feel justified in removing at the expense of the city, dealers may be permitted to deliver it at the dumping-scow free of expense. They are now required to pay for the carting, and also a fee for depositing in the scow.

The income from the Department for the year ending January 31, 1899, has been as follows:

From rents from stalls and cellars in Faneuil Hall Market . . .	$65,364 00
From rents from stalls and cellars in new Faneuil Hall Market . .	18,228 00
From rents from outside stands, Faneuil Hall Market	1,407 00
From weighing fees at city scales, Faneuil Hall Market	549 38

Total income $85,548 38

The appropriation for the Department for the year ending January 31, 1899, was $8,613.12, which was expended.

RESOLUTIONS OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.

At the regular meeting of the Common Council, held Thursday evening, April 27, 1899, the following resolutions on the death of Christopher F. O'Brien were adopted by a unanimous rising vote. Appropriate remarks were made by Councilman Bradley, and a committee, consisting of President Kiley, Councilmen O'Brien, Bradley and Badarracco, was appointed to represent the Common Council at the funeral:

Resolved, That the Common Council has been grieved to learn of the death, in early manhood, of Christopher F. O'Brien, who, during the years 1893, 1894 and 1895, faithfully served this city as a member of the Common Council.

He was chosen as its President in 1894, and again in 1895, and discharged his duties in that honorable position in such way as to receive the commendation of his associates.

His career as a member of the City Government was marked by integrity, diligence and intelligence; he was unflinching in courtesy to all with whom he came in contact, and his amiability and refinement endeared him to a large circle of friends.

The Common Council tenders to his family its sympathy in their great sorrow, and its assurance that his name will be honored as that of one who did his duty well to the city of his birth.

Ordered, That the Clerk of the Common Council be instructed to forward a copy of this resolve to the family of the deceased.

ASSIGNMENT OF CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENT.

At its meeting on Monday, May 1, 1899, the Board of Aldermen voted to assign the appointment by His Honor the Mayor of Charles E. Stratton, to be a member of the Board of Park Commissioners for three years, beginning May 1, 1899, to the next meeting of the Board.

Present: All the members except Messrs. Calderwood, Fleischer and Strange.

The appointments and confirmations presented by the Superintendent at the last meeting were confirmed.

(3.) Ordered, That of the amount granted to the School Committee under Chapter 149 of the Acts of 1898 the following appropriation be made:

Charlestown High School lot, enlargement, $9,066.98.

The Chair read the following:

The resignations of two teachers, presented by the Superintendent, were accepted.

The Superintendent presented the following appointments and confirmations for the approval of the Board, certified by him as made in accordance with the Rules and Regulations:

The appointments of six special assistants, which were laid over, under the rule; the appointments of two temporary teachers, which were placed on file; the reappointments of three temporary teachers, which were laid over, under the rule; the appointments of three teachers on probation, which were laid over, under the rule, and the confirmation of appointments of twelve teachers, which were laid over, under the rule.

Leave of absence was granted to twelve teachers, and the substitutes named were approved.

The Superintendent presented the following appointments, transfer, and recommendation for leaves of absence, accompanied by written statements of the reasons for requesting a suspension of the Regulations pertaining thereto:

Appointments of two temporary teachers, approved, under a suspension of the rules; reappointments of two temporary teachers, approved, under a suspension of the rules; reappointments of six teachers, laid over, under the rule; transfer of one teacher, approved, under a suspension of the rules; leave of absence of one teacher, granted, under a suspension of the rule; leave of absence of one teacher, referred to the Committee on High School.

On motion of Mr. Aldrich, for the Committee on New Buildings, it was Ordered, That the following-named architects be selected to prepare plans for new school-houses, as designated:

Whitman & Hood, new primary school-house, Brighton.

Greenleaf & Cobb, new grammar school-house, East Boston.

Cabot, Everett & Mead, new grammar school-house, Dorchester.

Wilson & Webber, new primary school-house, Roxbury.

Charles J. Bateman, new grammar school-house, South Boston.

On motion of Mr. Aldrich, for the same committee, it was Ordered, That the Ingraham School property on Sheafe street be surrendered to the City Council, the same being no longer required for school purposes, with the recommendation that said land and building be sold, and that the proceeds of such sale be applied to the cost of land to be taken for the enlargement of the Hancock School lot on Prince street.

Mr. Aldrich, for the same committee, offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested to take, by purchase or otherwise, for the enlargement of the Hancock School lot on Prince street, a parcel of land supposed to belong to the heirs of John Gourley, and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the dividing line between the estates of the City of Boston and the heirs of John Gourley; said point being sixty-nine feet distant from the south-westerly line of Prince street; thence running south-westerly on said division line about fifty-five feet to land owned by the heirs of Ebenezer Spencer; thence turning and running south-easterly by land of said Spencer about thirty-five and fifty-three one-hundredths feet to land of Francisco and Mary Sesso; thence turning and running north-easterly by land of said Sesso about thirty and fifty-four one-hundredths feet; thence turning and running north-westerly by land of said Sesso about seven and fifty one-hundredths feet; thence turning again and running north-easterly by land of said Sesso about twenty-four feet to a point which is sixty-nine feet from Prince street, measured at right angles; thence turning and running again north-westerly by a line parallel with and sixty-nine feet from the south-westerly line of Prince street, about thirty feet to the point of beginning, containing about 1,765 square feet.

Passed, under a suspension of the rules.

Mr. Aldrich, for the same committee, reported that they have lately had presented to them for payment a bill from W. S. Sampson & Son, amounting to $137.50, for extra concreting at the Mary Hemenway School, in April, 1898, the correctness of which is certified by the architect of the building. Your committee have also been informed by the former Chairman of the Committee on School-houses for the year 1897 that the work referred to was ordered by the committee during one of their visits to the building while it was in course of construction. A sufficient balance is available to cover the cost of the work referred to, and your committee recommend the passage of the following order:

Ordered, That the Committee on New Buildings be authorized to approve the payment of $137.50 to W. S. Sampson & Son for extra concreting at the Mary Hemenway School.

Accepted, and the order laid over, under the rule.

Mr. Aldrich, for the same committee, to whom was referred, April 11, a communication from His Honor the Mayor requesting that permission be granted the city to erect a new fire engine-house, to take the place of the present one on Dartmouth street, on the vacant portion of the public Latin and English High School lot on the corner of Dartmouth street and Warren avenue, reported that they have duly considered the matter, and recognize the difficulty of finding a suitable site at a reasonable cost for the purpose, as stated by the Mayor. In their opinion, however, there are serious objections to the proposed plan. In the first place your committee do not believe that the close proximity of a fire engine-house to a school is desirable for several reasons, besides the liability of accident to the children in attendance, and the large number of pupils in the several schools in that immediate vicinity increases the element of danger to a marked degree. Furthermore, it should not be forgotten that when the Latin-English High School-house was erected, plans were also prepared for an administration building for the School Committee on that portion of the lot in question, and the foundations for such a building are already laid. Under these circumstances your committee do not feel justified in assenting to the proposition under consideration, and therefore recommend that His Honor the Mayor be respectfully informed that it is inexpedient to permit the erection of a fire engine-house on the site referred to.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to His Honor the Mayor.

Mr. Aldrich, for the same committee, reported that finding it necessary to provide additional accommodations in the Longfellow District, they have hired the basement of the Unitarian Church at Roslindale, which had been previously occupied for school purposes, until July 1, 1899, at a total rental of $100, which amount includes janitor service.

Accepted.

Mr. Aldrich, for the same committee, to whom was referred, March 14, a petition from the Peter Faneuil Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution, and April 11, a petition from C. H. Woodbury and other residents of Ward 25, suggesting the name of Thomas Gardner as an appropriate one for the new primary school-house on Webster avenue, reported that they have given the matter very careful consideration. The name of another former resident of that section has, however, been recommended for this school, the selection of which your committee feel would be eminently appropriate and pleasing to a large number of the citizens of Allston, who desire that the memory of Rev. Frederick A. Whitney should be thus preserved. Your committee, therefore, recommend the passage of the following order:

Ordered, That the new primary school-house on Webster avenue, Brighton, be named the Frederick A. Whitney School, in honor of the late Frederick A. Whitney.

Accepted, and the order laid over, under the rule.

Mr. Coolidge, for the Committee on Accounts, to whom was referred from the files of last year an order requesting that a statement be submitted showing to what extent the appropriation available for the support of the public schools would be exceeded under certain conditions, reported that the information called for at that time would seem to be unnecessary, in view of the fact that a later set of estimates for the financial year 1899-1900 were presented to and accepted by the School Board.

Your committee, therefore, would recommend that no further action concerning the matter be taken.

Accepted, and the recommendation of the committee adopted.

Mr. Coolidge, for the same committee, to whom was referred, January 24, a request from the Department of Municipal Statistics, asking the School Board to co-operate with them in collecting certain statistics relating to school buildings, beg leave to report that they have considered the matter and will, as far as possible, act with them in the work proposed.

Your committee would further state that the appropriation order passed by the School Board sub-divided the items in the manner requested, and that they can probably furnish at the end of the financial year the cost incurred for each school building for services of janitors, fuel, gas and water, together with the cost of new buildings.

The bills incurred for repairs and alterations of school buildings are contracted under the direction of the Committee on School-houses, by the Superintendent of Public Buildings, who, if his attention is called to the matter, will doubtless arrange his accounts so as to furnish the desired information.

Your committee would recommend the passage of the following order:

Ordered, That the Department of Municipal Statistics be notified that the School Committee will, as far as possible, co-operate with them in the collecting of certain statistics relating to school buildings, as set forth in their communication dated January 13, 1899.

Accepted, and the order passed.

Mr. Coolidge, for the same committee, to whom was referred, March 25, a petition from J. P. C. Winship and others, asking that the value of certain land in Newton, left by Ebenezer Smith, in a will dated September 11, 1775, for the use and benefit of the school in (Little) Cambridge, be set aside for the use of the schools of Brighton, beg leave to report that they have made the proper inquiries, and find that the land, consisting of 255,132 square feet, and situated on Boylston street, in Newton Highlands, was sold by the City of Boston, May 8, 1883, to Henry B. Goodnow. The proceeds of this sale, amounting to $585.52, were credited by the city to the appropriation for salaries of instructors in the same year.

In view of these facts, your committee are of the opinion that no further action is necessary.

Accepted.

On motion of Mr. Davison, for the Committee on High Schools, it was Ordered, That the annual parade of the Boston School Cadets take place on Friday, May 12, 1899, and that the annual prize drill take place on May 24, 25, 26 and 29, 1899.

Mr. Davison, for the same committee, who were requested, April 11, to report at the next meeting of the Board upon the order referred to them from the files of a previous year, relative to a separation of the position of head-master of the Girls' High and Girls' Latin Schools, reported that pupils attending the Girls' Latin School are now accommodated in the Girls' High School-house on West Newton street, as well as in the Copley square building. Your committee are therefore of the opinion that it is not advisable to make any change in the principalship of these two schools at the present time.

Accepted.

Mr. Bennett, for the Committee on the Seventh Division, reported the death of Emma E. Long, late assistant grammar school, Dillaway District.

Accepted.

Mr. Gallivan, for the Committee on the Sixth Division, to whom was referred, April 11, a petition from the Board of Managers of the Massachusetts Society of the Sons of the Revolution, that they be granted permission to place a bronze tablet, suitably inscribed, upon the Lawrence School, South Boston, to commemorate the seizing of Nooks Hill by a detachment of the forces under the command of General Washington,

March 16, 1776, which act led to the evacuation of Boston by the British troops on the following day, March 17, reported that your committee are heartily in favor of granting the desired permission. They believe that the interest displayed by the various patriotic societies in our public schools by this and similar gifts, should be welcomed and encouraged. Such memorials serve not only to adorn our buildings, but stimulate in the minds and hearts of the pupils that love of country and reverence for its history, which tends to a higher and more loyal citizenship. Your committee recommend the passage of the following order:

Ordered, That the Board of Managers of the Massachusetts Society of Sons of the Revolution be granted permission to place a bronze tablet, suitably inscribed, upon the Lawrence School, South Boston, in accordance with their petition of March 22, 1899, and that the thanks of the Board be extended to them for their generous and patriotic gift.

Accepted, and the order passed.

Mr. Berridge offered the following:

Ordered, That the Committee on New Buildings be requested to take under consideration the expediency of introducing a system of shower-baths in such new buildings as they may deem advisable.

Referred to Committee on New Buildings.

On motion of Mr. McDonald, for the Committee on the Paris Exposition, it was Dever, Clerk of Committees, requesting a transfer of seven hundred (700) dollars from the Reserve Fund to the appropriation for his Department, and also the right to use the income derived from the sale of minors' licenses, and stating that the said additions to his appropriation are necessitated by the new system of licensing minors.

Mr. Dever was heard by the Board in regard to the matter.

A communication was received from Mayor Quincy, submitting a communication from the City Auditor, stating that, subject to the approval of the Board, he had transferred fourteen hundred (1,400) dollars from the appropriation for Reserve Fund to the appropriation for Clerk of Committees Department, it being the intention of the Clerk of Committees to use the said sum towards meeting the expense of badges furnished to licensed minors, and of an additional officer to enforce the provisions relative to minors' licenses.

Mr. Minot moved the adoption of the following:

The order was passed, and was signed by all the members of the Board, they certifying upon the original order that the said appropriation is not to meet a current expense.

A communication was received from the Fire Commissioner, urgently requesting that some action be taken toward providing new quarters for Engine Company 22, now on Dartmouth street.

A communication was received from the School Committee, stating that its members do not feel justified in assenting to the proposition contained in the communication from His Honor the Mayor, requesting that permission be granted the city to erect a new fire engine-house, to take the place of the present one on Dartmouth street, on the vacant portion of the public Latin and English High School lot on the corner of Dartmouth street and Warren avenue.

The communications were placed on file, and, on motion of Mr. Kiley, it was Voted, That the Fire Commissioner be requested to appear before the Board, at its next meeting, and to submit to the Board at that time a statement of the sites that he

Members of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

PAUPER INSTITUTIONS TRUSTEES.

28 Court Square, April 20, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: I submit herewith two letters, one from Mr. Wright, Division Superintendent, and one from Mr. Cottle, Chief of Electrical Construction Division, in regard to the fate of the cable between Long Island and Deer Island, and in regard to a proposed new cable between Quincy and Long Island. The Pauper Institutions Trustees have carefully considered this question and have instructed me to refer these letters respectfully to His Honor the Mayor, with the request that he shall bring the matter before the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and if possible secure an appropriation for the establishment of proper telephone connection on the lines indicated. The Pauper Institutions Trustees feel compelled to take this step, inasmuch as the outlay involved in the purchase and placing of a new cable was not contemplated by them at the time of making up the annual budget.

I would also respectfully call the attention of Your Honor to the fact that by this cable it will be possible to re-establish, probably with a good measure of permanency, telephonic communication between the city and Long Island, Rainsford Island and Galloup's Island, so that the expenditure does not properly belong in any one department, but rather concerns the city as a whole.

I desire also to call the attention of Your Honor to the fact that whatever service may be provided for the United States Government on Long Island Head should constitute the basis of compensation by the government. Hitherto, unless I am mistaken, the service has been furnished largely at least as a matter of courtesy.

Together with the enclosures from the Electrical Construction Division, I submit a map prepared by them, showing the proposed route for the new connection, and also certain photographs showing the condition of the old cable when it was discovered.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM T. SEDGWICK,

Chairman Pauper Institutions Trustees.

ELECTRICAL CONSTRUCTION DIVISION,
PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT.

April 5, 1899.

PARKER B. FIELD, Esq., Agent Trustees of Pauper Institutions.

DEAR SIR: In accordance with instructions contained in your letter of March 23, we have undertaken to pick up and repair the telephone cable between Deer Island and Long Island with the following result:

The cable was picked up on the Long Island end and raised until a point was reached about half-way to Deer Island Light, where it was found wedged under a boulder. Thence it was followed about two hundred feet further east, at which point we came to the end of the cable, which was firmly entangled in a five hundred-pound anchor, as shown in accompanying photograph. The cable had been broken short off near the anchor, and we are unable to say what has become of the remaining portion, but it was probably carried to sea by the coal barge which fouled it in February last.

It is therefore impossible to make further repairs to this cable, and service cannot be restored until a new cable is laid down.

If a new cable is installed between Deer Island and Long Island it will be exposed to the same fate that has met the last one and several others in the vicinity; therefore, I would recommend that the new cable be installed between Moon Island and the west head of Long Island, as this locality is much less frequented by shipping and less likely to be disturbed by anchors. The route suggested should also tend to improve the service, as the connecting lines are all of more recent construction, many of them being underground.

I enclose copy of the Telephone Company's report regarding this feature, also a sketch showing the proposed route.

The cost of making the installation as outlined above will be four thousand and sixty-one (4,061) dollars, which is less than the cost of the old route.

This sum does not include the amount expended in overhauling and repairing the old cables.

Kindly advise me of your wishes in this matter that I may take the necessary steps to have the service restored at once.

Yours truly,

H. F. COTTLE,

Chief of Electrical Construction Division.

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY.

March 31, 1899.

MR. H. F. COTTLE, Chief Bureau of Electrical Construction, Public Buildings Department.

DEAR MR. COTTLE: Making reference to proposition to transfer the city's telephone service on Long, Rainsford and Galloup's Islands from the present route via Deer Island to a new one via Dorchester, Squantum and Moon Island, have to say that the Telephone Company will accept your order for the change at any time, present contract rates to remain unchanged, if the class of service is unchanged, provided the city furnishes the necessary facilities for extension of the lines beyond Moon Island.

The Telephone Company's responsibility for the maintenance of these circuits would extend only to the termination of its present line.

I should say the city's service by the proposed route would be very much more satisfactory in all respects than by the present route, with the possible exception that Deer Island would remain connected with the Winthrop exchange, and that any communication between Deer Island and the other islands would have to be transmitted via Winthrop, Boston and Dorchester.

Your present service is dependent upon the Boston underground system to the South Ferry, thence cables across the harbor, thence underground to East Boston, thence underground and aerial line to Winthrop for trunking, and aerial cable and wires between Winthrop office and Shirley Gut, and beyond Deer Island by maintenance of cable between Deer Island and Long Island—a considerable number of chances for trouble.

Via Dorchester and Moon Island the route would be made up as follows: Trunks all underground from Boston to Dorchester, aerial cable Dorchester, via Neponset avenue and Hancock street to junction of Atlantic and Hancock streets in Quincy, thence open wire via Atlantic, Billings, and Squantum streets, across the property of Mrs. Titus, to Moon Island.

We shall this year make our underground system complete from the Dorchester office to the corner of Hancock and Atlantic streets, thus reducing considerably the chances for trouble between the Dorchester office and the point last named.

Yours truly,

I. O. WRIGHT,

Division Superintendent.

The order was approved and sent down.

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, on Monday, May 1, 1899, at 3 P.M., Chairman Barry presiding, and all the members present.

Appointments by the Mayor.

Messages were received from His Honor the Mayor, making the following appointments, subject to confirmation by the Board:

A message was also received from His Honor the Mayor, notifying the Board that he had this day made the following reappointments, not subject to confirmation by the Board:

(2.) George A. Sanderson and Katherine L. Marion, to be members of the Board of Insane Hospital Trustees for the term of five years, beginning with the first day of May, 1899.

Place 1 on file.

The following message from His Honor the Mayor was received:

Effect of Proposed Sewerage Works Bill.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, May 1, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I transmit herewith a copy of House Bill No. 1,129, entitled "An Act Relative to the Sewerage Works of the City of Boston," favorably reported by the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs and now pending before the Legislature, together with a letter addressed by the Superintendent of Streets, under date of April 26, 1899, to the members of the sub-committee having this matter in charge, explaining the financial consequences which will result from the passage of this bill in its present form.

As it was my belief that these consequences could not have been fully understood by the members of the committee before they reported the bill, and that it could scarcely be their deliberate intention to make it impossible to do any further sewer work upon our streets during this financial year, and to compel the closing up of important work already in progress, an opportunity was sought to lay the true state of the case before the committee at its session this morning, and the matter was fully explained by the Superintendent of Streets and myself. As the committee has not seen fit to assent to any modification of the bill, I feel that it becomes my duty promptly to lay the situation before the City Council and the public. The present administration has done everything in its power, so far as the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs is concerned, to avert action which will not only result in the immediate discharge of many hundred skilled sewer workmen, whose services are needed by the city, but will cause great injury to a large number of property owners, who have counted upon obtaining necessary sewer facilities, and will bring a large amount of real estate development to a standstill.

The bill reported also makes it impossible to do any additional construction work upon assessable streets, as this cannot proceed without provision for the construction of sewers. The statement of the Superintendent clearly shows that there is no available balance within the $1,000,000 loan already authorized for this year, for the construction of any sewers in streets, and I have now no recourse except to invite the attention of the City Council and of the public to the threatened action of the Legislature.

I desire to add that at the present time the question of the desirability of continuing the assessment plan, whether in connection with the construction of new sewerage works or the maintenance of the existing system, is in no wise at issue. While neither the Superintendent of Streets, the Corporation Counsel nor myself have changed our former opinions as to the merits and justice of the assessment system, as provided for by Chapter 426 of the Acts of 1897, we accept the fact, since the action of the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs, that this system is to be done away with—at least, to the extent provided for by House Bill No. 1,129. The only question now at issue is how the financial transition shall be made from the system as it has existed to the new basis provided for in said bill. All that I have asked is that some provision should be made, outside of the $1,000,000 provided for this year—which is already necessarily applied, in the manner explained by the Superintendent of Streets—for the repayment of any sewer charges which tax payers may have a right to recover from the city and for the maintenance of the sewerage system during the present year.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

STREET DEPARTMENT.

City Hall, April 26, 1899.

COMMITTEE ON METROPOLITAN AFFAIRS,
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, BOSTON.

GENTLEMEN: The bill reported by you for the committee, relative to the sewerage works of the City of Boston, has my careful attention, and I cannot believe that the committee is fully informed as to the results which would follow the passage of this act as now worded.

As I understand it, the City of Boston is authorized to expend, in the year beginning February 1, 1899, and ending January 31, 1900, $1,000,000 for the following purposes: Construction of sewerage works, repayment of any sewer assessment or sewerage charge which may be legally repaid, to meet the amount required prior to the first day of February, 1900, for the interest and sinking fund requirements, and to meet the maintenance of such works to February 1, 1900. This gives the following results:

Total amount available	$1,000,000
Repayment of assessments, unknown quantity:
Interest and sinking fund requirements	$122,000
Maintenance	350,000
Land damages (low estimate)	50,000
	522,000

Leaving for construction, assuming that no assessments or charges are repaid	$478,000
--	-----------

Amount required to complete work at Moon Island	239,000
Amount required to complete work at pumping station	54,500
Construction expenditures to date	187,000

Total $480,500

Total amount available for construction $478,000

From the above figures, you can see that, unless provision is made for the items which ordinarily would not come from the $1,000,000 there can be absolutely no further construction work on sewers in Boston the balance of this year. I cannot believe that any such purpose was in the minds of the committee, and I can but refer to City Document No. 70 (copy of which I send herewith) to show the great demand for sewerage works. Should House Bill 1,129 become a law without change from its present form, the progress and development of the city would be greatly retarded. During the last few years, very large areas of land have been opened up by the building of Brighton avenue, Columbus avenue, Huntington avenue, Blue Hill avenue and Columbia road. Branching off from all of these avenues, streets are under construction, or ordered, hundreds of houses have been built, and this brings about an unusual demand for sewerage works. As surface construction cannot be taken up until the sewer work is completed, the passage of the bill as reported would mean that all work must stop on Commonwealth avenue—the loan for which provides that the avenue must be completed before January 1, 1900—prevent the building of the last section of Blue Hill avenue, on which the sewer work is but just started, make impossible the further construction of Columbia road, and the giving of sewer service to that portion of the road already occupied by several large yacht clubs, and prevent the building of Talbot avenue, for which a street loan has been provided.

On properties assessed at $2,500,000, between the Fenway and Brookline avenue—where considerable street work has already been done, but where it is necessary to build an outlet sewer—the building up and development must stop, although several fine houses are started, and it has been the intention of the holders of this property to immediately improve it, and after such improvement, its value would be nearly $5,000,000.

All work on “323 streets,” which it had been planned to build this year, would be prevented, for the reason that the regular loan for this work does not provide for the sewers. This must be taken care of from the sewerage works loan.

If you will run through the items from page 22 to page 32, inclusive, of City Document No. 70, which I enclose, you will find in detail the sewers which have been petitioned for, and are urgent—and, in some cases, are under construction. All this work must absolutely stop. The sewers must be bulkheaded at the point where the construction is at the present moment, and the very proper requests of the citizens of all sections of the city for sewerage works be refused. As these sewers are paid for in greater part by the parties benefited, and this loan is repaid to the city by them, it does not seem fair to so limit the amount that the great quantity of work which would surely be in progress this season should be stopped. Failure to provide sewers will mean that all the various branches of labor engaged in work which appertains to the development of real estate, commencing at the grading and preparation of land for building purposes, the work of constructing the buildings, and all that this implies, would be very much reduced the coming season.

In addition to the work above referred to, there is certain emergency work which must always receive attention, such as, for instance, orders of the Board of Health to remove conditions dangerous to health, and in the case of breaking of worn-out sewers.

Aside from the financial provisions of the bill, I cannot agree that some of the other changes are wise; but, as that matter has without doubt been discussed by your committee, I will not now ask a hearing on those points. I would suggest, however, that the sum made available for the current year be $2,000,000, for the reason that this year the various outside items must be provided for, and the amount available for construction work, even under the $2,000,000 loan, would not nearly supply the demand for sewerage works; and it does seem but reasonable that the man who desires to improve his property should be furnished with a sewer—especially as the cost of same would be borne by him.

I should be pleased to appear before your sub-committee or the full committee with officials of the Sewer Division, to make clear any point upon which the committee may desire further information. There is certainly no legislation of the present year that is of such vital importance to the development of the city and to every class of citizens as the act which will provide for the construction and maintenance of sewerage works. This must be my excuse, if any is needed, for the length and details of this letter.

Yours very respectfully,

BENJ. W. WELLS,

Superintendent of Streets.

P. S. Allow me to also call your attention to the fact that the bill authorizing $2,000,000 for the construction of Bennington street, extension of Malvern street, widening and construction of Morton street, and other streets under fifty feet in width, under the assessable act, would become inoperative, for the reason that none of this work could be undertaken until the sewers were built; no money being provided for the sewers, the work, as contemplated in the act, could not be undertaken.

(Accompanying the above was a copy of House Bill No. 1,129, entitled “An Act Relative to Sewerage Works of the City of Boston.”)

In connection with the above, Alderman Codman offered the following:

Resolved, That, in view of the figures presented in the statement of the Superintendent of Streets, this day transmitted to this Board relative to the effect of the carrying out of the provisions of House Bill 1,129, entitled “An Act Relative to the Sewerage Works of the City of Boston,” now pending before the Legislature, the Board of Aldermen respectfully requests that said bill be recommitted to the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs, or that action upon it be postponed, so that an opportunity may be afforded to the members of this Board to fully investigate the matter and to present their views to the Legislature; and that a committee of five members of this Board be appointed to endeavor to secure the carrying out of this request.

The resolution was read a second time and passed.

NEXT MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The next meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be held in the Aldermanic Chamber on Monday, May 8, at 3 P.M.

According to new Minnesota laws, street railway franchises in that State are limited to twenty years' duration in cities of more than 50,000 inhabitants, and to twenty-five years in other cities.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

The Building Department has recently presented its annual report for the year ending January 31, 1899, to His Honor the Mayor.

The number of permits granted for first and second-class buildings during the year was 529; for third-class buildings, 1,409; for alterations, 2,489; for setting of steam-boilers, engines, etc., 1,032; for plumbing, 5,232; for gas-fitting, 15,358; making a total of 26,049 permits granted during the year.

The number of examinations made upon buildings in process of construction was 25,466; of alterations, 11,214; of boilers, engines, etc., (relative to setting) 1,326; plumbing work, 19,894; gas-fitting work, 15,523; of elevators, 3,040; egress, 1,526; plans, 5,412; specials, 425; fires and accidents, 1,947; making a total of 85,773 examinations during the year.

These examinations occasioned 613 reports relative to unsafe buildings, dangerous chimneys, etc.; 602 reports relative to fires and accidents; 1,491 reports relative to violations; 5,877 final reports; making a total of 8,583 reports made during the year.

The number of notices issued for violation of statutes, etc., 1,327; for unsafe buildings, walls, etc., 327; dangerous chimneys, 93; additional means of egress, 96; miscellaneous, 1,819; making a total of 3,662 notices issued during the year.

Of the 5,412 plans submitted during the year, 4,289 were approved, 1,123 were disapproved. The Department referred to the Board of Appeal for its approval 141 applications to restore premises to original condition (same being damaged by fire).

Four appeals referred to the Board were sustained and eight not sustained. The Board of Appeal also approved of the omission of fire-proofing in two cases, as provided for in Section 51, of Chapter 419, Acts of 1892 as amended.

Of the 529 permits issued for first and second-class buildings, 366 were for dwellings, 19 for dwellings and stores, 1 for brewery, 2 for churches, 2 for hospitals, 2 for hotels, 6 for manufactories, 1 for mechanical building, 16 for mercantile buildings, 4 for office buildings, 11 for school-houses, 36 for tenement-houses, 2 for tenement-houses and stores, 10 for storage buildings, and the balance for miscellaneous purposes.

For third-class buildings, for which there were 1,409 permits granted and issued, 1,120 were for dwellings, 23 for dwellings and stores, 11 for office buildings, 3 for manufacturing buildings, 17 for mechanical buildings, 4 for school-houses, 45 for stables, 31 for storage, and the balance for miscellaneous purposes.

The number of first and second-class buildings completed, and upon which final reports have been rendered during the year was 416, at an estimated cost above the land of $7,158,392. The number of third-class buildings completed, and upon which final reports have been rendered during the year was 1,343, at an estimated cost above the land of $5,470,900. The number of completed alterations during the year was 2,365, at an estimated cost of $3,059,108.

The plumbing jobs completed during the year (not including plumbing in new buildings), 3,026; estimated cost, $678,546. Boilers, etc., set, 790, at an estimated cost of $345,258; making a total estimated increase in tax valuation by construction and improvements of $16,712,204.

Attention is called to the desirability of amending the present building laws. The Commissioner recommends a more comprehensive law regulating iron and steel construction work, and also the establishment of a board of experts, so that under its direction a liberal opportunity may be given for the use of improved methods of construction. It is recommended that all builders and architects be licensed, and that the Building Commissioner have authority to vacate buildings and to stop work on any building where violations of law exist. In the opinion of the Department the fire limits should be increased.

Legislation should be obtained for the better enforcement of the building laws than now exist.

The past year 151 new elevators have been installed. The Department suggests that the speed of passenger elevators be regulated by a proper governor, and that no elevator be permitted to be used without being provided with two or more hoisting cables.

On February 1, 1898, there were 24,593 brick, stone and iron buildings, and 53,813 frame buildings, in the City of Boston, making a total of 78,405. During the year there were 416 brick, stone and iron, and 1,343 frame buildings completed. Two brick and 34 frame buildings were totally destroyed by fire. Eighty-two brick and 28 frame buildings were totally demolished in various parts of the city, making a total at the end of the year of 24,925 brick, stone and iron buildings, and 55,094 frame buildings; a grand total of 80,019 buildings.

An approximate percentage of increase of buildings in the City of Boston for the last twelve years is 40 per cent.

The report contains a list of the licensed and registered master and journeymen plumbers in the City of Boston; a list of master and journeymen gasfitters; a list showing maker of boilers examined; a list of gas and elevator accidents, and a list of fires which occurred during the year.

The total expenditures of the Department for the year amounted to $91,946.64.

LAMP DEPARTMENT.

The annual report of the Lamp Department for the year ending January 31, 1899, constituting City Document 19, 1899, has been presented to His Honor the Mayor.

The appropriation of the Department for the year was $645,000. The expenditures amounted to $651,276.41 and to meet the deficit the sum of $6,276.41 was transferred from other balances.

The comparative cost of maintenance between the electric lamps and the gas and naphtha lamps is shown as follows:

	1897.	1898.
Paid for gas and naphtha lamps, lighting and care of same . . .	$256,005 30	$266,087 39
Paid for electric lamps	322,305 11	343,627 14

By an extension of the present contract with the Boston Electric Light Company, the company is to furnish and set new insulated wooden lamp-poles, with ornamental iron tops and porcelain-lined reflectors, in place of the old iron poles now belonging to the city, and to substitute the new enclosed arc lamps for the open arcs now in use; also to set the new poles and lamps in any new location that may hereafter be decided upon. A sliding scale of rates is provided so that as the number of arc lamps are increased by 250, a reduction in the price is made of one-half a cent per lamp per night, until the sum of thirty cents per night is reached.

This new lamp has been tested thoroughly and is considered much superior to those now in use.

During the year experiments have been made with an incandescent naphtha lamp, and after satisfactory trial in the street lanterns an agreement with the Rising Sun Street Light Company was made whereby the existing naphtha lighting contract was annulled, and on the thirty-first of October a new contract for five years was agreed upon and signed. The rate of compensation is $22.81 per lamp per annum for the ordinary naphtha burner, and when an incandescent mantle burner is used the sum of three-quarters of one cent additional per lamp per night is paid.

The two severe snowstorms that occurred in February and November, 1898, caused considerable damage to the electric lamp-posts, hoods and wires.

The new electric lamps located during the year numbered 183.

During the year 1894 the Boston Electric Light Company began the work of laying their wires in underground conduits, and since that time a large number of city lamps furnished by that company have been connected with the underground system. There are also 311 lamps connected with the underground system in the parks and park-ways.

The following table shows the number of lamps of all kinds in use on January 15, 1899, as compared with January 15, 1898:

Veto—Sunday Evening Amusements.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, May 4, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my approval the regulation passed by the Board amending Chapter 3 of the Revised Regulations of 1896 so as to require a permit from the Board of Aldermen for the use of any licensed place of public amusement on Sunday evening, the Board having no authority, in the opinion of the Corporation Counsel, to pass such regulation, as such matter is fully regulated by law under the provisions of Chapter 434 of the Acts of 1895.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Veto—Stand at Old Court House.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, May 8, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I feel obliged to return without my approval the vote of your Board granting permission to John Leonard to maintain a stand for the sale of temperance drinks in front of the Old Court House, on Court street, for the reason that nine persons already hold permits for stands in front of the Old Court House, and that there is obviously no additional room available at the north end of the Court House, which is the only place where such stands can be erected.

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The Board voted to reconsider the vote whereby the permit was granted. On the question of granting the permit, the Mayor's objections to the contrary notwithstanding, the Board refused to grant permission by a vote of yeas, 0; nays, 11.

MAYOR'S CIRCULARS.

The following circulars to heads of departments have been issued by His Honor the Mayor:

Circular No. 62.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, May 12, 1899.

TO THE HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS:

GENTLEMEN: You are hereby advised that the amendment to Section 12 of Chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances of 1898, passed by the City Council over my veto on April 3, 1899, which provides that officers in charge of departments shall not employ in any capacity any persons but citizens of the United States, "and, if male subordinates, legal voters of Boston," has been pronounced by the Corporation Counsel to be illegal and inoperative, upon the ground that it is an attempt to exercise powers which, under the City Charter, belong exclusively to the Executive. While citizens of Boston should in all cases be given the preference, other things being equal, in filling all offices and employments under the city, and while none but citizens should be employed in any capacity, heads of departments are not called upon to give any effect to the attempt to confine municipal service to legal voters in cases where the interests of the city, in their opinion, render such a restriction of the field of selection inadvisable.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Circular No. 63.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, May 15, 1899.

TO THE HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS:

GENTLEMEN: In view of the fact that certain departments not under the control of the Mayor have not put in force the reduction of salaries and wages directed by my circular No. 55; that two departments, headed by boards specially incorporated by statutes, have claimed that they were authorized by law to fix the salaries of their subordinates; that the Fire Department was specially excepted from the reduction, in response to what seemed to be the general demand of public sentiment, and that the total amount of the remaining saving through such reduction for the balance of the year has now been brought down to a comparatively small sum, I have concluded to authorize any heads of departments who are able to assure me that they can close the financial year without a deficit on the basis of the old scale of salaries and wages, to restore such scale, for service rendered after June 1. Please inform me whether you can undertake, barring extraordinary emergencies, to conduct the regular work of your department upon such basis for the balance of the financial year, or make such statement of the financial calculations upon which you are conducting your department as may seem to you proper for the above purpose.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

REPORT OF OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.

The thirty-fifth annual report of the Board of Overseers of the Poor, which constitutes City Document 23, 1899, has recently been presented to His Honor the Mayor. The report which covers the year ending January 31, 1899, may be summarized as follows:

The number of families, representing about 10,182 persons, assisted in the year was 3,394, a decrease of four families from the previous year. Of these, 358 families resided in other cities and towns, but had retained their settlement in this city. The Board received payment for aid rendered to 239 families residing in Boston, whose legal settlement was elsewhere. The largest number of families aided in any one month was 1,783, in February; the smallest number aided being 1,140 families, in August. The monthly average for the year was 1,324.

The number of new cases aided during the year was 842, an increase of ten over the year previous. The total number of cases dealt with since 1864 is 34,706.

The number of official visits made by visitors of the Board during the year was 21,016.

The following table shows the number of families aided and the amount of aid given by districts:

DISTRICTS.	Number of families aided.	Amount of aid given.	Population by Census of 1885.
East Boston . .	168	$3,417 27	42,595
Charlestown . .	427	8,396 70	40,304
City Proper . .	1,048	21,950 79	160,349
South Boston . .	458	10,821 74	67,913
Roxbury	688	20,366 10	92,088
Dorchester . . .	70	2,878 95	45,909
West Roxbury . .	70	3,086 63	32,761
Brighton	80	1,982 41	15,001
Living out of city, but aided by Department	27	1,434 83	—
Living out of city, aided through officers of other cities and towns,	358	11,339 36	—
Totals	3,394	$85,674 78	496,920

To the sum of $85,674, given directly to the poor, should be added the sum of $3,600.98, paid for burials, the sum of $6,133, paid for support of the Temporary Home, and the further sum of $7,917, paid for support of the Lodge for Wayfarers; making a total of $103,327 actually paid out by the Overseers of the Poor from the tax levy for the direct relief of the poor. The Board has also disbursed, as trustees, the further sum of $29,633 to various pensioners and beneficiaries adjudged worthy and falling within the provisions of the trusts.

The trust funds held by the Board as a corporation increased, during the year, from $716,860 to $720,061. The income derived from trust funds amounted to $43,972. But such income is diminishing, owing to the fact that most of the trust funds are invested in notes of the city, on which lower rates of interest are now paid than formerly. Therefore the Board has found it necessary to reduce the number of its pensioners and beneficiaries.

The Board continues to demand work of all able-bodied male applicants in return for groceries and coal furnished their families.

The number of men who worked for aid given in 1898 was 562; the number of days' work actually performed amounted to 4,521; while the number of men receiving work-cards who did not present them for work was 113.

At the Wayfarers' Lodge, 22,353 tramps, to whom 53,219 meals were furnished, were cared for over night, in the course of the year. The largest number cared for in a month was 2,425, in December, and the least number, 1,545, in February. The birthplaces of these lodgers were as follows:

America, 11,718; Ireland, 6,373; England, 1,322; British Provinces, 1,317; Scotland, 566; other countries, 1,057; total 22,353.

The records of the Temporary Home for Women and Children show that, out of a total of 980 women admitted, 473 came for the first time in 1898, and that 90 came in each of the five years 1894-1898. The Industrial Aid Society secured 114 places for women at domestic services, and the Temporary Home 158 places. Meals to the number of 2,224 were given in outside relief to 1,091 women and 86 children.

The number of women who use the Home as a temporary shelter has increased, while the number of "repeaters" has decreased.

The number of children admitted to the Temporary Home in 1898 was 726, of whom 281 came with mothers, 33 were lost children, 21 were foundlings, 114 came in various ways, 196 were sent by the State, and 81 were sent by the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

A change in the care of the sick poor in Charlestown was instituted last fall, whereby the salary of Dr. Sprague, who had faithfully served the Board for many years as its physician in that district was discontinued. The arrangement now in force provides for calling in a physician (preferably Dr. Sprague) to attend the wants of any sick under the charge of the Board, by the overseer or visitor in the district, after due investigation. It is held that this new departure, which worked well the past winter, will greatly reduce the expenses of the medical department of the Board's work, and ultimately tend to decrease the number of paupers in its charge.

Appropriate mention is made of the death of Hon. Frederic W. Lincoln, ex-Mayor of Boston, who was Chairman of the Board from June, 1867, to April, 1878, and for more than twenty years its Treasurer.

The Board also notes with regret the death, in November, 1898, of Mr. Martin J. Connolly, who had been the engineer in charge of the steam-heating for the Charity Building and the Temporary Home for more than thirteen years.

Attention is called to Chapter 425 of the Acts of 1898 (the text of which is found in the appendix to the report), which makes important changes in the pauper laws of the State. Its main provisions are:

(1.) Settlements not fully gained since May 1, 1860, are by this act defeated and lost, except where an existing settlement prevented the acquisition of a subsequent one. (2.) Absence from the State for ten years defeats a settlement previously acquired. (3.) Mothers are made legally liable for the support of their children.

The following is a summary statement of the expenses of the Department:

Drafts upon the City Treasury during the year ending January 31, 1899	$132,042 23
Sundry receipts paid to City Collector	17,199 61

Net charge to the city for the Department for the year $114,842 62

Amount collected for care in City Hospital of State paupers, and those belonging elsewhere than in Boston, and paid to the City Hospital $78,667 69

The largest items of expenditure during the year were: (1) paid for groceries and expense of delivery, $38,505; (2) pensions and grants paid at office, $22,103; (3) salaries of visitors and agents, $13,132; (4) payments to cities and towns for relief of Boston poor, $11,339; and (5) cost of fuel furnished, $8,529.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF DEPARTMENT.

The annual report of the Soldiers' Relief Department for the year ending January 31, 1899, constituting Document 33, 1899, has been submitted to his Honor the Mayor.

The expenditures of the Department have been as follows:

Under the provisions of the different acts of the Legislature, aid to soldiers and sailors who served in the War of the Rebellion and in the war with Spain, and to the families of the same	$211,076 15
Salaries	12,174 96
Office expenses	622 95

Total expenditures $223,874 06

The total appropriation, including a transfer of $2,000 on account of the Spanish war, amounted to $227,000.

There was received from the State, in accordance with various acts of the Legislature, the sum of $153,710.12.

EAST BOSTON FERRY-BOAT.

The new ferry-boat, "Noddle Island," had her official trial on Wednesday, May 10, 1899. The trip was satisfactory in every particular, and the boat was placed in commission on Monday, May 15.

The "Noddle Island" is of the double-screw type. Her length over all is 164 feet 3 inches; extreme beam, 57 feet, and depth of hold, 14 feet 3 inches.

Minnesota municipalities are permitted by law to frame their own charters through charter commissions; but the approval of four-sevenths of the voters is required to give effect to such charters.

COLLECTING DEPARTMENT.

The annual report of the Collecting Department for the year ending January 31, 1899, has been issued and constitutes Document 10, 1899.

The report shows that the total receipts of the City of Boston amounted to $26,606.-035.93 and of the County of Suffolk, $263.-642.12.

The assessment of taxes to defray the expenses of the City of Boston and County of Suffolk for the year ending January 31, 1899, less the revenue to be received from other sources; also to pay the State tax levied on the City of Boston, 1898, was:

Tax assessments, 1898, including supplementary bills . . .	$14,262,754 00
Bank tax, 1898	157,209 09

Total assessments	$14,419,963 09

The collections on the above to January 31, 1899, amounted to $12,475,273.58. The balance is made up of abatements amounting to $89,829.16, or 63 per cent., and outstanding collections amounting to $1,854,860.35, or 12.86 per cent.

The total amount of outstanding taxes, the bulk of which are uncollectable owing to death, poverty, insolvency, emigration and other causes, dating from the establishment of the city in 1822 to January 31, 1899, was $2,992,678.83.

The amount received from licenses of all kinds was $1,527,019.15, of which $1,480,668 was for liquor licenses.

Following is a summary of the leases owned by the city in the custody of the Department:

Department.	Annual rent.
Street Department	$250
Street Laying-out Department	250
Market Department	84,999
Public Buildings Department	4,700
Total	$90,199

The report contains also a statement of the notes, bonds and deeds of property belonging to the city, together with tables showing in detail the amount of collections of the Department since its establishment in 1875.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

A regular meeting of the School Committee was held in the School Committee Chamber, Mason-street building, on Tuesday, May 9, 1899, at 7.30 P.M.

In the absence of the President, the Board was called to order by Mrs. Emily A. Fifield, the senior member of the Board present. Mrs. Fifield was elected President pro tempore.

JOSIAH QUINCY,

DAVID F. BARRY,

DANIEL J. KILEY,

JOHN H. SULLIVAN,

LAURENCE MINOT,

Members of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

The foregoing order was submitted to the City Council April 3, 1899, and was not altered by it within the period of thirty days prescribed by law.

Attest: J. M. GALVIN, City Clerk.
Placed on file.

The Superintendent presented the following appointments and confirmations for the approval of the Board, certified by him as made in accordance with the rules and regulations:

The appointments of five special assistants, which were laid over under the rule; the reappointments of three temporary teachers, which were laid over under the rule; the appointments of two teachers on probation, which were laid over under the rule, and the confirmation of appointments of ten teachers, which were laid over under the rule.

On the report of the Superintendent, leave of absence was granted to thirteen teachers, and the substitutes named were approved by the Board.

The Superintendent presented the following appointment and recommendation for leave of absence, accompanied by written statements of the reasons for requesting a suspension of the regulations thereto:

Appointment of one teacher, which was approved under a suspension of the rule; leave of absence to one teacher, which was granted under a suspension of the rule.

On the recommendation of the Committee on New Buildings, it was Ordered, That a clause be inserted in future school-house contracts requiring contractors to pay the men employed on such work not less than the prevailing scale of wages, and to also observe the standard hours of labor established in the several trades.

Mr. Calderwood, for the Committee on High Schools, offered the following:

Ordered, That a session of the Mechanic Arts High School be held on Saturday, May 27, as a special public day, and that the school be closed on the following Monday, May 29.

Passed, under a suspension of the rules.

Mr. Calderwood, for the same committee, offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board authorize the employment for the school year 1899-1900, of not more than four graduates of the Mechanic Arts High School, the salary of each graduate employed not to exceed $2 per day of actual service, as special assistants in the mechanical department of that school, these special assistants to be in place of one additional instructor, to which said school is entitled under the rules.

Passed, under a suspension of the rules.

Mr. Calderwood, for the same committee, offered the following:

Ordered, That the June admission examinations to the Latin Schools be held this year on Saturday, June 10, and that applicants for admission to the High Schools be examined on Friday and Saturday, June 9 and 10.

Passed, under a suspension of the rules.

Mr. Calderwood, for the same committee, reported that they find it impracticable to hold a prize drill on May 29, and therefore recommend that the order passed April 25, fixing the dates of the annual parade and prize drills be rescinded, and the following order passed in place thereof:

Ordered, That the annual parade of the Boston School Cadets take place on Friday, May 12, 1899, and that the annual prize drills take place on May 23, 24, 25 and 26, 1899.

The report was accepted, the order referred to therein passed at the last meeting (see THE CITY RECORD, page 333) rescinded, and the order appended to the report of the committee passed.

Mr. Calderwood, for the same committee, to whom was referred, April 25, the matter relative to the advisability of recommending that leave of absence be granted the head-master of the English High School from September 1, 1899, until September 1, 1900, reported that your committee have carefully considered the matter, and are of the opinion that said leave of absence should be granted. They therefore recommend the passage of the following order:

Ordered, That leave of absence on half-pay, from September 1, 1899, until September 1, 1900, be granted to Robert E. Babson, head-master of the English High School.

Accepted, and the order passed under a suspension of the rule.

It was ordered that the salary of the matron of the Paul Revere School be fixed at the rate of $540 per annum, to date from April 1, 1899.

The appointment of the janitress of the Savin Hill Schools was approved.

Mr. Davison offered the following:

The School Committee has appropriated the sum of $3,000 for expenses connected with the opening of certain school-house yards during the summer vacation, and for continuing the work which has been carried on to a limited extent for quite a number of years at private expense, by the Massachusetts Emergency and Hygiene Association.

This association is desirous of supervising the work during the present year, as they thoroughly understand the best methods of administration, provided that it is decided to inaugurate out-of-doors vacation schools in different sections of the city, and the following order is therefore offered:

Ordered, That in order to carry on the vacation work the present year, for which the School Board appropriated the sum of $3,000, there be granted the use of such yards and basements of school-houses, as, in the opinion of the Massachusetts Emergency and Hygiene Association, may be needed.

Accepted, and the order passed.

Mr. Fleischer, for the Committee on the Annual School Festival, to whom was referred, March 28, a communication from the Superintendent transmitting a recommendation from the Boston Masters' Association, that the festival be omitted this year, reported that they have given a hearing on the subject, and have very carefully considered the views expressed by their associates and by masters of the schools, who were present. Your committee are unanimously of the opinion that the festival should be continued, subject, however, to certain modifications, which have been suggested, the adoption of which they believe will remove the more serious objections raised, and result in rendering the festival an event of still greater interest to the graduates of our schools, and to their parents and friends. Your committee recommend the passage of the following orders:

(1.) Ordered, That the Annual School Festival be held on Saturday, July 1, 1899.

(2.) Ordered, That the graduates of the Normal, Latin and High Schools be excused from attending the Annual School Festival this year.

Accepted, and the orders were passed.

Mr. Anderson, for the Committee on Rules and Regulations, to whom was referred, January 24, an order requesting them to report such changes in the Rules as will result in abolishing Division Committees, report that they have given the matter careful consideration, and are of the opinion that it is inexpedient to recommend the change suggested in the order referred. Your committee therefore recommend that no further action be taken on the matter.

Accepted, and the recommendation of the committee adopted.

Mr. Anderson, for the same committee, to whom was referred, April 25, an order that Section 207 of the Regulations, which provides that no school building or part of a school building shall be used for other purposes than the work of the school, unless the consent of the committee in charge shall have been first obtained, be amended by inserting the word "division" before the word "committee," reported that in their judgment it is inexpedient to make the change suggested. The term "committee in charge" is defined in the rules as follows: "Applied in a general sense to the Committee on the Normal School, the Committee on High Schools, a Division Committee, or to any other committee in charge of one or more schools." To insert the word "division" in this section would result in restricting and narrowing the operation of the section, and thus raise a doubt whether the committees on the High, Normal and Horace Mann Schools have the same control over the use of those schools that the Division Committee possesses with regard to the schools in the grammar districts. Three years ago a proposition was made to amend this same rule by substituting the Committee on School Houses for the committee in charge, but after full discussion the Board declined, at the meeting of June 9, 1896, to take from the hands of the Division Committees the power in this direction that had always been exercised by them. Thus there seems to be no possible ground in the history of legislation on this matter, upon which to base a doubt, of the meaning of the term "committee in charge," and your committee therefore recommend that no change be made in the rule as it now stands.

Accepted, and the recommendation of the committee adopted.

Mr. Anderson, for the same committee, offered the following:

Ordered, That the Rules be amended as follows:

Section 36. Add the following to paragraph 4 of the section: "Such nominations of architects shall be laid over for two weeks before being acted upon by the Board," so that the paragraph shall read as follows:

"4. Shall nominate to the Board an architect or architects to design plans and supervise the construction of buildings to be erected, or upon which additions are to be made; but the services of the School-house Agent shall, so far as practicable, be availed of in such work. Such nominations of architects shall be laid over for two weeks, before being acted upon by the Board."

Passed to a second reading.

Subsequently, on motion of Mr. Nichols, the rules were suspended, the order read twice, and passed unanimously.

On motion of Mr. Davison, for the Committee on the Ninth Division, it was Ordered, That the Board of Election Commissioners be requested to remove the temporary voting booth now in the yard of the Adams-street Primary School entirely, or else to place it in an inconspicuous position on the rear of the same lot.

Mr. Davison offered the following:

Ordered, That the afternoon sessions of the Grammar and Primary Schools be suspended on Friday, May 12, 1899, the day of the annual parade of the Boston School Cadets.

Passed, under a suspension of the rules.

Mr. Bennett presented the following:

Whereas, The Board of Estimate and Apportionment have signified their intention of making an appropriation for the use of the School Committee of $500,000; and whereas, but $475,000 have been apportioned up to the present time, and the Lowell School District in Jamaica Plain is in such a congested condition, that immediate relief is imperatively demanded; now, therefore, it is

Resolved, That the Board of Estimate and Apportionment be respectfully requested to apportion the remaining sum of $25,000 for the relief of said school of Ward 22.

The resolution was adopted — Yeas, 12; nays 6; absent or not voting, 6.

Mrs. Keller presented the following:

PETER FANEUIL CHAPTER, BRIGHTON AND ALLSTON.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

We, the undersigned, respectfully petition your honorable body, that the new school building on Webster avenue be named the Thomas Gardner School.

As Colonel Gardner was the only prominent man from our district to give his life in defence of our rights, and the fact that the school will stand upon ground formerly a part of his farm, we think it particularly appropriate that the school bear his name. Other names proposed belonging to a later period in the history of Allston, why not let them wait until some later date for commemoration?

GEORGE W. YEATON

(and fifty others).

Referred to the Committee on New Buildings.

Mr. Merritt presented the following:

TO THE CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMITTEE OF THE DORCHESTER SCHOOLS.

Owing to the short time between sessions, and the long distance many pupils have to go, we, the undersigned, parents of children attending the Christopher Gibson School, respectfully request that during the winter the schools hold but one session a day.

CLARA MAY RIPLEY

(and one hundred and eighty-five others).

Referred to the Committee on Rules and Regulations.
Adjourned.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

The following is a record of the meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment held on Wednesday, May 10, 1899:

Wednesday, May 10, 1899.

A meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment was held on Wednesday, May 10, at 4 P.M., at the Mayor's office, City Hall.

Present: All the members except Mr. Barry.

The records of the last three meetings were approved, their reading being dispensed with, on motion of Mr. Kiley.

On motion of Mr. Minot, the Board voted to give a hearing on the following past assignment:

Communication from Mayor Quincy (received March 15), transmitting a communication from the Fire Commissioner, requesting that provision be speedily made for providing a new engine-house for Engine 22.

Fire Commissioner Henry S. Russell appeared before the Board, and, in accordance with the request contained in a vote of the Board passed at its last meeting, submitted a statement of the sites that he would recommend as being proper locations for a new engine-house for Engine 22, together with the estimated cost of said sites, as follows:

LOCATION.	Size, Square Feet.	Estimated Cost.
Church, corner of Dartmouth and Harwich streets	4,465	$75,000
Estate, corner of Buckingham and Dartmouth streets	3,825	56,000
Estates, 1 and 3 Yarmouth street,	3,640	23,000
Two adjoining estates, north side of Dartmouth street, about midway between the railroad and Columbus avenue	3,600	50,000
Two adjoining estates, south side of Dartmouth street, about midway between the railroad and Columbus avenue	4,200	56,000
Two adjoining estates, further along on same side of Dartmouth street	4,200	59,000

The Board also voted to give a hearing in regard to the following:

(1.) Communication from Committee on New Buildings, of the School Committee (received at the last meeting), requesting that the sum of $25,000, formerly requested by the School Committee for "Miscellaneous School-house Sites," and for which no appropriation was made by the Board, be appropriated for the following purposes:

New grammar school-house, Tileston District, Dorchester, site for . $10,000 00
New primary school-house, Sherwin District, Roxbury, site for . 15,000 00

Total $25,000 00

(2.) Communication from Francis L. Coolidge, member of the School Committee, (received to-day), urging that the above appropriation of $10,000 for a site in the Tileston District, Dorchester, be granted.

(3.) Resolution passed by the School Committee May 9 (received to-day), requesting that the amount of $25,000 remaining from proposed appropriation of $500,000 be appropriated for the "relief" of the Lowell School-house, Ward 22.

Mr. Edward I. Aldrich, Chairman of the Committee on New Buildings, and Messrs. Francis L. Coolidge and Francis A. Campbell, members of the said committee, were heard by the Board in favor of the appropriation for sites in the Tileston and Sherwin Districts, and Frederick S. Bennett of the School Committee was heard in favor of the appropriation for increased accommodations in the Lowell District.

The following was received:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, May 10, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT:

I believe that it would be very desirable for the city to continue during the coming summer the Municipal Camp for Boys, which was established as an experiment last year, and through the agency of which about 800 boys were given a week's outing, at an average maintenance expense of $1.83 per week for each boy.

As there is no department within the scope of whose regular duties, as defined by statute or ordinance, the maintenance of such a camp would fall, it seems necessary to make the appropriation through the Mayor's office, and I accordingly recommend the approval by the Board of the accompanying transfer, with the assurance on my part that this sum will be applied solely to this purpose, and that no part of it will be used for the general expenses of the Mayor's office.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Accompanying the above was a communication from the City Auditor stating that, subject to the approval of the Board, he had transferred the sum of four thousand (4,000) dollars from the appropriation for Reserve Fund to the appropriation for Mayor.

Mr. Ernest C. Marshall, Penal Institutions Commissioner, Executive Director of the Municipal Camp for Boys, maintained at Long Island during the summer of 1898, was heard by the Board as to the advisability of providing for the maintenance of a similar camp this year by making the proposed transfer of $4,000, being the estimated cost of maintaining a camp twice the size of that maintained last year.

Mr. Thomas J. Lane, Chairman of the Bath Trustees, was also heard by the Board, and requested that an appropriation be made for furnishing and equipping the building at the corner of Harrison avenue and Plympton street, purchased with the $15,000 formerly appropriated by the Board for a gymnasium in Ward 9.

The Board then went into executive session.

Mr. Kiley moved that, owing to the absence of Mr. Barry, action in regard to the matter of making provision for a new engine-house for Engine 22 be postponed until the next meeting, and that the next meeting be held on Tuesday, May 16, 1899.

The motion was put, and the Chairman being in doubt, the yeas and nays were called, and the motion was lost — Yeas, 2; nays, 2.

Yeas — Messrs. Dore and Kiley — 2.

Nays — Mr. Minot and Mayor Quincy — 2.

Mr. Minot moved the adoption of the following:

Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner be authorized to expend for the purchase of land and the erection of a new engine-house thereon, the amount received by the city for the engine-house on Dartmouth street, formerly used by Engine 22, which amount is hereby appropriated for said purpose.

Mr. Kiley called for the yeas and nays on the passage of the order, and it was not passed, the vote being — yeas, 2; nays, 2.

Yeas — Mr. Minot and Mayor Quincy — 2.

Nays — Messrs. Dore and Kiley — 2.

On motion of Mr. Kiley, further consideration of the matter was assigned to the next meeting of the Board.

On motion of Mr. Minot, it was Voted, That the attention of the School Committee be called to the fact that the resolution passed by the said committee on May 9, requesting that the amount of $25,000 remaining from proposed appropriation of $500,000, be appropriated for the "relief" of the Lowell school-house, Ward 22, is inconsistent with the appropriations already made by this Board, on the recommendation of the School Committee, in that it makes no provision for sites for buildings for which $140,000 have been appropriated, and that it is also inconsistent with the communication received by this Board on April 27, 1899, from the Committee on New Buildings, requesting that $10,000 of said amount be appropriated for a site for the proposed new grammar school-house in the Tileston District, Dorchester, and that the remaining $15,000 be appropriated for a site for the proposed new primary building in the Sherwin District, Roxbury.

On motion of Mr. Dore, further consideration of the matter was laid on the table.

On motion of Mr. Dore, consideration of the matter of making an appropriation for furnishing and equipping the gymnasium in Ward 9 was assigned to the next meeting of the Board.

On motion of Mr. Dore, consideration of the approval of the transfer of $4,000 from the appropriation for Reserve Fund to the appropriation for Mayor, to be used for maintaining a Municipal Camp for Boys during the summer of 1899, was also assigned to the next meeting.

On motion of Mr. Kiley, it was Voted, That the Chairman be authorized to approve the following bills:

W. J. McGraw & Co., $2.75; J. L. Fairbanks & Co., $2; W. J. McGraw & Co., $5; Thomas F. Galvin, $25.

Adjourned at 5.50 P.M., to meet on Tuesday, May 16, 1899, at 3.30 P.M.

LAURENCE MINOT, Secretary.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

The following orders have been promulgated by the Board of Police:

Boston, May 9, 1899.

General Order No. 597.

Patrolman Edward J. Drew, of Division 12, having been commended by his captain for courage shown in stopping a runaway horse on Boston street, on the second instant, he is hereby commended in General Orders.

May 12, 1899.

General Order No. 598.

By vote of the Board of Police, it is hereby Ordered, That the police officers of the City of Boston be, and they are hereby, severally specially appointed and authorized to enter at any time upon the premises of any person licensed to sell intoxicating liquors for the year beginning May 1, 1899, under the provisions of Chapter 100 of the Public Statutes, and all acts in addition to and amendments thereof, to ascertain the manner in which such person conducts his business and to preserve order, and also to do all other acts which officers so appointed are authorized by said statutes to do or perform.

May 13, 1899.

General Order No. 599.

Ordered, That on and after Monday, May 15, A.D. 1899, all requisitions on the property clerk made by the commanding officer of any division shall be examined and passed upon by the District Deputy Superintendent in whose district such division is, and shall be forwarded by him, through the Superintendent, to Commissioner Adams, with his approval or disapproval endorsed thereon, together with his reason for such approval or disapproval. Such District Deputy Superintendent shall, by personal examination and inspection, carefully investigate and consider the necessity for the purchase, repairs, or other outlay to which any such requisition relates before approving or disapproving the same.

All other requisitions made upon the said property clerk, except requisitions for supplies needed at the Superintendent's office and at the office of the Board of Police, shall be approved or disapproved in like manner by the Superintendent, or, in his absence, by the senior Deputy Superintendent, and forwarded by him to Commissioner Adams.

STATEMENT OF PAUPER TRUSTEES.

The Board of Trustees of the Pauper Institutions have issued, on May 11, the following statement in regard to certain rumors recently published in certain papers:

1. The former deputy, Mr. Thomas J. Condon, resigned voluntarily, and his resignation was unanimously accepted by the Trustees.

2. There was no interference by the Board, or by any member of it, with the discipline of Long Island under Mr. Condon's management, nor was any order given by Mr. Condon countermanded.

3. No baby, ill in the hospital, was removed to another part of the island, and no baby has died in consequence of any removal.

4. In the case of William Munroe, a consumptive man, who was asked (on the testimony of the physician that he was physically able to do light work) to polish the floors in the hospital for half an hour daily, the facts are as follows:

The man was not seriously ill, his disease being in a state where it had made no noticeable progress for one year. He was not asked to clean floors, but to polish them. This work is frequently done by both patients and nurses, and consists in pushing a long-handled polisher over the floors.

The man refused to do it because he wished to be discharged from the hospital. On the ground of insubordination, he was placed in solitary confinement, and while there attempted to assault an officer, and refused to eat the hospital diet which was furnished him. He was therefore taken into court, but was discharged, mainly because the doctor's certificate did not state the precise kind of "light work" which was required of him.

5. The Trustees deny that no vegetables are to be raised at Long Island. On the contrary, they are considered necessary and desirable for the benefit of the inmates.

6. The Trustees deny that they should under any circumstances restore the former method of employing prison labor for the cultivation of the farm.

7. The Trustees make the statement that Mr. Arthur T. Hopkins, recently appointed by them to the position of Superintendent of Long Island, is a man well qualified to hold the position, and that he is probably a citizen of Boston, since he was residing on Long Island, Boston harbor, on the first day of May, both this year and last year, and this year expressed his intention of remaining there if appointed to the position of Superintendent.

8. The statement having been made that a former Superintendent of Long Island received a salary of but $1,800, the Trustees wish to call attention to the fact that the salary of Superintendent has been $2,500 under all administrations since the removal of both men and women paupers to Long Island, and that the present salary has been increased to $3,000, because of the importance and variety of the work required.

9. The Trustees stand ready to accept just criticism for any errors in judgment or policy which they have made, but they believe that in the interest of fairness and justness they should deny false statements which reflect unfavorably upon the management of the Pauper Institutions, and which tend to discredit with the public the many improvements which have been made and others which are contemplated.

The London County Council has accepted a bid of £109,500 for the construction of a tunnel under the Thames, between Greenwich and the Isle of Dogs, for the use of foot passengers only. The tunnel will be 1,217 feet from shore to shore. The sides of the tunnel will be formed of concrete one foot in thickness and faced with white glazed tiles. The outside diameter will be twelve feet nine inches, the finished width for the foot-path will be eight feet six inches, and the finished height at the centre eight feet nine inches.

EMPLOYMENT OF CITIZENS AT DRY DOCK.

The following communications were presented to the Common Council at its meeting on the eleventh instant:

EXECUTIVE MANSION.

Washington, April 8, 1899.

MY DEAR SIR: I beg leave to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the sixth instant, submitting a resolution adopted by the Common Council of your city, and to state that by direction of the President it has been forwarded for the consideration of the Secretary of the Navy.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE B. CORTELYOU,

Assistant Secretary to the President.

HON. DANIEL J. KILEY, President Common Council, Boston, Mass.

NAVY DEPARTMENT.

Washington, April 13, 1899.

SIR: The Department is in receipt of your letter of the sixth instant, addressed to the President, containing a copy of a resolution passed by the Common Council of the City of Boston, protesting against the importation of alien labor for employment on the Boston dry dock.

In reply I have to inform you that the Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, to whom your letter was referred, reports that the Bureau has transmitted a copy of the resolution referred to to the contractors for the construction of the dry dock at the Navy Yard, Boston, inviting their attention to the provisions of law relating to the importation of aliens under contract to perform labor in the United States.

Very respectfully,

JOHN D. LONG, Secretary.

MR. DANIEL J. KILEY, President Common Council, Boston Mass.

NAVY DEPARTMENT.

Washington, April 22, 1899.

SIR: Referring to your letter of the sixth instant, containing a copy of a resolution passed by the Common Council of the City of Boston, protesting against the importation of alien labor for employment on the Boston dry dock, and to the Department's reply thereto, stating that the Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks of this Department had transmitted a copy of said resolution to the contractors for the construction of the dry dock referred to, inviting their attention to the provisions of law relating to the importation of aliens under contract to perform labor in the United States, I enclose herewith a copy of a letter received from Messrs. O'Brien & Sheehan, the contractors for the Boston dry dock, in which they state that they have taken no steps to import labor for the construction of the dock, nor have they any intention of doing so.

Very respectfully,

JOHN D. LONG, Secretary.

MR. DANIEL J. KILEY, President Common Council, Boston, Mass.

New York, April 17, 1899.

MORDECAI T. ENDICOTT, Chief of Bureau Yards and Docks, Washington, D.C.

DEAR SIR: We are in receipt of your favor of April 12, enclosing copy of communication addressed to the President of the United States by the President of the Common Council of the City of Boston, with reference to the employment of certain labor in connection with the work of construction of the dry dock for the navy at the Navy Yard at Boston, Mass.

In reply thereto we beg leave to say that there is not the shadow of foundation for the adoption of the resolution referred to by the Common Council of the City of Boston, and the Council is very much in error in saying that it was the intention of the contractors to import a large number of employees from other places to the detriment of the citizens of the City of Boston.

The fact is we have carried on a great deal of public work in and around Boston for the last four or five years, and all our employees are residents and citizens of the City of Boston. This applies to work under contract to us, and work in which we are interested, and especially applies to contracts for the Moon Island reservoir, in the City of Boston, new State dock, at South Boston, also work at Readville and Jamaica Plain.

It will not be necessary to increase our force in order to carry on the construction of the new dry dock, as the force now employed by us on other work in and around Boston, and nearing completion, will be transferred to the dry dock.

Respectfully yours,

O'BRIEN & SHEEHAN.

Lloyd's returns give the addition of steam tonnage to British registry during 1898 as 1,111,768 tons gross, and of sailing tonnage, 29,053 tons; total, 1,140,821 tons. So large an addition of steam tonnage has not been recorded for any previous year. Compared with steam, sailing tonnage decreased from 25 per cent. of the total tonnage in 1891 to 2 per cent. in 1898.

Messages from the Mayor.TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, at 3 P.M., on Monday, May 15, 1899, Chairman Barry presiding, and all the members present.

The following message was received from His Honor the Mayor:

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Placed on file.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL.

A regular meeting of the Common Council was held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 7.45 P.M., on Thursday, May 11, 1899, President Kiley in the chair.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

Closing of Broadway Bridge.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, April 20, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Superintendent of Streets, in reply to your order requesting information as to "the reason why the bridge on Broadway, between Dorchester avenue and Harrison avenue, is closed, and also the length of time it is proposed to keep said bridge closed."

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

STREET DEPARTMENT.

City Hall, April 18, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: I beg to submit the following report, in accordance with the request contained in the inclosed order of the Common Council.

Broadway bridge (between Dorchester avenue and Harrison avenue) was closed under authority of an order of the Board of Aldermen, passed April 12, 1899, during the construction of the widened bridge, in connection with the new tracks of the Boston and Providence Railroad, making connections with the terminal station. The railroad officials report that this work will be completed by the first of June. One sidewalk will be kept open on Broadway, but it is not possible to maintain a roadway during this construction.

Yours very respectfully,

BENJ. W. WELLS,
Superintendent of Streets.
Placed on file.

Employment of Non-Residents.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, May 11, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

In reply to the accompanying order, referred to me, I can only state that in vetoing, under date of March 17, the amendment of Section 12 of Chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances, providing that none but legal voters of Boston shall be employed in any capacity as male subordinates in any department, I distinctly stated that, under the provisions of Section 12 of Chapter 266 of the Acts of 1885, it was, in the opinion of the Corporation Counsel, "entirely outside of the powers of the City Council to undertake to define by ordinance the qualifications of officials or employees, or to impose limitations upon their selection by the executive departments." It follows that such amendment to the ordinances cannot be recognized by the executive as having any legal force or effect, and until a court decides otherwise the heads of departments will not consider themselves called upon to pay any attention to the amendment. I should consider that a recognition of this amendment as having any legal effect was a surrender by the Mayor of powers lodged in his hands by the Charter Amendment Act of 1885, and it will only be regarded, therefore, as an expression of opinion as to the proper executive policy on the part of the City Council.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Trustees for Children, through His Honor the Mayor, be requested to inform the Common Council what justification they had for appointing on April 5, 1899, John C. Davis of Vermont as Assistant Superintendent at Rainsford Island, after the passage of the ordinance requiring male employees of the city to be citizens and legal voters of Boston.

Ordered printed and assigned to the next meeting.

Streets for South Union Station.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, April 27, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Board of Street Commissioners in reply to your order requesting "a list of the streets given by the City of Boston to the Old Colony Railroad Company to increase its terminal facilities in said city, etc."

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

STREET COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE.

City Hall, April 24, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: The Board of Street Commissioners respectfully report, in reply to the order of the Common Council of March 30, 1899, requesting a list of the streets given by the City of Boston to the Old Colony Railroad Company to increase its terminal facilities at South Boston, in 1893, and the amounts given by the railroad company in return, that no streets were given by the City of Boston to the railroad company, but that Swan, Colony and Ontario streets, and a part of Foundry street were taken by the Old Colony Railroad Company and discontinued under authority of Chapter 127 of the Acts of the Legislature of 1893, empowering the company to take, for an increase of its terminal facilities at South Boston, all the territory bounded by Dorchester avenue, West Fourth street and the line of the railway.

By order of the Board of Street Commissioners.

J. H. JENKINS, Secretary.

The communication was placed on file.

Wall—Evergreen Cemetery.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, May 4, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Cemetery Trustees in reply to your order requesting "a list of the bidders and contracts awarded, if any, for the construction of the fence at Evergreen Cemetery, and a statement of the material to be used in said construction."

In accordance with their suggestion, I recommend the passage of the accompanying order, rescinding the appropriation for a wall at the Evergreen Cemetery, so that a new appropriation of the same amount may be made for a fence.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

CEMETERY DEPARTMENT.

Boston, May 2, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: In Common Council, September 15, 1898, it was ordered that the Cemetery Trustees be hereby authorized to expend the sum of $1,500 for the construction of a wall at Evergreen Cemetery, and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds of the city to said amount.

This was approved by Your Honor September 21, 1898.

The frontage of Evergreen Cemetery requires a wall about 800 feet long. This wall should be at least four feet high, of solid construction, with iron pickets on top to protect the grounds from trespassers. Such a wall would require an expenditure at least double the sum appropriated.

After investigation, this Department recommends, as in accord with the appropriation, the construction of an iron fence. One suitable in design and strength can be built for $1,635, which is the lowest figure received on estimates furnished by iron fence builders.

In the opinion of the Board, the Trustees do not feel authorized to expend the sum of $1,500 for the construction of a fence, inasmuch as the phraseology of the original order reads "for the construction of a wall."

Inasmuch as a wall cannot possibly be constructed for the sum appropriated, and as some protection is urgently necessary in the front of Evergreen Cemetery, we desire to have the original order rescinded and the amount of $1,500 made available for the construction of an iron fence.

Yours respectfully,

J. ALBERT BRACKETT,

Chairman Cemetery Department.

Ordered, That so much of the order approved September 21, 1898, as authorized the Cemetery Trustees to expend the sum of $1,500 for the construction of a wall at Evergreen Cemetery, be and hereby is rescinded.

The communication was sent up, and the order assigned to the next meeting.

Veterans in Bath Department.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, April 27, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Secretary of the Bath Commission in reply to your order requesting "a complete list of the names of veterans of the Civil War employed in the Bath Department who have been suspended or discharged without a hearing since the date of the organization of said Department."

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF BATHS.

April 22, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: I am requested by the Bath Trustees to reply to the order of Councilman Bordman of Ward 10, dated April 6, 1899.

After considerable inquiry, we find that no veterans have ever been certified to the Bath Commission from the Civil Service, and as no hearing has ever been asked for by any of the employees who have been suspended temporarily, we have no "list of the names of veterans of the Civil War employed in the Bath Department who have been suspended or discharged without a hearing since the date of the organization of the said Department," to send to the City Council, and know of no veterans in the Department.

Yours respectfully,

DANIEL D. KEARNS, Secretary.

DEPARTMENT OF BATHS.

April 22, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: I have prepared the following data which will show the expenditure of money in the Bath Department for the fiscal year of 1899:

February draft	$8,531 76
In preparation for bathing season the following articles were purchased:
Suits	$2,662 24
Towels	682 34
Soap	355 35

Dorchester	400 00
East Boston, dry dock,	450 00
East Boston (wharf) December, January, February	150 00

Towing bath-houses and floats—1898 (August 25 to October 19)	495 00
	5,877 56

Balance $2,654 20

The balance was expended for small items such as: Ropes, chains, oars, machinery supplies, laundry and gymnasium supplies, tools, locks and keys; all of which articles are for permanent use during the coming season of 1899:

March draft	$2,533 73
Pay-rolls for February	$1,725 24
East Boston, rent of wharf (March, April, May, 1899)	150 00

	2,146 46

Balance $387 27

The balance was expended for small items such as: Teaming, rent of piano, laundry supplies, etc.

April draft	$6,923 26
North End Park, bills for 1898:
Lighting	$638 09

New laundry machinery,	95 92
Pay-rolls, Bath Department for March	1,873 92

	5,906 99

Balance $1,016 27

The balance was expended for small items such as: Coal, telephones, ice, teaming, stoves, etc.

The bills for the Repair Division on the April draft were for repairs on various places during 1898, properly charged to the maintenance account. These repairs were necessitated by the increase in patronage at all places during the bathing season.

The order of Councilman Chamberlain states that but one bath is at present opened to the public. This is an error, as at the present time, beside Dover-street Bath, the East Boston Gymnasium, five convenience stations and twelve urinals are maintained. We also have a force of three men employed at the wharf, repairing houses; two watchmen are also employed and the office force is maintained. Pay-rolls for each month, at present, amount to $1,800.

Concerning the expenditure of money on loan account for summer baths, permanent improvements, the following is a list, as taken from the Auditor's books. All these permanent improvements were necessitated last year by the increased demand for bathing and are in good order for this year's summer bathing:

Harvard Bridge bath-house	$1,051 12
Harvard Bridge bath-house	2,425 44
Harvard Bridge landing	1,910 68
Permanent work, North End Park	918 19

Respectfully submitted,

DANIEL D. KEARNS, Secretary.

SEWER ASSESSMENT DECISION.

Following is the decision of the Supreme Judicial Court in the cases of J. Montgomery Sears, Joseph H. Beale and Frank Brewster et al., trustees, vs. the Board of Street Commissioners of Boston, regarding the constitutionality of the Sewer Assessment Statute of 1897:

KNOWLTON, J. These are petitions for a writ of certiorari to quash an alleged illegal assessment of sewer charges upon property of the several petitioners. The law under which the respondent assumed to act in determining these charges is Statute 1897, Chapter 426, of which Sections 7 and 8 are as follows:

Section 7. The Board of Street Commissioners, with the approval of the Mayor, shall annually, before the first day of July, determine just and equitable sewerage charges to be paid by estates in said city for the construction, maintenance and operation of the sewerage works, taking into consideration in determining the charges the necessity of the works as caused by each estate, the amount of use thereof, if any, by the estate or its occupants, the benefit received therefrom by the estate, the amount of any assessment for a sewer paid by any owner of the estate, the length of time which has elapsed since such payment, and the use, if any, that has heretofore been made of the sewerage works by the occupants of the estate, and such other matters as they shall deem just and proper. The determination of such charges as aforesaid shall be final in all cases, and the amount thereof as determined for each estate shall be a lien thereon until paid, and said Board shall notify the Board of Assessors of said city of the amount thereof forthwith after it has been determined, and the same shall be included in the next tax bill on the estate transmitted by said Board to the Collector, or in a tax bill therefor, if no other tax bill is issued for such estate, and be collected as part of the taxes on the estate.

Section 8. All sewers and connections ordered to be made in constructing any way under the authority of Chapter 323 of the Acts of the year 1891, and of acts in amendment thereof or in addition thereto, shall be deemed to be constructed under the authority of this act, and the expenses therefor shall not be considered in determining the assessable cost of the work to be assessed under the authority of said acts.

The petitioners contend that these provisions of the statute are unconstitutional, and the most important questions in the cases arise on this contention.

It is evident that these provisions cannot stand as authorizing an assessment of a general tax, because the assessment called for is not proportional and equal. The statute not only directs an assessment upon a particular class of property, instead of on all taxable property, but it expressly requires in determining the charges the consideration of facts pertaining to particular estates in their relation to the charges, and to previous assessments, which prevent the making of a proportional assessment, viewing it as a general tax, and not as an assessment of benefits.

If we treat the determination of these charges as a local and special assessment upon particular estates we have to consider the principles on which such taxation is founded. It is well established that taxation of this kind is permissible under the constitution of this Commonwealth and under the constitution of the United States only when founded upon special and peculiar benefits to the property from the expenditure on account of which the tax is laid, and then only to an amount not exceeding such special and peculiar benefits. City of Boston vs. Boston and Albany Railroad Company, 170 Mass. 95-101; Weed vs. Boston, 172 Mass. 28; proprietors of Mt. Auburn Cemetery vs. City of Cambridge, 150 Mass. 12-14; village of Norwood vs. Baker, 19 Sup. Ct. 187; Sears vs. Aldermen of Boston, 53 N. E. Rep. 138. Several of the questions now before us were considered at length in the recent case last cited, and it is unnecessary to repeat the discussion of them.

Does this statute prescribe taxation upon these estates for special and peculiar benefits only; or does it purport to authorize taxation on other grounds than special benefits, and for amounts larger than the amounts of such benefits?

It directs the Street Commissioners annually to "determine just and equitable sewer charges to be paid by estates in said city," etc. It requires them to take into consideration several subjects in determining these charges, one of which is the benefit received by the estate, and others of which possibly have some relation to the benefit received, and it then authorized them to consider "such other matters as they shall deem just and proper."

The benefits to be considered in taxing each estate are not in terms those that are special and peculiar, but so far as the language goes may be those that it receives in common with the other estates in the city, and with the inhabitants generally. The fact that the charges to be determined are for the construction, maintenance and operation of the sewerage works of the whole city gives some force to the possibility of a construction which includes all benefits; but whether this construction should be adopted or not the charges may be determined on any grounds which the Street Commissioners deemed just and proper, and may not be founded in any great degree, if at all, upon special and peculiar benefits, and may in any particular case largely exceed such benefits.

This fact in itself is enough to bring the statute within the prohibition of the constitution, inasmuch as it purports to authorize a taking of property to pay a charge which is not founded on a special benefit or equivalent received by the estate or its owner. Such a taking would be without due process of law. Village of Norwood vs. Baker, 19 Sup. Ct. 187; New Brunswick Rubber Company vs. Commissioners of Streets, 9 Vroom, 190; Barnes vs. Dyer, 56 Vt. 469; Thomas vs. Gain, 35 Mich. 155.

The general tenor of this section seems at variance with the law in regard to special taxation. It seems designed to group together a great variety of expenses, including all that are connected with the administration of the Sewer Department in the City of Boston, many of which are proper subjects for general taxation only, and to assess them all upon real estate.

In determining the charge to be made upon any particular estate, it is clear that most of the expenses to be reimbursed would be found to have been incurred in ways that could bring no special or peculiar benefit to that estate. The cost of constructing and maintaining sewers remote from it could confer no benefit. In two of these cases it appears by averments of the petition, which are not denied in the answer, that the estates of the petitioner have previously paid special assessments made by the city for the construction of sewers into which the estates drain, and in one of them it appears, in like manner, that no sewers have been constructed under the Statute of 1897, Chapter 426, and no repairs made under the provisions of said act upon sewers already existing, with which the estates of the petitioner have or can have any connection, or from the use of which said estates derive any benefit. Where lands have paid assessments for special benefits from the construction of all sewers by whose operation they are affected, it cannot be said that they receive an additional special and peculiar benefit from the general oversight and operation of the sewers of Boston such as to subject them to a second special assessment. Expenses of this kind should be made the subject of general taxation. The grouping of these various expenses would seem to make it difficult, if not impracticable, under this statute, to make assessments of special and peculiar benefits directly received by particular estates from the construction of sewers near them. Indeed, it appears from the testimony that the Street Commissioners did not attempt to make assessments in accordance with the principles recognized as correct by the courts.

They adopted a scheme, and applied it to the estates generally throughout the city, by which they charged, as a special tax, three and one-half cents per hundred dollars of valuation of the land, exclusive of buildings, together with one-fifth of the charge made for the use of water on the estate, with certain deductions from the charge for the use of water where the use was of a peculiar kind, like the manufacture of steam. This item of three and one-half cents per hundred dollars of valuation of land was made up of one and one-half cents per hundred dollars for general construction, which means construction in any part of the system of sewers, and two cents per hundred dollars for general maintenance, which means the expense of salaries, care of sewers, coal and other things pertaining to the management and operation of the system.

That such expenses are proper subjects for general taxation, and not for special assessments, has often been decided. Hammett vs. Philadelphia, 65 Penn. St. 146; Washington avenue, 69 Penn. St. 352; appeal of City of Williamsport, 41 Atl. Rep. 476; Dietz vs. Neenah, 91 Wis. 422-427; Dyar vs. Farmington, 70 Me. 527; Hanscom vs. Omaha, 11 Neb. 37.

In Erie vs. Russell, 148 Penn. St. 384, the court says:

"Why should a sewer, demanded and constructed by the city, and paid for by assessments on the property fronting on the street under which it is laid, be maintained and reconstructed, on the order of the municipality, at the expense of such property? It was made by the action of the city a part of its system of sewerage, which is as necessary for the health of its people as its paved streets are for their use. Its construction was at the expense of the abutting property, and properly so, in discharge of the obligation arising from particular benefits conferred. It is now a constituent of the general system ordained by the city for the convenience and health of its inhabitants. This system confers benefits which are general. It is a public necessity, and the expense of maintaining it should be provided for by general taxation." See Child vs. Boston, 4 Allen 41-52; Emery vs. Lowell, 104 Mass. 13-16.

In Sears vs. Aldermen of Boston, this court held, with some hesitation, that watering streets, which before the passage of a statute on the subject was generally done at the expense of the abutters, conferred a direct and special benefit upon abutting property occupied for business or residence. Some other courts have held to the contrary. See City of Chicago vs. Blair, 149, 111, 310; New York Life Insurance Company vs. Prost, 71 Fed. Rep. 1815. But in that case the relation of the expenditure to the abutting property was very different from that of the expenditure for salaries and other expenses of maintaining a sewer department to property whose owners have previously paid assessments for the special benefits to be received from the use of the sewers. In assessing such benefits when the sewers were constructed, it was assumed that the sewers would be kept in operation for the benefit of the public, and that owners of property assessed would only be called upon to contribute as general taxpayers their proper share of the expenses of operating them. It is probable that most estates which drain into sewers in Boston were specially assessed when the sewers were constructed. Because the statute purports to give the Street Commissioners power to levy special assessments on real estate upon other grounds than the receipt of special benefits, and to amounts beyond the amount, if any, of the special benefits, and for expenditures which, as against such property, are not proper subjects for special taxation, we are of the opinion that the statute is unconstitutional.

It is also contended by the petitioners that the statute gives owners of property no opportunity of being heard upon their liability to assessment. It is well established that the determination of the amount of taxes for special benefits to real estate by any tribunal to which the Legislature delegates the power is a quasi judicial proceeding, which cannot take final effect unless persons to be assessed have an opportunity to be heard. New London Northern Railroad Company vs. Boston and Albany Railroad Company, 102 Mass. 386; Parsons vs. District of Columbia, 170 U. S. 45, 52, 54; Hagar vs. Reclamation District, 111 U. S. 701-709; Falbrook Irrigation District vs. Bradley, 164 U. S. 112-175; Stuart vs. Palmer, 74 N. Y. 189; Remson vs. Wheeler, 105 N. Y. 573; matter of Trustees of Union College, 129 N. Y. 308; Dietz vs. Neenah, 91 Wis. 422-427; Butler vs. Supervisors, 26 Mich. 22; Thomas vs. Gunn, 35 Mich. 135; Campbell vs. Dwiggin, 83 Ind. 473; Ulman vs. Baltimore, 72 Md. 587. But if a party has a right to appeal, or to be heard upon an application for an abatement, it is sufficient. Weed vs. Boston, 172 Mass. 28; Palmer vs. McMahon, 133 U. S. 660; County of Redwood vs. Winona, etc., Company, 40 Minn. 512. See also Sawyer vs. State Board of Health, 125 Mass. 186; Philadelphia vs. Miller, 49 Penn. St. 400; Cleveland vs. Tripp, 13 R. I. 50.

This statute makes no express provision for notice or a hearing. It declares that "the determining of such charges as aforesaid (that is, by the Street Commissioners) shall be final in all cases," and provides for a notification of the determination to the Board of Assessors, and for the collection of the amount as a tax. In view of this language, it is difficult to see how the statute gives by implication an opportunity to be heard at any stage of the proceedings. But, as we hold this section of the statute unconstitutional on other grounds, it is unnecessary to determine this question. In each case the order must be, writ of certiorari to issue.

SUSPENSION OF SEWER DIVISION WORK.

The following communication directing the suspension of the work of the Sewer Division has been sent to Deputy Superintendent Cutter of the Sewer Division by Superintendent of Streets Wells:

STREET DEPARTMENT.

City Hall, May 19, 1899.

MR. C. R. CUTTER, Deputy Superintendent, Sewer Division.

DEAR SIR: You will take immediate steps to close down the Sewer Division. All whose services are not absolutely necessary for the protection of the work or the care of the main drainage, you will suspend at once. All construction work must be stopped. All except employees whose services cannot be dispensed with, such as the men at the Pumping Station, stablemen and watchmen, must be dismissed.

This order is in consequence of the decision rendered by the Supreme Court, making the appropriations provided for the payment of sewerage works illegal; so that, until action is taken by the Legislature, no money is available for the payment of any bill for services or material.

Yours very truly,

BENJ. W. WELLS,
Superintendent of Streets.

SEWER DIVISION WORK IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION AND CONTEMPLATED.

Superintendent Wells of the Street Department is in receipt of information requested by him at the time of the shutting down of the Sewer Division, giving details of the construction work affected by the decision of the Supreme Court. The Sewer Division reports the following work, which was in progress at the time, as suspended until legislative action shall permit the resumption of construction.

DISTRICT NO. 1—SOUTH BOSTON.

Kemp-street outlet. This work is about completed, except the building of the regulating chamber, and when completed it would relieve the interceptor of South Boston from over-crowding in the time of storm or flood. This is the last overflow to be constructed on the intercepting system of Boston, and completes this portion of the Main Drainage Works. It also stops work on what is known as the Savin Hill outlet, in the marsh and under the railroad, connecting the sewers of the north side of Savin Hill with the intercepting sewer in Sydney street; and its not being completed still keeps this system out of use, and also stops the use of the sewer for some 80 or 100 houses on the line of sewer in that district. Work is stopped on the Strandway, and also on the sewer which is now being constructed for the relief of the new club-houses in South Boston. It was the intention of these clubs to open their quarters on Memorial Day, but it will be impossible for them to use their sanitary arrangements until this sewer is completed.

DISTRICT NO. 2—EAST BOSTON.

Work is stopped on the construction of the regulating chamber on Chelsea street, which connects the sewers of this district with the Metropolitan interceptor at this point. The shut-down also stops the use of these sewers by houses abutting on side streets. It likewise stops work on what is known as the Bennington-street culvert. This culvert is on Bennington street, where there is a large amount of travel, especially in the summer season, and the construction of the roadway congests travel at this point.

DISTRICT NO. 3—CHARLESTOWN.

The work in progress in this district is the overflow of the Metropolitan connection at Beach street, and this cannot be used until the work is completed. When this connection is finished it will put all the sewers of this part of Charlestown District into the Metropolitan District.

DISTRICT NO. 4—BRIGHTON.

The shut-down completely stops the work on what is known as the Commonwealth-avenue boulevard, between Warren street and Chestnut Hill avenue. This is quite an extensive piece of work, and until the sewers are completed it is impossible for the city to proceed with the work of building and grading this avenue. It was to be completed this year. It also stops work on the construction of the sewer in Washington street, from the Brookline line to Commonwealth avenue, which is an outlet for Commonwealth avenue. Also, the work in Orkney road is stopped. This is a street which is under construction under the "323 Act"; and the contractor being working on that portion of the street, under said act, his work will have to be delayed until these sewers are completed.

DISTRICT NO. 5—WEST ROXBURY.

In this district there is a large amount of work open, namely, what is known as the Keyes and Lee streets surface-drain, Congreve-street house-drain, and the Weld and Corey streets house-drain. The fact of this work not being completed prevents the building of the streets; and also incommodes the people residing on the streets.

DISTRICT NO. 6—DORCHESTER.

The completion of Blue Hill avenue, from Walk Hill street to Neponset river, is delayed; and this also includes the large culvert known as the Mattapan brook channel. Tying up the work now, not only stops work on this job, but also delays the abolition of the grade crossing of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad at this point. With reference to the Rosemont-street relief sewer and surface drain, the city has been some two years working on this to relieve the district known as South Tenean Brook surface drainage system. This work is almost completed, there being only some 400 feet yet remaining unbuilt; and the not building of it still keeps this whole place in an unsettled condition. Work on Bullard, Callender and Middleton streets is also tied up, and the completion of the surface of the said streets is also prevented.

DISTRICT NO. 7—ROXBURY.

Halleck street and Fisher avenue are two streets that are very much needed at the present time.

DISTRICT NO. 8—CITY PROPER.

What is known as the Canal-street relief sewer is near completion. The city has been working on this sewer for the last two years and has been some fifteen years in getting the money to complete it.

In addition to the foregoing list, the Division was about to start the following work, for all of which there is a strong demand. This covers only the most urgent work which the Department is called upon to do, and takes no account of the mass of petitions already in and those which will be received:

DISTRICT NO. 1—SOUTH BOSTON.

First and Q streets. Re-building of the sewer outlet, which has been partly destroyed. Blake street, where the old stone sewer will have to be re-built before the Dorchester avenue grade crossing work can be completed. Also the sewer in Power and Leeds streets has been ordered to be constructed under Chapter 323, Acts of 1891.

DISTRICT NO. 2—EAST BOSTON.

East Boston low level sewer and system of sewers for the Bennington-street boulevard, for which the former is the outlet. Also the sewer system for East Boston Parkway, formerly called Neptune street.

DISTRICT NO. 3—CHARLESTOWN.

The last connection with the Metropolitan interceptor for Charlestown is at Arlington avenue. This the Department would have taken up next, and then proceeded to re-build the sewer system in the Beacham-street district. The sewer in Cambridge and Main streets was also to be re-built, both because it is too small for its present duties and because of the proposed abolition of the grade crossing at this point. The sewer must be re-constructed before the work of raising the grades of these streets is undertaken.

DISTRICT NO. 4—BRIGHTON.

The Union and Sheppard streets brook was to have been taken up and the worst parts improved.

DISTRICT NO. 5—WEST ROXBURY.

The Spring and Baker streets sewer system; sewers in Mendum and Fairview streets and the outlet; extension of conduit for Goldsmith brook; building of a conduit for the Williams-street brook; the surface drain for Montview and Kirk streets; rebuilding of culverts on La Grange street, together with some ditching on the La Grange-street brook, are all urgent work, and many complaints have been received of flooding and lack of sewerage facilities. It was also proposed to dig out and lower the bed of the Roslindale branch of Stony brook and tributary water-courses in the vicinity of Mt. Hope and Roslindale, so as to relieve these localities of surface water until some time in the future when a permanent structure could be built. Hubbard street, formerly Spring Lane, also needs sewerage.

DISTRICT NO. 6—DORCHESTER.

The system of surface drains for Talbot avenue was on the point of being started, in order to allow of the completion of this important avenue. Construction should also be begun early this season upon Davenport brook, Freeport-street brook, the Oakland Garden branch of Stony brook, between Talbot avenue and Harvard street, and the Franklin Park brook. The north branch of Tenean brook, between Charles and Westville streets, which has been partly dug out, should have a permanent structure built and the brook covered in. The Crescent-avenue brook conduit should be built for the relief of the territory around Cottage and Pond streets and Edison Green, which last locality suffers severely in every rain.

There is urgent demand for the extension of Savin Hill-avenue sewer to the railroad bridge; the Millet-street sewer between Harvard and Park streets; the Ceylon street sewer, which is the outlet for the whole system of sewers and surface drains for Columbia Road in the vicinity of the New England Railroad bridge. A system of sewers should be started in Swett street for the relief of the Veterinary Hospital and also to furnish sewers for this district, which is being rapidly developed.

The following streets have all been ordered constructed under Chapter 323, Acts of 1891: Van Winkle street, Wainwright street, Florida street, Edwin street, Homes avenue, Millet street, between Park and Athelwold streets, Alexander street and Woodcliff street.

The following list, although not yet ordered, are urgently required, under Chapter 323: Waldeck street, Lauriat avenue, from Tucker to Norfolk streets, Rozella street, Shepton street, Atherstone street, Blanch street, Washington street, from Talbot avenue to Euclid street, and Montague street. On all these streets, the work of constructing under "323" must be delayed until the sewers are built.

DISTRICT NO. 7—ROXBURY.

Jersey and Queensbury streets are in urgent need of sewers, and if they do not receive them the development of this valuable tract of land will be stopped. Francis street outlet, across Muddy River to the Boston & Albany Railroad, must be reconstructed before the fall rains, or floodings will ensue in this district. The main sewer, running up through Sherman and Dale streets, and the valley in this part of Roxbury, should be rebuilt during the summer, as many houses are flooded during the winter months every year, and the state of things here is becoming very bad. Sewers are urgently requested in Hollander street, between Harold street and Humboldt avenue, Seaver street, between Blue Hill avenue and Elm Hill avenue, Blandford and Cummington streets.

DISTRICT NO. 8 — CITY PROPER.

The sewers in Charlestown street and the side on which buildings are now being removed, must be built before this street can be completed; and if not built the approach to the new Charlestown bridge will be delayed. A sewer is badly needed in Atlantic avenue as an outlet for the T-wharf property; and the new connection and rearrangement of the sewers at Clark street and Atlantic avenue should be made as soon as possible to prevent floodings from tidewater. A regulator is required at Oswego street, and must be built before the new district regulator in Dewey square can be put in operation and the South Cove district begins to get the benefit of the expensive work recently constructed here. Public Alley No. 901, off Hemenway street, with its expensive buildings is unsewered, and must be attended to within a very short time. There are also a large number of other alleys, recently laid out as public alleys, which require rebuilding and repairs to the sewers before they can be surfaced and put in proper condition. Work on plans and the making of contracts for gate-house and machinery for the extension of the reservoirs at Moon Island, is also suspended.

ENFORCEMENT OF LAW REGARDING SMOKE NUISANCE.

The following letter has been sent by Superintendent of Streets Wells to the coal dealers of the city, and the department inspector of smoke nuisances, Mr. Thomas F. Kelley, has been instructed to take extra precautions against any increase in the violations of this law.

DEAR SIR: It is reported that, owing to competition in the coal business at the present time, importations of lower grades of soft coal may be expected, to fill orders on contracts now being made. I desire at this time to call your attention to the law which authorizes this Department to take action in preventing smoke nuisances, and to the fact that this law will be rigidly enforced, and all violations vigorously looked out for. During the past winter, when the situation as regards coal became extreme, owing to natural causes which could not be overcome, this Department waived for a time its objection to the use of certain lower-grade coals, as the higher grades were not to be obtained. Such action, however, cannot apply to the present situation.

Your attention is called to this matter now, so that there may be no cause for complaint on your part later on in the event of trouble, and that your customers may be fully advised as to the action which this Department will certainly take unless proper coal is used.

Yours very truly,

BENJ. W. WELLS,
Superintendent of Streets.

In relation to the matter, Superintendent Wells says that this precautionary measure is taken at this time, for the reason that at best the control of this nuisance is difficult, and good results may be accomplished if the coal dealers, as well as the consumers of coal, fully understand that the law will be vigorously enforced. The excuse which is sometimes given by the consumers, that they supposed they were buying the best grade of coal, will not be accepted; and, in view of the notice as given below, which has been sent to the wholesale dealers, the consumer, in the event of trouble, can very properly place the responsibility upon the party from whom he has purchased his coal supply.

PETITION OF MERCHANTS' MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE.

Following is the petition of the Merchants' Municipal Committee to the business men of Boston regarding the abolition of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment:

TO THE BUSINESS MEN OF BOSTON:

The undersigned, members of the Merchants' Municipal Committee, appointed by the Associated Board of Trade, to represent the business organizations of Boston in connection with municipal matters having especial relation to the commercial and financial interests of the city, desire to call your attention to threatened action by the Legislature which they believe would be most unfortunate.

The Legislature of last year, influenced largely by the active efforts of this committee, backed up by many important business organizations and leading merchants, passed an act establishing a Board of Estimate and Apportionment for the City of Boston. This committee has not altered its opinion as to the advantages of the change in the system of making appropriations thus effected, and it has no reason to believe that the general sentiment of the business community, which was certainly strongly favorable to the proposition last year, has changed; yet a bill for the repeal of this act, — although the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs, after full hearings, reported against it, — has been passed by the House of Representatives by a very large majority, and some positive action seems to be required to avert the danger of similar action by the Senate.

This committee is satisfied that the Board of Estimate and Apportionment will prove, as it was intended to be, a powerful factor in divorcing city finances from city politics, and that the attempt to abolish it has for its purpose the defeat of that end. We are convinced that its continuance will prove to be of great benefit, not to any single administration, or to either political party, but to the taxpayers of the City of Boston; and we therefore appeal to the business men whose interests we have sought to protect to oppose the destructive action which is threatened in the Legislature, before the new system has been in operation for five months.

If you are willing to join in the protest against the repeal by the present Legislature of this act — deliberately adopted, by a very large majority, by the Legislature of last year, and which certainly has not yet had a sufficient trial to afford any business grounds for condemning its operation — we ask you to sign the accompanying memorial.

ALPHEUS H. HARDY,
Chairman.

WILLIAM O. BLANEY,
J. RICHARD CARTER,
HORATIO G. CURTIS,
FREEMAN J. DOE,
AMORY A. LAWRENCE,
GEORGE H. LEONARD,

Merchants' Municipal Committee.

TO THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, IN GENERAL COURT ASSEMBLED:

The undersigned, business men or taxpayers of the City of Boston, respectfully protest against the passage of House Bill No. 1,169, repealing the act passed last year establishing the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for the City of Boston, for the reason that they believe that no sufficient arguments have been advanced to indicate that the advantages expected to be gained through this change in the financial system of the city will not be realized in practice, and for the further reason that the new system, having been in operation only five months, has not had a fair trial of its workings, and that it is contrary to every principle of sound legislation to repeal an act of such importance without such trial.

APPOINTMENT OF DEPUTY SUPERINTENDENT AT LONG ISLAND.

The Pauper Institutions Trustees have appointed Mr. W. F. Clark, Deputy Superintendent of the Long Island Almshouse and Hospital at Long Island, in place of Mr. Thomas J. Condon, resigned.

Mr. Clark is thirty-seven years of age and since 1879 has had considerable experience in the management of various kinds of public institutions. He was formerly Deputy Superintendent at Long Island (from 1895 to 1897), and during the last two years he has been Superintendent of the Quarantine Station at Gallop's Island.

DEATH OF EX-COUNCILMAN CONNORTON.

The death of ex-Councilman Martin F. Connorton occurred at his home, 299 Bunker Hill street, Charlestown, on Monday, May 22, 1899. Mr. Connorton was thirty-four years of age, and during 1894, 1895 and 1896 represented Ward 4 in the Common Council.

PENAL INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

The annual report of the Penal Institutions Department for the year ending January 31, 1899, constituting Document 26, 1899, has recently been issued. It may be summarized briefly as follows:

The rules adopted last year for the government of the institutions of the Department have been found to work well in practice.

On January 1, 1898, the new laws relating to prison labor went into effect, which resulted in a complete lapse of work at both the Deer Island and South Boston institutions. At the present time, however, the men are fairly well employed. It would be gratifying to have the men taken from sewing machines and given work more suitable to their physique.

It is desired to establish a system of pensions in the Department, in order to provide for the retirement of some of the faithful servants of the county that have arrived at an age where it is no longer proper that they should be retained in charge of the class of people that are in our institutions. It is suggested that the Legislature be petitioned to extend the same privileges that prevail in the Police and Fire Departments.

There has been a decided decrease in the population at the Deer Island House of Correction. Various causes have contributed to this decrease, among them being changes in method and administration; the cordial relations existing between the Justices of the courts and the Department; the co-operation of the Probation Officer, and the procuring of employment for discharged prisoners.

With regard to treatment of those convicted for drunkenness the establishment of a more equitable scale for terms of imprisonment for non-payment of fine is recommended. Other changes suggested are (1) the release of a person guilty of drunkenness, if not convicted of a like offence once before within the preceding twelve months; (2) a fine of $1 or imprisonment for two days if convicted once before within the preceding twelve months but not within six months of the present conviction; (3) a fine of $10 or ten days' imprisonment if convicted twice before within a year, and not within six months; (4) a fine of $15 or fifteen days' imprisonment if convicted three times within a year and not within three months; if within three months he may be committed to the House of Correction or jail for a term not exceeding six months. In lieu of being released or sentenced as above, the court may place the person upon probation for a term not exceeding five weeks.

One particularly gratifying work of the Department is that of aiding discharged prisoners to re-establish themselves in the world.

The House of Correction at Deer Island has maintained its excellent standing, and the buildings, with the exception of the Women's Prison, are in excellent condition. The library has been increased during the year and the assembly-room for the officers is much appreciated. The cemetery has been completed and will soon be laid out in approved form. During the year the United States Government has established a sub-station of the Boston Post-office.

The institution at South Boston remains in the same excellent condition so far as discipline and cleanliness are concerned and in the same undesirable condition, with regard to the housing of the convicts, that was reported upon last year. The cells are too small and there should be some change made in regard to this institution. Either it should be entirely removed from that location, which is approved, or better buildings should be erected there for the housing of the convicts.

The expenditures of the Department for the year amounted to $348,293.02; the income to $81,114.54.

The average expenditure for actual cost of each inmate for year ending January 31, 1899, was as follows:

	EXPENDITURES.		ACTUAL COST.
	Per Year.	Per Week.	Per Year.	Per Week.
House of Correction, Deer Island . . .	$134 33	$2 58	$93 15	$1 79
House of Correction, South Boston . .	175 69	3 38	145 20	2 79

The following table shows the population for the year ending January 31, 1899:

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Remaining January 31, 1898	1,295	388	1,683
Committed during the year	8,487	1,309	9,796
	9,782	1,697	11,479
Discharged during the year	8,805	1,367	10,172
Remaining January 31, 1899	977	330	1,307

Children of sentenced mothers:

Remaining January 31, 1898	11
Admitted	33
Total	44
Discharged	39
Remaining January 31, 1899	5
Children died during the year	2

The appendix to the report contains the detailed report, of the various officers connected with the institutions, together with statistics of population, crimes, discharges, etc.

Colonel E. M. Weaver, late Instructor in Military Drill, expresses himself as follows in his report to Superintendent Seaver:

"I am clearly of the opinion that the regimental organization as now authorized should be discontinued. There is not time for it, and it tends to breed vanity and love of display at the expense of real soldierly qualities in the individual cadet. The company organization only should be in existence from September first to March first; after March first, each school should have its battalion with major and adjutant for each battalion."

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

A special meeting of the School Committee was held in the School Committee Chamber, Mason-street building, at 12.30 P.M. on May 15, 1899, the President in the chair.

Present: All the members except Messrs. Bateman, Calderwood, Fleischer, McDonald and Strange.

The Chair read the following:

- (1.) OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
City Hall, May 12, 1899.
TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

On behalf of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment I have to acknowledge the receipt of the resolutions passed by your committee on May 9, and I enclose a copy of the vote relating to the matter as passed by the Board of Apportionment. After the passage of this vote, it was further voted that further consideration of the matter be laid upon the table, pending further action by the School Committee.

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY,

Chairman of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

Voted, That the attention of the School Committee be called to the fact that the resolution passed by the said committee on May 9, requesting that the amount of $25,000, remaining from proposed appropriation of $500,000, be appropriated for the "relief" of the Lowell School-house, Ward 22, is inconsistent with the appropriations already made by this Board, on the recommendation of the School Committee, in that it makes no provision for sites for buildings for which $140,000 has been appropriated, and that it is also inconsistent with the communication received by this Board on April 27, 1899, from the Committee on New Buildings, requesting that $10,000 of said amount be appropriated for a site for the proposed new grammar school-house in the Tileston District, Dorchester, and that the remaining $15,000 be appropriated for a site for the proposed new primary building in the Sherwin District, Roxbury.

Laid on the table.

- (2.) STREET COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE.

City Hall, May 11, 1899.

TO THE HONORABLE THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE OF THE CITY OF BOSTON:

In accordance with the request contained in your order of April 25, 1899, the Board of Street Commissioners have to-day taken, for school purposes, 1,781 square feet of land in the rear of Prince street, and their decree of such taking has been this day recorded in the Registry of Deeds. This taking is for an addition to the Hancock School estate.

Respectfully,

J. H. JENKINS, Secretary.

Referred to the Committee on New Buildings.

- (3.) IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

May 8, 1899.

Ordered, That the School Committee be requested to inform this Board, at its next meeting, how many school-rooms are used at present in the Chapman District, and also how many rooms will be available in the school buildings in the district after the completion of the proposed Chapman School. Passed.

A true copy.

Attest:

JOHN T. PRIEST, Assistant City Clerk.

(4.) IN COMMON COUNCIL.

City Hall, May 11, 1899.

Ordered, That the School Committee, through His Honor the Mayor, be requested to adopt a regulation providing that the date for reopening, after the summer vacation, all the high, grammar, primary and kindergarten schools of the City of Boston shall be the first Tuesday after the second Monday of September of each year.

IN COMMON COUNCIL.

May 11, 1899.

Referred to His Honor the Mayor.

DANIEL J. KILEY, President.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, May 12, 1899.

Respectfully referred to the School Committee, by direction of His Honor the Mayor, for such action as is considered proper.

NAT. G. ROBINSON, Secretary.

Referred to the Committee on Rules and Regulations.

(5.) OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, May 11, 1899.

TO THE BOSTON SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

I regret to feel obliged to return herewith without my approval the order authorizing the Committee on New Buildings to execute a contract with Lynch & Woodward in the sum of $19,700 for furnishing and installing a heating and ventilating system in the East Boston High School. I find that the original advertisement, under which bids for this work were invited, referred only to plans and specifications prepared by the architect, but that the form of proposal furnished bidders had appended to it a statement authorizing the bidder to furnish, in place of the architect's specifications, "such other specifications and plans as will furnish the heating and ventilation required." Under this clause, nine contractors presented their own plans and specifications, with bids ranging from $14,347 to $20,300, while four bidders made their bids, ranging from $20,000 to $28,975, on the architect's plans and specifications. The contract presented to me for approval is with Lynch & Woodward, upon their bid of $19,700 upon plans and specifications prepared at their order.

It is perfectly obvious that there can be no real competition between contractors whose bids are based upon different sets of plans and specifications, and, as the committee undertook to have competition by advertising for bids, I assume there can be no reason for awarding this contract otherwise than upon a competitive basis. I have no fault to find with the plans and specifications upon which the contract was awarded by the committee, and I am advised by the Consulting Architect that they are entirely satisfactory; but it seems to me that it would establish an unfortunate and embarrassing precedent if I approved the award of a contract where competition was in form invited, through advertisements for bids, but was in fact made impossible through allowing bidders to furnish their own plans and specifications. I can see no reason why satisfactory plans and specifications could not have been prepared in this case upon the order of the committee, so that all bidders could have been placed upon a footing of equality by compelling them all to bid upon the same basis.

I regret to delay this work through withholding my approval from the enclosed contract, but it seems to me that the principle involved is too important to make it proper for me to take any other course.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

IN SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

April 11, 1899.

Ordered, That the Committee on New Buildings be, and they hereby are, authorized to execute a contract with Lynch & Woodward in the sum of $19,700 for furnishing and installing a heating and ventilating system in the East Boston High School-house.

For the Committee on New Buildings,

E. I. ALDRICH, Chairman.

Laid over, under the rule.

April 25, 1899. Passed.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Appointments by the Mayor.

Laid over, under the law.

The following messages were received from His Honor the Mayor:

Engine-house, Warren Avenue.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, May 22, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith an order passed this day by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment appropriating the sum received for the taking of the engine-house on Dartmouth street, amounting to $55,000, for the purchase of land and the erection thereon of a new engine-house in substitution therefor, the site designated in the order being the parcel of land on Warren avenue adjoining the English High and Latin school building on the north-east side, and containing about 7,500 square feet.

The selection of this location is the result of careful and long-continued consideration by the members of the Board of Apportionment of the difficult question of securing a site at any moderate price. The following parcels of land were suggested by the Fire Commissioner and considered by the members of the Board:

LOCATION.	Size, Square feet.	Estimated Cost.
Church, corner of Dartmouth and Harwich streets . . .	4,465	$75,000
Estate, corner of Buckingham and Dartmouth streets . .	3,825	56,000
Estates, 1 and 3 Yarmouth streets	3,640	23,000
Two adjoining estates, north side of Dartmouth street, about midway between the railroad and Columbus avenue	3,600	50,000
Two adjoining estates, south side of Dartmouth street, about midway between the railroad and Columbus avenue	4,200	56,000
Two adjoining estates, further along on same side of Dartmouth street	4,200	59,000

From this list it appears that the parcel of land designated in the order is much cheaper in price and much larger in area than any other considered, with the exception of the estate on Yarmouth street, which a majority of the Board did not consider a suitable site. The Board has secured for the city an option, running for forty days, to purchase the lot designated in the order for the sum of $37,000, making a price of a little less than five dollars a foot. While it was recognized that a site nearer the present one would have been desirable, it seemed impossible to secure one within the limits of price which the Board felt should be fixed. As an engine-house costs about $25,000 to build, it will probably require an additional appropriation of about $7,000, even with this site, to provide for the building of a new engine-house. The lot selected is certainly very desirable in respect to size, and on account of having a twelve-foot private way in the rear.

As the engine company formerly occupying the Dartmouth-street engine-house is now without any quarters in the district which it formerly covered, being temporarily provided for in the Fire Department headquarters on Bristol street, the importance of settling the question of the new site and providing for the erection of a new engine-house at the earliest possible moment need not be dwelt upon.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

IN BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

May 22, 1899.

Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner be authorized to expend for the purchase of the land on Warren avenue, adjoining the English High and Latin School building on the north-east side, containing about seven thousand five hundred (7,500) feet, and the erection of an engine-house thereon, the amount of fifty-five thousand (55,000) dollars received by the city for the engine-house on Dartmouth street, formerly used by Engine 22, which amount is hereby appropriated for said purpose.

Passed, and we certify that the said appropriation is not to meet a current expense.

Removal of Telegraph Poles.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, May 22, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Commissioner of Wires, enclosing a letter addressed to him by the Superintendent of the Postal Telegraph Cable Company, and in connection therewith I recommend the passage of the accompanying orders.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER OF WIRES.

Old Court House, May 22, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: I inclose you herewith a copy of a letter sent me by the Postal Telegraph Company, the contents of which I fully concur with. I also enclose you two orders which will carry out the intent of the request. Will you kindly transmit the same to the Board of Aldermen?

Respectfully yours,

THOMAS W. FLOOD,

Commissioner of Wires.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH CABLE COMPANY.

Boston, March 9, 1899.

THOMAS W. FLOOD, Esq., Commissioner of Wires.

DEAR SIR: Please see order granting pole locations to this company, dated October 12, 1891. The third paragraph of that order provides that the New England Printing Telegraph Company of Massachusetts shall have right of way during the continuance of the grant to place cross arms upon said poles. I would like to have this permit to the Printing Company revoked for the reason that they have not paid any proportion of the expense for maintaining the line during the last three years. They are not operating any wires in the City of Boston, and to the best of my knowledge have gone out of existence. If this can be arranged we want to cut off our poles between the Congress street bridge and Edward Everett square, so they will be about forty feet in length, and to place thereon two aërial cables doing away with all separate wires. This will very much improve the appearance of the street along the route. But we do not care to go to the expense of putting up cables unless the poles can be cut down as stated above.

Along Dorchester avenue from the Old Colony Railroad crossing to Swett street there are two lines of poles along the same side of the street. The American Telephone and Telegraph Company own one line and this company the other. The telephone company want to cut down their poles and offer us permanent right of way on their line, for cables only, if we will remove our poles between the points named. I do not care to do this, however, excepting on an order from the Board of Aldermen. If such an order can be passed the poles will be removed at once. Will you take such steps as you may think proper?

Yours truly,

H. J. PETTINGILL, Superintendent.

Ordered, That the conditions embodied in the order of the Board of Aldermen, under date of October 12, 1891, giving to the New England Printing Telegraph Company of Massachusetts the right during the continuance of said grant, to use three cross arms upon all poles located and placed by the Postal Telegraph Cable Company, under this grant, be and is hereby revoked.

Ordered, That permission is hereby granted the Postal Telegraph Cable Company to remove all poles belonging to said company, located on Dorchester avenue between Swett and B streets.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Veto—Removal of Pole.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, May 19, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my signature an order directing the Boston Electric Light Company to remove a pole belonging to said company, located at the corner of Dudley street and Washington street, for the reason that it would be impossible for the company to remove this pole without erecting another one in the immediate vicinity to take its place, which this order does not order the company to do, and for the additional reason that the Commissioner of Wires reports that in his opinion the pole now occupies the best possible position, and that the public will be best served by allowing it to remain where it is.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR WORK ON HIGHWAYS.

Following is the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of McHugh vs. City of Boston, brought to recover money from the city for work done in the employ of a contractor in the construction of a highway:

HAMMOND, J. The plaintiff was hired by a person having a contract with the defendant for the construction of Lonsdale street, a public highway duly laid out in the defendant city, and, not having been paid for his work, brings this action, relying upon St. 1892, c. 270. He seasonably filed the required certificate, and the main question is whether a claim for work done in the construction of a highway is within the first section of the Statute.

The section provides that "a person to whom a debt is due for labor performed in constructing any building, sewer, drain, water-works or other public works owned by a city or town under a contract with any person other than such city or town . . . shall have a right of action against such city or town to recover such debt with costs."

The plaintiff contends that a highway or street is included in the phrase "other public works" and that it may be said to be "owned" by the city or town.

The first idea which occurs to one in considering this contention is that if the Legislature meant to include public ways, it is strange they did not expressly say so. In a general sense it may be said that there is no more prominent item in the public charges than that concerning the construction and repair of public ways, and no town is free from the burden. It seems highly improbable that a statute which was intended to apply to such a permanent and universal object of expense as the public ways should fail distinctly to name them, especially when it names sewers and drains, which are by no means so general, and are comparatively unimportant.

Again in no proper sense can the public ways be said to be owned by the town. The town-house, engine-house, sewers, drains and water-works may be, and generally are, the private property of the town. They are constructed for the use of the inhabitants, and the ownership is in the town in its corporate capacity.

But there is no such ownership in the highways. The town does not become by virtue of the laying out the owner either of the fee or the easement.

In Andover vs. Sutton, 12 Met. 182, which was an action upon the case to recover expenses paid by the plaintiffs in repairing a highway which had been rendered defective by the flow of water caused by the dam of the defendants, who were mill-owners, one of the questions was whether the town was the owner of the way; and in discussing that matter, Hubbard, J., used the following language: "In this case at the bar, the plaintiffs are not the owners of the land over which the road in question passes, nor are they as a corporation the owners of an easement. It is a public highway in which every citizen has an easement, and no one to the exclusion of another. The town in the distribution of the public burdens is bound to maintain that portion of the highway which is within its territorial limits, but in its corporate capacity it neither owns the soil nor the easement. It has no private rights which are protected by the statute [giving remedy to land-owners] or are within its purview or intent."

The action, however, was maintained, because the town had sustained a damage in being compelled to repair the defect caused in the road by the act of the defendants in raising their dam and overflowing the road. To the extent of its liability to repair, the town may in a sense be said to be interested in a road, and in the case of a bridge that interest might be an insurable interest. And in many cases the town may for its own protection in this respect bring suits to prevent an injury to a way. But its right thus to interfere for the protection of the way rests upon its obligation to keep the same in repair and in no sense upon any claim of ownership. Springfield vs. Connecticut River Railroad, 4 Cush. 63-67. In a certain sense, also, a town may be said to have an actual or constructive possession of a bridge or way, or a qualified interest therein sufficient for the purposes of Pub. Stats. c. 214, § 14, Commonwealth vs. Fitzgerald, 164 Mass. 587. But whatever may be the decisions in other states, it is plain that in this state the phrase, "owned by the town," in its ordinary acceptance, in no proper sense describes the relation which the town bears to its public ways. Cheshire vs. Adams and Cheshire Reservoir, 119 Mass. 356, and cases cited.

Judgment affirmed.

Wire Department.

Old Court House, May 1, 1899.

The following is a summary statement of the work performed by this Department for the week ending April 29, 1899:

OVERHEAD AND DEAD WIRE DIVISIONS.

Inspections made	376
Defects reported	72
Defects corrected	36
Notices of new work received	41
Feet of dead wire removed	11,900
Poles set	6
Fixtures removed	11

The Department employees responded to a second alarm of fire from Box 51, April 29, at 141 High street; to a second alarm of fire at 2.25 P.M., April 30, fire in engine-room of J. F. Carew on Gerard street; and to a third alarm of fire on April 30, from Box 116, at 240-260 Dover street.

INTERIOR DIVISION.

Inspections made 219
Notices of new work received 112

Inspections have been made of temporary wiring at various theatres, and in two instances changes were found necessary in the interests of safety.

Investigation was made of a slight fire at 91 Friend street, which occurred April 25, 1899. The fire was due to an arc being established between the wires of a motor circuit which were wood cleated in cellar to wet overhead floor beams.

Investigation was also made of a fire at 1031-1033 Washington street, which took place April 29, 1899, which was reported as probably due to electricity. Investigation proved that there was no evidence to substantiate this theory.

UNDERGROUND DIVISION.

Electrical approvals have been granted as follows:

Conduit construction	4
Building connections	14
Repairs	2

Inspections have been made as follows:

Building connections	13
Conduit construction	46
Lamp connections	1
Pole connections	1
Repairs	9
Cable drawings	14

An investigation was made of a burn-out of Boston Electric Light Company in cable boxing on side of station near Gilbert place and Summer-street extension, for which an alarm of fire was rung in from Box 48 at 7.50 P.M., April 24.

The trouble was caused by the grounding of a city arc lighting circuit at this point, an arc being found between copper conductor and lead sheath of cable, current passing to adjoining cables, starting a series of burn-outs as a result of which eighteen arc light cables were damaged.

The work of repairing was begun at 9 P.M. and at 11 o'clock all circuits were in operation, with the exception of city arc lighting circuit in the Fort Hill district, which remained out all night.

One-half of the above area will require cleaning and grubbing. In addition to the soil excavation there will be 85,000 cubic yards of earth and gravel excavation required for the completion of this portion of the dyke. The whole work is to be completed on or before December 1, 1902. A $10,000 check must accompany the proposal. Bonds in the total sum of $300,000, with surety companies as surety, not more than $100,000 to be furnished by any one company, will be required for the faithful performance of the contract. The work has already been staked out, and plans may now be seen at the offices of the Board in Boston and Clinton. Pamphlets containing further information for bidders, forms of proposal, contract and specifications and plans will be ready about May 25, and will be mailed to contractors who apply to the Chief Engineer, and may be obtained at his office, 3 Mt. Vernon street, and may also be obtained at the Clinton office.

PAYMENT FOR LAND DAMAGES.

Following is the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Oscar B. Mowry et al. vs. City of Boston regarding the proper payment for land damages:

KNOWLTON, J. The only question in this case is whether the damages for the taking of the petitioners' land are to be assessed at the value of it at the time of the passage of the act which required the taking as a part of the scheme of improvement which included the construction of the Union Station for passengers on railroads entering the southerly part of the City of Boston, or at its market value when it was formally taken nearly a year afterwards, when the price of land in the vicinity had increased by reason of the expected improvement, of which the taking of this land was a part. The answer to the question is found in the fact that the taking was an inseparable part of the improvement, out of which the expected increase in value was to come and on account of which there was a general increase in the market price of real estate in the vicinity.

Section 11 of the Statute referred to (St. 1896, c. 516) directed the Street Commissioners to extend Summer street "at least 100 feet in width from Purchase street to the Harbor Commissioners' line." The contemplated improvement, which increased the market price of land, could not be carried out under the statutes without this extension for which the petitioners' land was taken. By the Public Statutes, Chapter 51, Section 3 "the damages for land taken shall be fixed at the value thereof before the taking." This section has been decided to be constitutional and its meaning as applied to cases where the market price of land is increased before the actual taking, by reason of an expected improvement which involves the taking, has been considered in several cases. Dorgan vs. Boston, 12 Allen, 223; Benton vs. Brookline, 151 Mass. 250; May vs. Boston, 158 Mass. 21; Bowditch vs. Boston, 164 Mass. 107; Teele vs. Boston, 165 Mass. 88.

The doctrine of these cases is stated by the counsel for the present petitioners in their brief in these words: "The owner of land taken for public use cannot recover therefor an enhanced value which it has acquired merely by reason of the taking, or as the result of the improvement which the taking of that particular land for the specific purposes for which it is taken contemplates, for, from the very nature of things, its appropriation is a condition precedent to the existence of improvement, and it cannot share in the effect of a change to create which it must be used." The reason of this rule was considered in May vs. Boston, ubi supra. The rule is applicable to the present case, for the statute under which the land was taken provided distinctly what should be done, and the improvement which caused the rise in the price of real estate could not be carried out without taking this land. The fact that the actual taking did not occur until nearly a year after the statute was passed and the particular improvement determined upon is immaterial, for the determination to make the improvement and to take this land was the foundation on which the increase in prices rested.

Judgment on the order.

FREE MUNICIPAL LECTURES IN 1899.

The report of the Advisory Committee on Free Municipal Lectures, which was appointed by His Honor the Mayor on December 5, 1898, has recently been printed as City Document 93, 1899. As finally made up the committee consisted of:

John G. Blake, M.D., for many years a member of the School Committee; William I. Cole, of the South End House; Rabbi Charles Fleischer, of the School Committee; Joseph Lee, Chairman; David F. Lincoln, M. D.; Francis A. Morse, Principal of the Sherwin School; John O. Norris, Head Master of the Charlestown High School; Herbert Putnam, Librarian of the Public Library; Mrs. Robert A. Ware, Secretary; Miss Dora Williams, of the Denison House, and a teacher in the Boston Normal School.

In effect the Committee continued the policy inaugurated by the Twentieth Century Club in the winter of 1898, when thirty-six free lectures were given, with the consent of the School Committee, at six public school-houses by twenty-seven lecturers. In its main features the lecture scheme was modelled upon the annual courses of free lectures which have been provided by the School Board of New York City since 1889.

During the period January 12 to April 18, 1899, eighty-six evening lectures were given under the auspices of the Committee by forty different lecturers, at a total cost of $2,596.99 — $403 less than the sum appropriated for the lectures. The "Central" course was given in Bates Hall, in the Old Public Library building. This course, which was opened January 12, and closed on March 21, comprised twelve lectures — or four lectures on each of the following subjects: "Imperialism," "Boston," "Social and Industrial Topics." The total attendance in the Central lectures was 5,580, an average of 465 per lecture.

The interest shown in these courses was great from the outset, hundreds being turned away from the first four lectures for want of room.

Local courses were also established at nine other points at which lectures were given as follows: East Boston, Lyman School, eight lectures; Charlestown, High School, eight; North End, Hancock School, seven; West End, Bowdoin School, eight; South End ward-room, Old Franklin-School building, eight; Roxbury, Sherwin School, ten; South Boston, Shurtleff School, nine; Dorchester, ward-room at Meeting House Hill, eight; Jamaica Plain, Lowell School, eight. The free use of the school halls was given by the School Committee. The local courses extended from February 2 till April 18.

The lectures embraced the following topics:

Sociology and industry, sixteen; municipal life, thirteen; political science, six; hygiene (besides six under topic two), one; nature study, four; art and music, five; history and biography, thirteen; literature, three; travel and geography, twenty-five — total, eighty-six.

The educative purpose was held clearly in view, although it was not thought best at the outset to emphasize the didactic tone, or to group lectures in subjects except in the case of the "Central" courses. The element of attraction is indispensable; and rather more than one-half of the lectures were illustrated by means of the stereopticon. The Central courses have been marked by a distinct educational aim in the direction of public affairs. If any one idea can be said to have been given special prominence, it has been that of municipal improvement.

There has been a wide range of literary quality in the lectures, but experience shows that the importance of this quality is secondary to that of the human element. Good writing is not sufficient. Efforts have been made to secure for the courses a number of men and women of eminent reputation, and on the whole, this effort has been rewarded by public appreciation.

The character of the audiences has quite met the anticipations of the Committee. They have shown an attentiveness and good-breeding, a respect for place and occasion, is a most cheering testimony of popular appreciation of the undertaking, of equal value with the evidence of numbers.

The age of admission was fixed at eighteen, which agrees with the New York practice. That the graduating class of a grammar school should have admission to a free lecture given in their own hall, seems at first sight a reasonable demand. Experiments were made along this line in the courses given last year by the Twentieth Century Club, but the results were unsatisfactory. The experience of the past season has not warranted the Committee in abandoning the age limit. Personal observation has convinced them that the majority of lecturers are either not prepared for, or are not suited to an audience of children, and that the Municipal Lectures ought to be understood as lectures for adults.

The variation in the size of the audiences has been very great; the Central courses began with an attendance of about 1,000, the smallest being 150. The numbers at the local courses ranged from thirty-two to five hundred and twenty-five. In the former case there was a falling away after the first lectures; in the latter there was a great but irregular increase. In some localities the lecture is now so popularized that large audiences are attracted by the intrinsic merit of the subject or speaker; it may be said that the habit of going has begun to be established.

The total attendance at all lectures was 18,200, averaging 212; divided between Central courses, 5,580, with an average of 465, and local courses, 12,620, with an average of 170.

The effect produced upon attendance by stereopticon illustrations was very small (7 per cent. increase) in the local courses as a whole.

A series of averages was made, representing the rate of increase in attendance at the local lectures given in February and March. It would appear that there was an increase of thirty-four per cent. in average attendance during two months.

The report contains detailed statements concerning (1) the attendance at the various centers; (2) the names of the lecturers, and the dates and subjects of these lectures; and (3) of the expenditures made by the Committee.

REPORT OF THE HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

The report of the Hospital Department for the year 1898 constitutes Document 15, 1899. The report, which numbers 192 pages, comprises (1) the report of the Trustees signed by their President, Mr. A. Shuman; (2) the report of the Superintendent and Resident Physician, Dr. Rowe; (3) an extensive series of statistical tables relating to the medical and surgical service of the several branches of the Department, viz., the Hospital proper, the South Department, for cases of infectious diseases, the Out-Patient Departments, and the Convalescent Home; (4) a statement concerning bequests and trust funds; (5) rules for the administration of the Hospital and the Convalescent Home, and (6) a description of the course of instruction in the Boston City Hospital Training School for Nurses together with a catalogue of the graduates of the school.

Following is a condensed summary of certain leading features of the report:

The total number of beds, 828, an increase of sixty over 1897, were distributed as follows: In the Hospital proper 554, in the South Department 240, in the Convalescent Home thirty-four.

The following table shows certain general facts regarding the population of the Hospital during the year:

	Hospital Proper.	South Department.	Convalescent Home.	Totals.
No. of inmates in Hospital Jan. 31, 1898	488	455	29	672
Applied for admission	11,492	2,197	—	13,689
Admitted	8,231	1,620	390	10,241
Treated during the year	8,719	1,775	419	10,913
Daily average of patients,	482	145	23	650
No. of days of treatment	175,917	52,918	8,552	237,387
Average stay, in days	20.1	29	20	—
Discharged	7,249	1,367	393	9,009
Died	958	150	—	1,108
Remaining Jan. 31, 1899	512	258	26	672

In addition to the cases treated in the Hospital wards, 2,640 patients visited the Hospital for advice and treatment in the Out-Patient Department, who were classified as follows:

Medical diseases	3,665
Surgical diseases	9,755
Diseases of the eye	2,052
Diseases of the ear	850
Diseases of the skin	1,151
Diseases of women	644
Diseases of the nervous system	609
Diseases of the throat	1,295
Surgical out-patients treated in the accident-rooms, and not included elsewhere	2,619

The patients admitted to the wards of the Hospital during the year were classified as follows:

Medical service	3,926
Surgical service	3,494
Gynecological service	558
Ophthalmic service	107
Aural service	146
Total	8,231

The entire amount expended for all departments of the Hospital during the year, was $387,527. Of this amount, $281,387 was on account of the Hospital proper; $71,687 on account of the South Department; $7,856 on account of the eight Out Patient Departments; $6,679 for the Convalescent Home; $2,149 on account of determining the settlement of paying patients; $10,111 on account of new buildings, and $7,655 on account of pathological department.

From the amount expended for the Hospital proper ($281,387) should be deducted the difference in the amount of stock on hand February 1, 1899, which was $341 less than was on hand on February 1, 1898, making the total amount chargeable to the expenditures of the year $281,729.

Of the total amount expended, several items were for purposes not within the ordinary yearly maintenance of the patients. Deducting $5,145 for items of expenditure not relating to the ordinary yearly maintenance of patients from the total expenditures of the Hospital proper, leaves $276,583, properly chargeable to current expenses. This amount, divided among 8,719 patients, for 25,131 weeks' board, gives $11 as the cost to the city of each patient per week, an increase of $1.16 over the corresponding week in 1897. The weekly cost of each patient at the Convalescent Home has been $5.47, a decrease of 80 cents per week per patient. The cost per patient per week in the South Department was $9.48.

The Trustees have collected and paid into the city treasury in cash the sum of $87,742, this sum having been received principally on account of board of patients.

Work upon the new buildings has progressed during the year as follows: The completion of the Surgical Amphitheatre, Wards N and O, enlargement and alteration of the boiler-house, new laundry building, and the Vose House for nurses.

The death-rate of diphtheria in the Hospital during the present year was 12.8 per cent., as compared with 13 per cent. for the previous year. If the moribund cases, where death occurred within twenty-four hours of admission, are eliminated, the percentage of mortality would be about 9 per cent. It is a significant fact that during the calendar year of 1894, before the South Department was opened, 18.03 of every 10,000 persons died from diphtheria in Boston; that in 1895, the latter part of which year the South Department was opened, the rate fell to 11.73 per 10,000; that in 1896 the ratio was 9.80; that in 1897 the rate was 7.77, and that in 1898 the ratio was 3.15 a lower rate than it has ever existed since diphtheria was recognized as a disease.

It is also worthy of note that during 1898, 51 per cent. of all cases of diphtheria occurring in Boston were treated at the Hospital, a condition that has never before existed in Boston. Without giving the percentage of cases treated in the Hospital in the previous years, it is sufficient to say that a diminution in the ratio of deaths from diphtheria bears a direct relation to the increase in the percentage of cases receiving hospital treatment. Previous to 1895, for a period of sixteen years, the average death-rate of diphtheria in this city was 30.7; since 1895 to 1898, inclusive, the average rate has been 12.27. It is evident, therefore, that an isolation Hospital not only reduces the actual number of deaths, but also that it diminishes the frequency of the disease.

In the last week in August, the Trustees were called upon to receive large numbers of soldiers. In this exigency, one vacant ward, which was in the course of repairs, was put in commission, and one female ward was vacated and equipped. A large outfit of tents was organized in five days' time, with accommodations for 160 patients.

The tent service was complete in itself.

With the co-operation of other city departments, twelve wooden election booths were added to the encampment, and on the advent of cold weather the soldiers were transferred to the huts, and were continuously cared for in the camp until Sunday, November 23, when it was overwhelmed by the famous blizzard. There were received in all 602 soldiers. The equipment of the camp at its beginning exceeded $4,000. The additional cost to the city, on account of the treatment of sick soldiers, was not far from $18,000.

The Trustees recently received another munificent donation. Mr. A. F. Estabrook and Mr. C. H. Watson, trustees under the will of the late Thomas T. Wyman, have paid to the Hospital as residuary legatee, the sum of $65,000. The total amount of trust funds now belonging to the Hospital is $115,500.

REPORT OF STATISTICS DEPARTMENT.

The second annual report of the Statistics Department constitutes City Document No. 34, 1899, from which the following extracts are taken:

In our Special Publications, No. 1, we presented to the public a classified exhibit of the ordinary expenses of the city. This showed (1) the ordinary expenses in their relation to the total expenses of the city; (2) the several items of ordinary expenses in their relation to the total ordinary expenditure; and (3) the expenses of each department in a series of comparative tables covering a five-year period. The last showed not only the actual expenditures of the departments, but the estimated expenditures on which the appropriations were based, and the difference between appropriation and actual expenditure which resulted in leaving a balance on hand at the end of the year or in making an increase of the appropriation necessary.

Later in the year we issued Special Publications, No. 2, containing an account of the ordinary revenue of the city. This contained (1) a general statement showing the relation between the ordinary revenue and the whole revenue of the city in each of the five years, and (2) an analysis of the ordinary revenue for each year, showing how much of it was derived from taxes, and how much from licenses, fees, rents and other sources. The detail tables show in a comparative form, for a period of five years, the history of each particular class of the city's income. The tables of income from taxation, show not only the general taxes, but all special taxes, with references to the statutes under which they are collected, the amount of abatements and the amount and promptness of collections. It is creditable to the departments that the amount of the abatements is so small, and creditable both to the Collector and to the citizens that taxes are paid with such promptness and regularity.

These publications are a necessary groundwork for further study. It is our intention that they shall be issued annually, showing always the receipts and expenditures for the five years preceding their publication. Such a reprint, showing the ordinary receipts and expenditures of the city for the five-year period ending with and including the year 1897-98, is now in the hands of the printer.

It is especially desirable, in view of the question as to whether the city is borrowing money for purposes which it would be more prudent to provide for out of taxation, that a careful comparative statement of the extraordinary receipts and expenditures of the city should be compiled and published. The Department has, therefore, worked steadily to that end, and has in view the publication of a statement, showing the extraordinary income of the city from the sale of bonds, from the sale of its real estate, water-works and other assets, and from sundry items incidental to the carrying on of such undertakings as are provided for by loan; and, on the side of expenditures, showing not only those permanent improvements which are provided for by loan, but also such as are provided for out of taxation, under the head of special appropriations, and outside of the ordinary work of the departments.

Two years' experience with the published accounts of the city has now given our office force a training which enables them to deal intelligently with those accounts and to unravel their mysterious difficulties. They know that to ascertain the cost of any particular street, which may have amounted to only $25,000, it is necessary to analyze and balance out (1) the appropriations for "Blue Hill and Other Avenues," and for the "Laying out and Construction of Highways," each involving several millions of dollars; (2) the appropriations for street improvements by wards; (3) the appropriations for street improvements by aldermanic districts; (4) any special appropriations for this particular street (bearing in mind that the name may have been changed during the progress of the work; (5) the appropriations for the Sewer Department under various acts; and (6) the general maintenance appropriations of the Street Department. It is then necessary (7) to ascertain the cost of the street, as determined by the Street Commissioners, in order to find out what proportion of the cost has been charged to the abutters, and the final result is the cost of the street to the city.

As frequently a street is not constructed until some time after it is laid out by the Street Commissioners, and as the period of construction often extends over more than one year, it is not sufficient to examine all these accounts for one year, but they must be examined for a series of years. All this would take an ordinary citizen about six months, provided he knows how to go at it. The Department proposes to do this work for him, so that by turning to an alphabetical list he can ascertain immediately the whole history of any street on which any work has been done within the past five years. Moreover, this publication will include a convenient summary of results, showing the general purposes for which the city has borrowed money during the period.

It was partly for the purposes outlined in the foregoing paragraph, and partly for the purpose of ascertaining what proportion of the extraordinary expenditures of the city had been met by taxation and what proportion by loan in various years, that the Department began an examination of the accounts of the city from 1822 (the date of the city charter) to the present time.

The preliminaries of this work have been completed, and the Department now has in its possession five volumes of ledgers, and a volume of trial balances taken off every five years, which together exhibit the expenditures of the city for permanent improvements during a period of seventy-six years. A reference to the ledger shows immediately the amount that has been expended upon any particular piece of property, or for any particular piece of work.

The trial balances show, in summary form, the amount which has been expended by the city in every period of five years, under a dozen general headings such as streets, bridges, parks, school-houses, etc. These volumes, even in their present condition, are of value. They furnish a satisfactory basis for a scientific study of municipal expenditures, and they are serviceable to the members of the city government who may wish information in regard to any particular piece of property.

The work which has been done in this direction, however, is not sufficient to warrant publication as yet. So far, however, as relates to the last five years, our study of the material is already well under way, and we expect to publish it during the coming year.

The Department hopes to be able to publish next year a volume which shall contain a complete analysis of all the receipts and expenditures of the city which passed through the hands of the Auditor; and also to present a complete financial history of the city, for a period of five years, in a form which can be annually brought down to date and republished. The Department will then be in a position to use these tables for comparative work, and for a detailed examination of the expenses of the departments and of their relation to the work accomplished. Our experience has demonstrated that about three years of preparatory work are necessary in order to make possible an intelligent and scientific study in detail of the finances of the city.

We referred in our last report to the desirability of securing more complete maps of the city, and more accurate and carefully arranged statistics as to areas, so as to show the extent to which municipal equipment in any given district, has already progressed or must be provided in the future; and in order to show in greater detail the cost of maintaining the streets, the density of population in relation to the accessibility of parks, playgrounds, schools, etc., and other similar facts. It did not seem desirable to attempt a compilation of details until the foundations of the work had been properly laid. The Street Commissioners have expressed a willingness to do such preliminary work during the coming summer as may be necessary to enable us to proceed. We have, however, contributed from our appropriation the sum of $615 toward the preparation of a map of the city proper under the direction of the City Engineer.

We also referred to the desirability of publishing a monthly bulletin, containing, in statistical form, the most recent information regarding the affairs of the city. Such a monthly bulletin would furnish a convenient basis for an annual compilation of statistics. Pressure of other work has prevented our carrying this plan into execution, but the work of gathering material for the coming year has already begun, and it is hoped that we may soon be in a position to issue a modest publication of this sort.

"THE CITY RECORD," the official gazette of the City of Boston, has been published weekly during the year, and an index of its contents has been carefully compiled.

The publication of the "Municipal Register" was this year intrusted to this Department. It was late in the year before it was known that we were to undertake the work, and as numerous errors were found in the text of the previous editions, it was necessary to carefully examine and revise the whole material. For these reasons, and owing to some delay in printing, the volume was not published until late in the year. Much less labor will be involved in the preparation of this year's edition.

In addition to the foregoing work the Department has been asked upon several occasions to furnish information to His Honor the Mayor or to heads of departments concerning special subjects.

One of the duties of this Department is to facilitate the distribution of the public documents of the city among libraries and the executive departments of other cities, and to secure city government and department reports and publications in return. Our collection of general and special reports and of statistical publications is constantly growing in size and value, and already contains much material which is not contained in other libraries.

During the year 335 persons or institutions have received one or more of our publications (exclusive of their regular distribution among the departments of the city); and there are included in the foregoing statement eighty-one cities and forty-four statistical offices. We have forwarded to our correspondents, through the Smithsonian Institution, 156 packages, including seventy-eight sets of executive documents for the year 1897.

Appended to the report are (1) a financial statement of the expenditures charged to the appropriations for the Department and THE CITY RECORD; (2) detailed analysis of the cost of publishing THE CITY RECORD; and (3) transcript of the ordinances relating to the Department.

HIGH AND LATIN SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS.

The usual examinations for admission to the High and Latin schools will be held this year, the first in June and the second in September. The first examination for admission to the High schools will be held on Friday and Saturday, June 9 and 10, at 9 A.M. in the several High school-houses. The subjects of examination will be English language, including reading, writing, spelling, grammar and composition; history and civil government of the United States, geography, arithmetic and book-keeping by single entry. The first examination for admission to the Latin schools will be held on Saturday, June 10, at 9 A.M. Boys will be examined at the Latin school on Warren avenue, and girls at the High and Latin school on West Newton street. The requirements for admission are equivalent to those for entrance to the seventh grade, i.e., to the regular fourth year class of the grammar schools. Applicants for admission to a High or Latin school must each bring to the examination a certificate of good moral character from the principal of the school last attended, and, if they have not been members of a Boston public school, a certificate of vaccination from a physician.

REGULATIONS CONCERNING PEDLERS.

Superintendent Wells of the Street Department, recently issued the following in regard to the new regulation concerning pedlers:

After careful and thorough investigation of various complaints received regarding certain pedlers, and under authority vested in the Superintendent of Streets by Sections 35 and 88 of Chapter 47 of the Revised Ordinances of 1898, a complete system of registration has been inaugurated at the permit office, 28 Court square. Under this system, every pedler engaged in selling in the public streets of Boston will be registered, and furnished a number by the Department. These numbers will be of such size and style as to be easily read, and will be placed on the right-hand side of the wagons and in a conspicuous position on push-carts and receptacles. Citizens of Boston will be given the even numbers, and non-residents and persons who are not citizens, the odd ones. By this arrangement it will be possible at a glance to determine whether or not a pedler is a citizen of Boston.

By the system of registration, the residence of each pedler will be obtained, and his signature will also be required, so that it will be available as a means of identification at any time.

It is expected that the careful registration and numbering of these pedlers, thus compelling them to obtain the proper license, will result in a very considerable increase in the amount paid into the city treasury. While the honest pedler will not suffer from these regulations, they will operate as a check upon those who are dishonest, and their customers—who are found to a large extent among the poorer classes—may be expected to benefit thereby.

As it will now be possible to identify any pedler throwing or scattering refuse in the street, it is hoped that, with the co-operation of the public in reporting such violations of law, the new system will cause a marked improvement in the cleanliness of the streets in the sections frequented by this class of dealers, and will remove just cause of complaint which may have existed on the part of shopkeepers or residents in such localities.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR SCHOOL BOARDS.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 18, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATION, Boston,
Mass.:

GENTLEMEN: The members of your honorable body, or such delegates as you may elect, are cordially invited to attend the meeting of the School Administration Department of the National Education Association (Fourth Annual Convention of School Boards of the United States) to be held at Los Angeles, Cal., July 13 and 14. The most important topics affecting the management of practical school affairs will be treated, and a general discussion between representatives from all parts of the country will be held.

Reduced hotel rates at Los Angeles have been arranged for. The railroads have granted a rate of one fare for the round trip from all parts of the United States. Delegates will be assigned to quarters upon arrival in Los Angeles.

Where Boards of Education or School Committees cannot attend in a body, it is desirable to send as many delegates as possible.

It is hoped that your Board will take favorable action at an early date. Kindly instruct your Secretary to advise us of your action in this matter.

Yours respectfully,

WILLIAM GEORGE BRUCE,
Secretary.

Convention will be held at Los Angeles, Cal., July 13 and 14, 1899.

Placed on file.

The Superintendent of Schools presented appointments and confirmations for the approval of the Board, certified by him as made in accordance with the Rules and Regulations, as follows:

The appointments of two special assistants, two kindergarten teachers, and two temporary teachers; the reappointments of three teachers; the appointments of two teachers on probation, and the confirmation of three teachers, all of which were laid over under the rule.

Leave of absence was granted to seven teachers.

Mr. Courtney, for the Committee on New Buildings, to whom was referred, May 15, a communication from the Board of Aldermen requesting information with regard to the number of school-rooms used at present in the Chapman District, and also how many rooms will be available in the school buildings in the district after the completion of the proposed Chapman School-house, reported that at the present time twenty-five rooms are occupied for school purposes in this district, of which twenty-three are in buildings owned by the city. On the completion of the new grammar building there will be twenty-two regular school-rooms, not taking into account any disposition that may be made of the two-room wooden building now situated on the Chapman lot. The new building is to contain fourteen rooms, or one more room than the present structure; but the plans are being drawn with a view to a future addition of two rooms, should the necessary funds for the purpose be provided at a later date.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to the Board of Aldermen.

On motion of Mr. Courtney, for the same committee, it was Ordered, That the Committee on New Buildings be authorized to advertise for proposals for selling to the city a lot of land containing about thirty-five thousand (35,000) square feet, for a site for a new normal school-house, within the territory bounded approximately by the Fenway, Boylston, Dartmouth, Washington and Ruggles streets.

Mr. Courtney, for the same committee, offered the following:

Ordered, That Harrison H. Atwood, architect, be selected to prepare plans for the new normal school-house.

After considerable discussion and the presentation of a minority report by Mr. Coolidge, the order was recommitted to the Committee on New Building by the following vote:

Yeas—Messrs. Anderson, Bateman, Berridge, Bowdlear, Brett, Burrill, Coolidge, Mrs. Fifield, Messrs. Fleischer, Gallivan, McDonald, Nichols and Strange—13.

Nays—Messrs. Bennett, Calderwood, Campbell, Courtney, Davison, Huggan, Mrs. Keller, Messrs. Kenny, McDonough and Merritt—10.

Absent—Mr. Aldrich.

Mr. Strange, for the Committee on School-houses, to whom was referred, April 25, a communication from His Honor the Mayor, enclosing a communication from Common Council, asking that suitable fire-escapes be furnished the Franklin School-house, reported that fire-escapes are already provided from the second story of the building, and that a double staircase from the upper stories runs down to that point. Your committee recommend that the Common Council be respectfully informed, through His Honor the Mayor, that no additional fire-escapes are needed for this building at present.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to His Honor the Mayor.

The transfer of Michael J. Crowley, janitor of the Wells School, to the same position in the Franklin School, to date from June 1, 1899, was approved.

Mr. Strange, for the same committee, to whom was referred, April 11, a communication from the Common Council, through His Honor the Mayor, requesting that the School Committee lay out and construct as a park and playground a portion of the yard of the Tileston School, Dorchester District, which is now not used for any purpose, reported that in the opinion of your committee this matter is one that should be considered by the committee in charge, rather than by the Committee on School-houses. They therefore recommend its reference to the Committee on the Ninth Division.

Accepted, and the recommendation of the committee adopted.

It was ordered that the Committee on School-houses, the Committee on New Buildings, and the Committee on Salaries, in joint session, report to this Board a proper salary for the position of School-house Agent.

It was voted that a special committee of five be appointed to make all necessary arrangements for a reception to be tendered Admiral Dewey by the school children of Boston during his visit to this city.

Under a suspension of the rules, it was ordered:

(1.) That the salary due Henry Randolph, deceased, late janitor of the Savin Hill and Wait Schools, be paid to his mother, Sarah Randolph.

(2.) That the graduating exercises of the Normal School be held on Saturday, June 24, 1899.

(3.) That the use of the Hyde and Dwight Schools be granted to Mary M. Kehew for vacation school purposes during the ensuing summer, the same to be without expense to the city.

On motion of Mr. Courtney, the order passed at the meeting of April 25, 1899, authorizing the Committee on New Buildings to execute a contract with Lynch & Woodward, in the sum of $19,700 for furnishing and installing a heating and ventilating system in the East Boston High School-house was rescinded.

It was ordered that the Committee on Rules and Regulations be instructed to report the necessary amendments to the Regulations to provide for the appointment of women sub-masters in girls' schools.

Mr. Calderwood, for the Joint Committee on High Schools and Fourth Division, to whom was referred, May 15, a petition from Rachael Sherman Thorndike et al., asking permission to use for vacation school purposes, during July and August, the Mechanic Arts High and Charles C. Perkins Primary School-houses, reported that the use of the Mechanic Arts High School for such purposes during July and August would seriously interfere with the alteration and addition now in progress, and on which work will be hastened during the summer months. Your committee learn that the use of the Charles C. Perkins School is not desired, unless that of the Mechanic Arts High School is also granted. A hearing has been given the petitioners, who fully understand the situation, and your committee recommend that they be granted leave to withdraw.

Accepted, and the recommendation of the committee adopted.

Ordered, That the use of the King Street School-house be granted to Carleton Hunne-man for a vacation school during the months of July and August; the same to be without expense to the city.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

May 16, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

MY DEAR SIR: In reference to the matter numbered 1281 Tremont street and Prentiss street, owner Henrietta Goldsmith, on her petition as approved by the concurrent action of the City Council, I most respectfully dissent from said report, and recommend to your Honor to withhold your approval, for the following reasons, to wit:

Owing to the location, condition and property contiguous to the same, which, as it now stands, is extremely dangerous, to grant said petition would increase the fire risk very materially, as your Honor will observe by the diagram showing the exact condition of the estate in question.

Yours truly,
JOHN S. DAMRELL, Commissioner.

The vote whereby the permit was granted was reconsidered.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: In regard to the enclosed order "that the Superintendent of Public Grounds be requested through His Honor the Mayor, to provide a flagstaff and flag for Hayes Square, Ward 3, and to cause said flag to be unfurled on Memorial Day, the expense attending the same to be charged to the appropriation for Public Grounds," I beg to say that flags and flagstaffs come under the jurisdiction of the City Messenger, and this Department never had any charge either of their care or erection.

I remain, your obedient servant,

WILLIAM DOOGUE, Superintendent.

Referred to the Committee on City Messenger Department.

Condition of Alleys, Ward 12.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, May 25, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Superintendent of Streets in regard to your order requesting him to "cause the alleyways of Ward 12 to be kept free from accumulation of paper and other debris," etc.

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

STREET DEPARTMENT.

May 23, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: In reply to the inclosed order of the Common Council, I beg to report that only alleys that have been laid out and accepted as public alleys by the Street Commissioners come within the jurisdiction or care of this Department. One advantage of the acceptance of these alleys is that it is possible for the police to enforce the City Ordinances as regards the obstruction of the ways and throwing of waste and litter into the roadway. All public alleys in the city are now being given attention by this Department.

Yours very respectfully,

BENJ. W. WELLS,

Superintendent of Streets.

Placed on file.

I transmit herewith a communication from the School Committee in reference to your order requesting them to furnish suitable fire-escapes for the Franklin School-house, Ward 9.

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Your committee recommend that the Common Council be respectfully informed, through His Honor the Mayor, that no additional fire-escapes are needed for this building at present.

For the Committee,

THOMAS F. STRANGE, Chairman.

Cemetery Department.

A meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Cemetery Department was held at the office of the Trustees in City Hall, on Friday, May 12, 1899, at 3 P. M.

There were present Messrs. Brackett, Morse and Fallon.

A communication from Gen. Francis H. Appleton, representing various patriotic societies, was read, in regard to closing up Copps' Hill Burial-ground to the general public.

The Chairman reported that he had written Gen. Appleton saying that the Department had carefully considered the request, but that it would be against good policy to close the grounds.

Voted, That the action of the Chairman be approved.

"The Trustees of the Public Library at their meeting held on the nineteenth of May, 1899, desire to put upon their records the following tribute to the Hon. Frederick O. Prince:

"Mr. Prince is among the oldest residents of Boston, and has always been a warm admirer and faithful servant of the city of his birth.

"We recall with interest the part he has taken in suggesting and carrying out many of the most marked improvements in this city of these latter years; his felicitous addresses upon so many public occasions, especially at the laying of the corner-stone of this building; and his fidelity in the highest and most honorable offices which Boston has repeatedly bestowed upon him.

"It was most fitting that he should become the President of this Corporation after his activity in arranging for the site of the building, involving careful and complicated dealings with the city and the State; in deciding upon its plans, in watching the whole work of its erection, and the transfer of its treasures from their old home, in all of which his interest was unabated, and his pride justified.

"During the eleven years he has been a member of this Corporation, his attendance at its meetings has been prompt and faithful, his counsel judicious, his gracious and affable manners and spirit always the same.

"We have marked with unfeigned regret his failing strength by which he has been detained from our meetings the past winter, and which at last has compelled his retirement from the Board.

"Our heartfelt sympathy follows him to the confinement of his home, and our earnest wish for the quiet enjoyment of venerable age, without suffering, and with a happy retrospect — which he has earned by an active and helpful life."

The Acting Librarian reported the death of Thomas McFarland of the ordering department, on May 17; and of Frank A. Wall, of the engineer and janitor department, on May 18.

The resignation of Birdsey F. Ives, of the printing department, was received, to take effect May 27. The resignation was accepted.

DEATH OF EX-MAYOR PRINCE.

Hon. Frederick O. Prince, twenty-fourth and twenty-sixth Mayor of Boston, died at his home, 311 Beacon street, on Tuesday, June 6, 1899, in the eighty-second year of his age.

Mr. Prince was born in Boston, January 18, 1818. He was graduated from the Boston Latin School in 1832, and from Harvard University in 1836. In 1840 he was admitted to the Suffolk bar.

While a resident of Winchester, whither he moved from Boston in 1848, Mr. Prince served as a member of the House of Representatives in 1851 and 1852, and as a member of the Senate in 1854. He was a member of the Massachusetts Constitutional Convention in 1853.

Mr. Prince early became associated with the Whig party, and when that party broke up he joined the ranks of the Democratic party, and was a delegate to the Charleston Convention in 1860. When that divided he went with the majority to Baltimore, where he was chosen Secretary of the Democratic National Committee, a position which he continued to hold till 1888, when he resigned.

In 1876 Mr. Prince was nominated by his party for Mayor of Boston, and was elected. The following year he was renominated but was defeated by the late Hon. Henry L. Pierce. In 1878 he was again nominated for Mayor, and was elected; he was returned to the same office for the two years following. Mr. Prince was thus Mayor of Boston during 1877 and again in 1879, 1880 and 1881. As Mayor, Mr. Prince was influential in promoting the expansion of the park system, the improved sewerage works, and in securing the construction of the English High and Latin School building. In 1885, he was nominated for Governor of Massachusetts, but was defeated. In 1896 Mr. Prince ran for Governor as the nominee of the Gold Democrats.

Mr. Prince was appointed a member of the Trustees of the Public Library in 1888, and was reappointed in 1893. When his term of office expired in 1898 he declined a reappointment. From 1895 till the expiration of his term of office he was President of the Board.

The following resolution, offered by Alderman Colby, was unanimously adopted by both branches in concurrence:

Resolved, That the City Council has learned with regret of the death, at an advanced age, of Hon. Frederick O. Prince, an ex-Mayor of this city, and one of its most distinguished and public-spirited citizens. No citizen of Boston has taken a deeper interest in everything that made for the welfare of the city, and his personal traits won for him the affection, as well as the respect, of all who were associated with him. The City Council desires to place upon record its high respect for the character and services of Mr. Prince, and its sense of the loss which the city has sustained by his death.

The following orders were also passed in concurrence:

Ordered, That a committee consisting of the Chairman and four other members of this Board, with such as the Common Council may join, be appointed to represent the city at the funeral of the late Hon. Frederick O. Prince, and that His Honor the Mayor be requested to join with said committee.

In connection with the above Aldermen McDonald, Colby, Brick, Berwin, Councilmen Stevens, Jordan, Emery, Turnbull, Stone, Logan and Cuddy were appointed as the committee.

Ordered, That any expense in connection with the funeral of the late Hon. Frederick O. Prince be charged to the appropriation for City Council incidental expenses.

Ordered, That City Hall be closed during the time set apart for funeral of the late Hon. Frederick O. Prince.

Ordered, That an engrossed copy of the resolutions adopted by the City Council on the death of ex-Mayor Frederick O. Prince be transmitted by the City Clerk to the family of the deceased, and that the expense of the same be charged to the appropriation for City Council, incidental expenses.

The Commissioners first turned their attention to the formation of a band, and the Municipal Band, consisting of thirty-seven pieces, under the directorship of Mr. E. A. Catlin, was organized on May 21, 1898. Fourteen band concerts were given on successive Sunday afternoons, beginning June 19, 1898, on Boston Common; eleven concerts were given at Marine Park, South Boston, on successive Sunday evenings, beginning June 19, 1898; eight concerts were given at various times in the following sections of the city: North End, East Boston, Charlestown, Brighton, Dorchester and Jamaica Plain.

All of these concerts were attended by crowds of unprecedented size, the attendance increasing as the season progressed. Some 6,000 seats were provided for the accommodation of those attending the concerts on the Common.

The Commissioners claim that the performances of the band, both in the music selected and the manner of its rendition, were superior to any given under city auspices in previous years.

A serenade band, consisting of twelve performers on brass instruments, gave a series of concerts on Boston Common, and at Franklin and Wood Island Parks. The Municipal String Quartet was formed in November, 1898, consisting of well-trained musicians, and a series of twenty-two chamber concerts was given by them in various sections of the city. Beginning with a concert on November 15, in Lyceum Hall, East Boston, the quartet, assisted by a vocalist and pianist, were heard weekly in a program selected from the works of the masters in the following sections of the city: Two concerts in East Boston, Charlestown, South Boston, Roxbury, Old Public Library, Jamaica Plain, North End and Brighton, and one concert in Dorchester, Mt. Pleasant, South End ward-room, Warren-street District, Neponset and Boylston Station.

In December, 1898, the School Board kindly voted to allow the use of the school halls for these concerts. This was a great help to the Commission, financially. Fully 15,000 people availed themselves of the privilege afforded by these concerts during the winter.

Realizing the value to the people of orchestral concerts of the lighter classics, the Commissioners wished to give a series of such concerts during the winter charging a nominal fee for admission. Consulting the Corporation Counsel, it was found impossible to give these concerts under the auspices of the Commissioners as city officials, because of the admission fee charged. They, however, found it possible to do so, as individuals, by the personal guarantee of His Honor the Mayor, and by the generous contribution of $500 towards the expenses of the series by Mr. B. F. Keith. The prices of admission ranged from ten to twenty-five cents, and twelve concerts were given by an orchestra of thirty-five members, conducted by Mr. John C. Mullaly and Mr. Emil Mollenhauer. These concerts, from an artistic standpoint, were a most gratifying success.

For the purpose of exercising a censorship on the music played on the streets of the city by licensed players, an arrangement was made with the Board of Police, whereby all street players on musical instruments were required to pass an examination before the Board of Music Commissioners twice a year. The essential qualification fixed by the Board for a license was that such instruments as hand organs, street pianos and the like, should be kept by the owners in perfect tune; and in the case of stringed instruments and others the performers should be required to play fairly well and possess a good instrument. An officer was delegated by the Board of Police to see that the new rules of the Commissioners were strictly carried out, and good results from this departure are already apparent in the class of instruments and kind of music now heard on the city streets.

The expenses of the Department for the financial year January 31, 1899, were $9,046, the largest items of expenditure being: $5,482 for salaries of the Municipal Band; $1,187 for attendants at concerts, clerical help and stenographer; $659 for printing, and $371 for soloists and accompanists.

NEW CONTRACT FOR STREET LIGHTS.

His Honor Mayor Quincy has announced his approval of a contract which has just been executed by the Superintendent of Lamps, under which the system of street-lighting by gas-lamps will be entirely changed. The contract is made with the Rising Sun Street Lighting Company of Boston, which has held the contract for street-lighting by naphtha lamps in the districts where they are used for about nine years.

The new contract involves a radical departure in the system of public street-lighting and in the gas-lamps themselves. Instead of having the street lamps under the direct charge of the city, and having the lighting done by lamplighters employed by the city, entirely new gas-lamps, of a much more ornamental pattern, are to be installed at the expense of the contractor, and the company assumes the full responsibility and expense of maintaining the lamps, and makes its own arrangements with the gas companies for gas supply. The new lamps will be of the so-called "Boulevard" pattern which have been extensively introduced in a few other large cities, and the use of which is rapidly extending, and the main feature of the lighting will be the use of the Welsbach mantle. A few of these lamps have been installed for some time upon Marlborough street as an experiment, and their success, with the favorable comments which have been made by the residents upon the street and by the public, have been instrumental in leading to the comprehensive arrangement for the whole city which has now been made.

His Honor the Mayor and the Superintendent of Lamps have been carefully investigating the whole question of street-lighting by the use of the mantle for several months, and have visited a number of other cities for this purpose, and they only entered into the contract when thoroughly convinced that gas-lighting by the use of the incandescent mantle was thoroughly established as the modern method of street illumination, and that it would give a greatly increased light at substantially the same price which the city has been paying. They believe that under this contract Boston will be made one of the best lighted cities in this country, if not in the world, and that as soon as the new lamps are installed the public will heartily approve the change. While they would have preferred to have had the city continue in direct charge of the lamps, they became satisfied that, on account of the control of this field by numerous patents, and on account of the special care required for the maintenance and renewal of the mantles, it was not practicable to introduce this system of lighting otherwise than by contract, and all other cities in which this system of lighting has been introduced have been obliged to adopt the contract system; it has been arranged, however, with the contractor that all lamplighters and employees now in the service of the city are to be taken into the service of the contracting company at the same wages. The installation of the new lamps will begin upon a considerable scale within a week, and they are all to be installed within the next four months.

His Honor Mayor Quincy and Superintendent Donovan believe that they have made a very satisfactory contract, as it calls for no investment of capital on the part of the city to procure the new lamps, and as the expense will not be greater than at present, while the amount of light given by each lamp will be about quadruple.

The contract between the city and the Rising Sun Street Lighting Company is as follows:

The Rising Sun Street Lighting Company, a corporation duly established under the laws of the State of Maine, having a usual place of business in the City of Boston, in the County of Suffolk, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, hereinafter called the contractor, of the first part, and the City of Boston, a municipal corporation in said Commonwealth, hereinafter called the city, of the second part, agree as follows:

Article I. Said contractor shall have the charge of all gas-lanterns hereafter used for lighting the streets and places of said city, except such lanterns as said contractor shall be notified from time to time by the Superintendent of Lamps of said city to discontinue; shall within four months after June 1, 1899, place on every post designated, within one month after the date hereof, by said Superintendent, a boulevard lantern of said contractor like the lantern deposited as a sample in the office of said Superintendent and marked "Welsbach Boulevard No. 1," and shall within five days after being notified by said Superintendent so to do, place on every additional post specified by the said Superintendent, and furnished with a supply pipe from the gas main to the top of the post, a similar lantern; shall, when required by said Superintendent, furnish in place of any lantern, whether owned by the city or said contractor, other than a boulevard lantern, a lantern of the pattern now kept in said office as specified by said Superintendent, or any other lantern, if the contractor and the Superintendent shall so agree; shall place and maintain on every gas-lantern when in use, whether owned by the city or said contractor, a Welsbach burner and mantle, and furnish gas and keep it burning in every such lantern during the hours shown on time cards to be furnished by said Superintendent, so as to give a sixty (60) candle light; shall keep all lanterns when in use in good repair and condition and well painted, and properly replace all broken or displaced glass and signs on said lanterns before the next time of lighting, the signs to be furnished by the city but placed and kept securely fastened by the contractor; shall clean all lanterns when in use as often as once a week, and oftener if required, to keep the light from being obstructed; and shall when it removes a lantern without substituting another therefor, properly plug the pipe so that the gas will not escape therefrom.

The Superintendent of Lamps and the contractor may agree at any time to install in lieu of gas-lamps as many Welsbach naphtha lights of sixty (60) candle power each with boulevard lanterns of approved pattern as may be necessary to fully carry out this contract, same to be kept and maintained as herein provided under and subject as to cost and other requirements to all the other provisions and obligations of this contract applicable thereto.

Article II. Said contractor shall report in writing at the office of said Superintendent on Thursday of each week, and on the ninth of each month, the number of said lanterns lighted on each night subsequent to the last report, giving in each report the name of each person engaged in lighting the lanterns and the number lighted by each person.

Article III. Said contractor shall have the use of all property now belonging to the city, and used by the Superintendent of Lamps in carrying on the duties of his Department, as the contractor considers necessary to carry out this agreement; shall keep the same in good condition and repair, and replace any thereof that shall be destroyed or injured, and shall return the same to said city in like good order and condition when the lanterns to be placed within four months from the time this contract goes into effect are so placed.

Article IV. Said city shall lay and maintain all gas-pipes to the burners in the care and charge of said contractor and keep the same in good condition and repair; as full payment for everything furnished or done by, or resulting to, the contractor in carrying out this contract, shall for each year of three thousand eight hundred twenty-eight (3,828) hours pay for each and every lantern taken care of and lighted by said contractor as aforesaid, at the rate of thirty (30) dollars per year, in proportional monthly payments on the first day of each and every month; provided, however, that if any lantern has not been kept and lighted in accordance with this contract during all the hours required by said time card a proportional deduction as determined by said Superintendent, shall be made; and provided, further, that if at any time by reason of a reduction by any gas company in the price of gas, the contractor shall procure its gas supply at a lower average price per lamp for the whole number of lamps lighted than the average price paid for gas by the contractor when the system provided for herein is fully installed, the said rate paid by the city shall be reduced by the amount of the reduction in the price of gas so secured. (It is understood and agreed that any reduction made prior to the complete installation of the Welsbach system shall be calculated in the deduction from the rate to be made as before provided with like force and effect as if made thereafter, but the contractor shall receive the full rate until such installation is complete). The contractor shall render to the city statements every three months, showing such reductions, if any, and the amounts of same accrued during the prior three months shall be deducted from the next payments due the contractor. The said rate paid by the city shall then be adjusted in accordance with such reductions.

Article V. This contract shall take effect June 1, 1899 (which date may be changed by mutual consent), and shall continue in force subject to the necessary appropriation being made for gas-lighting, for the term of seven years from June 1, 1899,—but any change of date shall not relieve the contractor from its obligation to have the Welsbach system as provided herein fully installed and in operation within four months from June 1, 1899, and shall continue thereafter until a new agreement is made by the parties, or until the expiration of three months after notice in writing which may be given prior to said date by either party of its election to terminate the contract at the end of the period of seven years as herein provided, and on such termination the said contractor may remove its lanterns and all other property by it furnished under this agreement, providing the same is not purchased by the said city. If at the expiration of said term the Mayor of said city desires that the city shall purchase the lanterns, burners and mantles of said contractor, and notifies the contractor to that effect, the contractor shall convey the same to the city upon terms to be agreed upon by the parties at that time, and, if they cannot agree, the same shall be fixed by three persons, one to be selected by the Mayor of said city, one by the contractor, and the third by the two so selected, and the decision of a majority thereof shall be binding upon the parties; and provided, further, that the contract shall continue for a second period of seven years if the Mayor of said city shall within three months from the expiration of the first period of seven years so notify in writing the contractor.

In witness whereof, the said Rising Sun Street Lighting Company, by its proper officer, and the said city by its Superintendent of Lamps, duly authorized and approved by the Mayor, have hereunto set their hands and seals on this thirty-first day of May, A.D. 1899.

Superintendent of Lamps.

WEST BOSTON BRIDGE.

The following letter from the Secretary of War, and report of the Board of Engineers, with regard to the reconstruction of the West Boston bridge, have been received by the Cambridge Bridge Commission.

WAR DEPARTMENT.

Washington, June 1, 1899.

GENTLEMEN: Referring to the two projects submitted by your Commission regarding the reconstruction of the so-called West Boston bridge across Charles river, between Boston and Cambridge, Mass., the first for the construction of an island in the Charles river in connection with the bridge, and the second the elimination of the island feature and the substitution of a bridge without a draw giving a clear headway under the structure of twenty-five feet above mean high water, I have the honor to inform you that the subject has been under consideration by a Board of Engineers, which has held public hearings, thoroughly considered the question involved, and has now submitted a report.

The Board is of the opinion that the first project is objectionable for the reason that such an island would interfere with the tidal flow by obstructing the area of the waterway to the extent of about one-fifth of the present section; that it would diminish the tidal prism, and by causing changes in regimen, direction of currents, etc., would perhaps seriously interfere with the safe use of the draw passage.

Regarding the second project for the construction of a drawless bridge, the Board is of the opinion that such a bridge would be an unreasonable obstruction to navigation, and that any bridge across the Charles river at this locality should be a drawbridge with spans of eighty feet between centres, a centre pivot draw giving two clear openings of fifty feet each and a clear height under the draw-spans of not less than twenty-three feet above mean high water.

The foregoing views are concurred in by the Chief of Engineers, United States Army, and a copy of the report of the Board is transmitted herewith for the further information of the Commission.

Very respectfully,

R. A. ALGER, Secretary of War.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY and others, Cambridge Bridge Commission, City Hall, Boston,
Mass.

UNITED STATES ENGINEER OFFICE.

Boston, May 19, 1899.

BRIG.-GEN. JOHN M. WILSON, Chief of Engineers, United States Army, Washington, D.C.

GENERAL: The Board of Engineer Officers, constituted by S. O. No. 39, Headquarters Corps of Engineers, dated Washington, D.C., December 28, 1898, beg leave to submit the following report:

The order constituting the Board is as follows:

HEADQUARTERS, CORPS OF ENGINEERS,
UNITED STATES ARMY.

Washington, D.C., December 28, 1898.
Special Orders No. 39.

By authority of the Secretary of War, a Board of Officers of the Corps of Engineers, to consist of Col. George L. Gillespie, Col.
Charles R. Suter, Maj. Daniel W. Lockwood, will assemble at Boston, Mass., upon the call of the senior member, to consider and report upon the request of the Commissioners to build a new bridge across Charles river, between Boston and Cambridge, to replace the present so-called West Boston bridge, for permission to construct, in connection with such bridge, an island in the middle of said river, on or near the site of the present bridge.

Upon the completion of the duty assigned them, the members of the Board will return to their proper stations.

The journeys required under this order are necessary for the public service.

By command of Brigadier-General Wilson,
JOSEPH E. KUHN,

Captain, Corps of Engineers.

In compliance with the above order, and on the call of the senior member, the Board met in Boston on January 19, 1899, and gave a public hearing to all parties interested in the questions referred to it for report. This meeting had been duly advertised with reference to the petition first referred to the Secretary of War for permission to construct an island in the Charles river in connection with the rebuilding of the West Boston bridge between Boston and Cambridge.

Shortly prior to the meeting, a second petition had been submitted to the Secretary of War and referred to this Board for report.
This last project was for a bridge without a draw and having a clear height above mean high water of not less than twenty-five feet.
During the hearing the fact was developed that this last project had not yet received legislative sanction from the State, and it was also claimed by the opponents of the scheme that they had not received sufficiently timely notice to enable them to present their objections in a proper manner. The Board therefore decided to give a further hearing at some future day and adjourned.

The second public meeting, duly advertised, was held on April 12, 1899, two members of the Board being present.

The Board was reconvened by S. O. No. 21, Headquarters, Corps of Engineers, United States Army, Washington, D.C., April 18, 1899, and met on the call of the senior member, May 5, 1899, and adjourned the same day.

In the first project presented for the consideration of the Board a drawbridge was contemplated, having a counter-balanced draw spanning an opening with a clear width of forty feet. An island was to be constructed on the line of the bridge of oval shape and of dimensions approximately 500 by 600 feet, the longest dimensions being at right angles to the line of the bridge. A canal of forty feet width and of depth equal to that of the present channel was to be cut through this island and spanned by the draw above alluded to. To this scheme, the Board of Harbor and Land Commissioners had given their assent on condition that the material composing the island should be dredged from the bed of the river. Prior to the organization of the present Board, this project had been referred to the officers in charge of the Boston District, and had received an unfavorable report from both, the objections being that it would interfere with the freedom of tidal flow by obstructing the area of waterway to the extent of about one-fifth of the present section, that it would diminish the tidal prism and by causing changes in regimen, direction of currents, etc., would perhaps interfere seriously with the safe use of the draw passage.

The Board consider that these objections were well taken and as the only arguments advanced in favor of the unusual plan proposed are that it would afford opportunity for aesthetic decorative effects and perhaps somewhat cheaper construction, the Board is of the opinion that this special feature of the plan, viz.: the island in the middle of the river, is inadmissible and should not be allowed.

The second project presented was for a bridge without a draw, giving a clear headway under the structure of twenty-five feet above mean high water.

On this subject a very full hearing was given, as much opposition to the project was developed.

The arguments advanced in favor of the project may be briefly summarized as follows:

The commerce of the Charles river above the West Boston bridge is not large and is decreasing. Such as remains would be fully accommodated by a bridge of the height proposed, without a draw, but with adequately wide spans. The Commonwealth and the cities of Boston and Cambridge have, with some few exceptions, acquired both banks of the stream from Craigie bridge to the Watertown dam and beyond, for park and similar purposes. This has greatly diminished the commerce of the stream.

A drawless bridge could be built for less money than one with a draw, would cost less to maintain as no drawtender would be required, and could be made architecturally, more pleasing to the eye.

The enormous travel over this bridge would be greatly incommoded by the delays caused by the passage of vessels through a draw of any description.

The opponents of the measure state that the fact of the non-acquirement of their property is sufficient evidence of its value, and that this value is mainly due to its facilities for water transportation. These are largely utilized, and in any case constitute an important check on railroad freight rates.
The principal commerce is in coal and lumber, both of which are brought here by sea;
the former in sailing vessels, the latter in barges. As these barges are masted they cannot pass under a drawless bridge of the height proposed and hence both classes of vessels would be entirely shut out. It was also stated that although some few mastless barges are used in coal transportation, insurance on them cannot be obtained, and to trans-ship this bulky freight to barges capable of passing the proposed bridge would not be financially profitable.

The Charles river is, and has always been, recognized as a navigable stream. All the bridges which cross it below the Watertown dam are provided with draws, and the government has appropriated money for the improvement of its navigation.

The acquisition of the banks of the stream by parties or corporations who do not desire to use it for navigation purposes would not, in the opinion of the Board, in the least change its status as a navigable stream, and even if such acquisition were carried to its extreme limit, the creation of obstacles to free navigation would still be clearly illegal.

Any structure which interferes to an unreasonable degree with navigation as carried on, is an obstacle to free navigation within the meaning of the law, and, as the evidence laid before the Board shows clearly that such would be the effect of the drawless bridge as proposed, they are of the opinion that the permission to erect such a structure should not be granted.

The whole subject of the bridges across the Charles river was fully and ably discussed in a report submitted to the Chief of Engineers under date of June 25, 1890, by a special board composed of Colonels Abbot, Gillespie and Mansfield and Major Liver-more, of the Corps of Engineers, and with the conclusions and recommendations of that report the present Board entirely agree.

Among other things it was there recommended that in all future bridges authorized, or in the reconstruction of those then existing, metallic trusses resting on masonry piers properly located with regard to the direction of the current should be insisted on, and that spans of from eighty to one hundred feet should be required. The draw spans should be centre pivot, and should give two clear openings of from fifty to sixty feet carefully located over the deepest portion of the channel. It was also recommended that the clear height at the draw spans should be made sufficiently great to allow mastless barges, tugs and small vessels generally to pass the bridge without requiring the opening of the draw. These requirements are considered judicious by the Board, but as the Charles river bridge, the lowest of the series, has recently been reconstructed on plans approved by the Secretary of War, the Board is of opinion that the accommodation afforded by this bridge should be at least equalled by those authorized above it, including the West Boston bridge, now under consideration. The Charles river bridge has spans of eighty feet between centres, a centre pivot draw giving two clear openings of fifty feet each, and a clear height under the draw spans of not less than twenty-three feet above mean high water.

The various papers referred to the Board for report are returned herewith.

Respectfully submitted,

G. L. GILLESPIE,
Colonel, Corps of Engineers;
CHARLES R. SUTER,
Colonel, Corps of Engineers;
D. W. LOCKWOOD,
Major, Corps of Engineers.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

City Hall, May 31, 1899.

A meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment was held on Wednesday, May 31, 1899, at the Mayor's office, City Hall, at 3.30 P.M.

Present: All the members except Mr. Barry.

The records of the last meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Minot called up assignment, viz.:

Communication from Mr. Henry M. Whitney, offering to contribute $40,000 towards the expense of widening the north draw of the Chelsea bridge to seventy-five feet, and agreeing to deposit the money with the City Treasurer whenever the city is prepared to proceed with the work.

A hearing was given to City Engineer Jackson, who stated that he had not been able as yet to come to an agreement with the Lynn and Boston Street Railway Company, but that the portion of the expense which the city would probably have to pay for building a temporary draw for maintaining travel during the work on widening the present draw would be about $8,000.

Mr. Dore called up the following assignment:

Communication from Trustees for Children stating that the number of boys at the Parental School has increased to such an extent that the present accommodations are entirely inadequate, and requesting that the appropriation of $5,000 heretofore made for the drainage of land at the Parental School, West Roxbury, be transferred to an appropriation for the erection of temporary wooden buildings, and that an additional sum of $10,000 be appropriated for said buildings.

Mr. Horatio A. Lamb, Chairman of the Board of Trustees for Children, appeared before the Board and explained the conditions at present existing at the Parental School, and the need of increased accommodations, 206 boys being now cared for in buildings designed to accommodate only eighty.

The Board then went into executive session.

An order (passed by the City Council) was received, requesting the Board to give a public hearing to the citizens of Ward 6 in relation to the proposed tunnel under the tracks of the Boston Elevated Railway Company on Travers street.

On motion of Mr. Kiley, it was Voted, That City Engineer Jackson be requested to prepare a plan, and to make an estimate of the cost, of building a tunnel under the tracks of the Boston Elevated Railway Company on Travers street.

On motion of Mr. Dore, further consideration of the matter was assigned to the next meeting.

A communication was received from Mr. William D. Sohler requesting, on behalf of the Massachusetts Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary, that an asphalt pavement be laid in front of the Infirmary's new building on North Charles street, in place of the present block pavement.

On motion of Mr. Kiley, it was Voted, That the Superintendent of Streets be requested to give an estimate of the cost of laying an asphalt pavement in front of the new building of the Massachusetts Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary on Charles street, near Fruit street, and also an estimate of the cost of asphaltting one side of Charles street, between Fruit and Allen streets.

On motion of Mr. Kiley, further consideration of the communication from Mr. Henry M. Whitney in regard to widening the north draw of Chelsea bridge was assigned to the next meeting.

On motion of Mr. Dore, further consideration of the communication from the Trustees for Children in regard to the Parental School was assigned to the next meeting.

Adjourned, on motion of Mr. Kiley, at 5.36 P.M., to meet on Thursday, June 8, 1899, at 3.30 P.M.

LAURENCE MINOT, Secretary.

Messages from the Mayor.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL.

A special meeting of both branches of the City Council was held at 12 M., on Wednesday, June 7, 1899, in their respective chambers, City Hall, pursuant to the following call:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 6, 1899.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CITY COUNCIL:

You are requested to meet in your respective chambers in City Hall on Wednesday, June 7, 1899, at 12 M., for the purpose of taking appropriate action upon the death of ex-Mayor Frederick O. Prince, which occurred this forenoon, and of expressing the sorrow felt by the citizens of Boston at the loss sustained through his death and their respect for his memory.

Yours respectfully,

DAVID F. BARRY, Acting Mayor.

The following message from His Honor the Mayor was received:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 7, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

It becomes my duty to announce to you the death, at the ripe age of 81, of Honorable Frederick O. Prince, who served four terms as Mayor of this city, and eleven years as a Trustee of the Public Library and as President of the Board of Trustees, having only resigned that office about a month ago.

The public career of Mr. Prince, his identification with our civic affairs, and his keen interest as a citizen in everything that affected the welfare and development of the city of his birth, is well known to all. His services to the Public Library, with which the later years of his life were so closely identified, will long be gratefully remembered. By his death Boston has lost one of its most distinguished and public-spirited citizens, and I am sure that the City Council will desire to pay every mark of respect to his memory.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

RESTORATION OF FORCE OF THE SEWER DIVISION.

The entire force of the Sewer Division of the Street Department, which was suspended by order of the Superintendent of Streets on May 19 on account of the Sewer-tax bill being declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court, was put back to work on May 31, 1899.

The new law which provides for appropriations with which to carry on the work already under construction was signed by the Governor on June 1.

ICE-WATER FOUNTAINS.

Water Commissioner Murphy makes the following statement with regard to the establishment of ice-water fountains:

The object of the establishment of ice-water fountains is to furnish water to the public, during the hot months of the year, at a pleasant and agreeable temperature for drinking purposes. To accomplish this, the water is chilled by running it through small reservoirs and pipes surrounded with chopped ice, the ice and pipes being enclosed in a box insulated on the outside by a patent material. This ice box is constructed of two-inch spruce plank, four feet long, three feet wide and four feet deep, covered on the outside by the insulating material. The box is placed in the ground close to the fountain, and arranged with covers so as to be accessible from the sidewalk.

The cooling apparatus consists of about 315 feet of three-quarter inch enamelled iron-pipe arranged both vertically and horizontally around the four sides and bottom of the box. There is also a reservoir which consists of two sections of eight-inch cast-iron pipe, each two feet six inches long, laid horizontally and arranged with blow-off cocks on the bottom. These reservoirs accomplish two purposes, namely, that of holding in check a large quantity of water for a sufficient time to reduce its temperature before passing into the coils of pipe in which it acquires its lowest temperature, and that of holding any foreign matter that may be in the water. The capacity of the reservoirs and coils is about sixteen gallons. The ice is shaved and packed around the reservoirs and coils.

Of these fountains, there are now about eighteen running, and inside of two weeks there will be about forty. The ice with which they are supplied was cut from our reservoirs in East Boston and Brookline last winter, and stored in ice-houses on the grounds. The amount cut and stored was about 1,700 tons.

The Department also built an ice-wagon last winter, and purchased another. The force engaged in supplying the fountains consists of the driver and assistant on each team, who cart the ice from the ice-houses to the various fountains, where they place it in a chopped condition.

The temperature of each fountain is taken three times a day. The record shows that on June 6, with an air temperature of 90° to 94°, the average temperature of the water in the various fountains was less than 40°. In the crowded parts of the city account was kept of the number of people using the fountains, and it showed an average of over 600 an hour per fountain.

The fountain which has been adopted and will be in use hereafter is artistic in construction and has received the approval of the Art Commission.

In September, 1898, the number of pupils admitted to the Boston Normal School was 218. During the same month, 2,569 pupils, including 1,175 boys and 1,394 girls, were admitted to the Latin and High schools of the city; of these all but 378 came from the Boston grammar schools.

REORGANIZATION OF INSTITUTIONS REGISTRATION DEPARTMENT.

His Honor Mayor Quincy has relieved Penal Institutions Commissioner Marshall from the duties of Acting Registrar of the Institutions Registration Department, and has appointed in his stead as Acting Registrar Prof. William T. Sedgwick of the Institute of Technology and Chairman of the Board of Trustees for Paupers. The Department will be divided into a Settlement Division and a Statistical Division, the heads of which will be Mr. John E. Gilman and Mr. John Koren respectively. The following letters to Penal Institutions Commissioner Marshall and Prof. Sedgwick are self-explanatory:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

June 12, 1899.

ERNEST C. MARSHALL, Esq., Acting Institutions Registrar, 28 Court Square.

DEAR SIR: The time has now come when I feel able to relieve you of the duties of Acting Institutions Registrar, which you have kindly assumed, at my request, in addition to the large duties of your own office since the act creating it went into effect. I feel particularly desirous of relieving you of this work and responsibility before the very large work connected with the camp for boys and the summer excursions for children is added to your regular work, and I also feel that, while I am not ready at this time to make any permanent appointment to the office of Institutions Registrar, it will be better, in view of my intention, at the desire of the chairmen of four of the boards interested in the registration office, to attach

Mr. John Koren to its work, to place it upon a somewhat new basis. I have accordingly appointed Prof. Sedgwick as Acting Registrar, to take office from June 14, and he has agreed to assume this duty. Two divisions are to be created in the office, a Settlement Division and a Statistics Division, and Mr. Gilman will continue the head of the former, while Mr. Koren will be appointed as head of the latter.

With full appreciation of the services which you have rendered as Acting Registrar, and of the zeal which you have brought to the performance of its duties, I am

Yours very truly,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

To Prof. Sedgwick the following notice of appointment was sent:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

June 12, 1899.

PROF. WILLIAM T. SEDGWICK, 20 Chestnut Street.

DEAR SIR: You are hereby appointed Acting Institutions Registrar, to take office from and after June 14, 1899. In accordance with our conversation, it is my desire that you should create at once two divisions of this office — a Settlement Division and a Statistical Division — and that you should appoint Mr. John E. Gilman as head of the former, and Mr. John Koren as head of the latter division.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Mr. Gilman, who was born in Boston in 1844, received his early education in the Quincy and Eliot schools. He enlisted in 1862 as a private in Company E of the Twelfth Massachusetts Regiment, and lost his right arm from the effects of a wound received at the second day's battle of Gettysburg. Mr. Gilman served as Settlement Clerk of the Massachusetts State Board of Charities from 1876 till 1883, in which year he was appointed Settlement Clerk in the Public Institutions Department of the City of Boston. Since the establishment of the Institutions Registration Department Mr. Gilman has had charge of the settlement work of that Department.

Mr. Gilman, who is Past Commander of the Thomas G. Stevenson Post No. 26, G.A.R., of Roxbury, on February 16, 1899, was elected Commander of the G.A.R., Department of Massachusetts, having served as Junior Vice-Commander in 1896 and as Senior Vice-Commander in 1897.

Mr. Koren was born in Iowa in 1861. He was educated at Luther College and Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, Mo., where he received the degrees of A.B. and B.D. For the last fourteen years Boston has been his home.

In 1891 Mr. Koren was sent abroad by the United States Department of Labor to collect material for the eighth annual report of the Department. He also assisted in the preparation of its fifth annual report, and later made a special study for it of the padrone system and padrone banks.

In 1893 he was sent abroad by the Massachusetts Commission, consisting of the late Judge Lowell, Dr. H. P. Bowditch and John Graham Brooks to study the workings of the Scandinavian system of liquor selling. For several years Mr. Koren was engaged in special investigations for the Committee of Fifty on the Drink Question, and with Dr. Frederic H. Wines gathered material for a volume entitled "The Liquor Problem in its Legislative Aspects," which was published in 1897, by a sub-committee of the Committee of Fifty, President Eliot being chairman of the sub-committee.

The Committee of Fifty's sub-committee on the Economic Aspects of the Liquor Problem, of which Hon. Carroll D. Wright is chairman, has recently published a volume entitled "Economic Aspects of the Liquor Problem." Mr. Koren is practically the author of this volume, the work of gathering the material for it and of preparing it for the press having been entrusted to him. Mr. Koren, who served as special statistical expert of the Statistics Department for the three months ending March 31, 1899, is a member of a Committee of Citizens appointed on January 9, 1899, by Mayor Quincy, to investigate the working of the laws for the punishment of drunkenness, and to report what changes, if any, should be made in the same.

SCHOOL-HOUSE AGENT.

At the regular meeting of the School Committee, held on Tuesday evening, June 13, 1899, Mr. Horace B. Fisher was elected on the third ballot to the newly-created position of School-house Agent, at an annual salary of $3,300.

Mr. Fisher was born in North Ware, N.H., in 1837. In 1862 and 1863 he was a member of the Common Council from old Ward 10. Mr. Fisher was appointed Chief Clerk in the Public Buildings Department in 1872, and has served in that capacity ever since.

The duties of the School-house Agent are set forth in Chapter 9 of the Rules and Regulations of the School Committee, as follows:

Section 103. The School-house Agent shall be the executive officer of the Board in all matters relating to the construction, furnishing, repair and maintenance of all school buildings and grounds. Before entering upon the performance of his duties he shall give a bond conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties, payable to the City of Boston, in such penal sum as the Board may, on recommendation of the Committee on School-houses, determine.

Sect. 104. He shall have authority to order to be made, on his own responsibility, current minor repairs upon school-houses at an expense not exceeding in the aggregate a sum to be fixed from time to time by the Committee on School-houses with the approval of the Board.

Sect. 105. He shall make a quarterly report of all needed repairs on school-houses, with an estimate of the cost thereof, and a monthly report of all his doings and expenditures, all of which shall be submitted to the full Board for its inspection.

Sect. 106. He shall certify to the correctness of all bills for expenses incurred for the construction, alteration, or repair of school-houses where an architect is not employed, and he shall have charge of all furniture and other school-house fittings in the possession of the Board.

Sect. 107. He shall be present at all meetings of the Committee on School-houses and of the Committee on New Buildings, and shall have a right to take part in the discussions.

Sect. 108. He may appoint such assistants as may be necessary, subject to the approval of the Board.

Sect. 109. He shall have the supervision of the janitors of the school-houses, and shall see that they carry out all regulations of the Board and directions of the Committee on School-houses, and shall report all cases of negligence or inefficiency to the Committee on School-houses. But nothing herein is to be construed as affecting or in any way impairing the responsibility of the principals of the schools for the control of janitors as provided in Section 198 of the Regulations.

Sect. 110. He shall perform such other duties as the Board or the Committee on School-houses may from time to time prescribe.

INSPECTION OF PRISONS.

Alderman Day, for the Committee on Prisons, submitted the following report on the prisons of Suffolk County to the Board of Aldermen at its meeting held June 12, 1899, which was accepted and ordered printed as a public document:

The special committee of the Board of Aldermen appointed to visit and inspect the prisons in the County of Suffolk, having made the inspection required by the statutes of the Commonwealth, respectfully submit their first semi-annual report:

SUFFOLK COUNTY JAIL.

The Committee visited the jail on Thursday, May 18, and found it to be in the usual cleanly and healthful condition. The inmates were questioned as to the treatment, food and cleanliness, and each one spoke in high praise of the management and the kindness shown them by those in charge. The Committee were impressed with the cleanliness of the institution and the quality of food furnished. They again recommend the erection of a new building for the detention of women, in which provision could be made for a modern laundry, and a part of the same building could be fitted for hospital work. At the present time, if inmates are taken sick they have to be treated in their cells. An appropriation for the construction of a brick wall to take the place of the wooden fence that partly surrounds the jail should be made at once.

HOUSE OF CORRECTION, SOUTH BOSTON.

The House of Correction in South Boston was visited on Thursday, May 18. The Committee feel, as has been recommended for the past five years, that a new institution should be erected for the sake of humanity, either on the mainland or on one of the islands in the harbor. The buildings are antiquated, and to appropriate any money to repair them would be a wasteful expenditure. The management of this place was commendable under existing conditions, and the Committee feel that everything that can be done for those unfortunate enough to be confined there is being done. The prison building, so called, where the cells are located, is not fit for human beings to live in, and immediate steps should be taken for the sake of humanity. The calisthenic drill and the school established here have both proved successful under their competent instructors.

HOUSE OF CORRECTION, DEER ISLAND.

The visit of the Committee to this institution was made on Thursday, June 1.

The institution and its inmates showed to the satisfaction of the Committee that its management was of the best. Cleanliness in every branch of it prevailed, and the food served to the inmates was good.

The hospital and its management was closely inspected, and the inmates asked as to their care and comfort. The replies received were confirmatory of the good opinion formed by the Committee of its supervision, and they were pleased to find that those confined there joined with them in that respect. Everything about the place showed that care and attention was afforded the unfortunate sick.

The only recommendation the Committee have to make for the improvement of this institution is the abandonment of the present building occupied by female prisoners, and the erection of a new building for their accommodation, containing not less than five hundred cells.

HOUSE OF REFORMATION, RAINSFORD ISLAND.

The Committee inspected the House of Reformation on June 1, Thursday, and found, in addition to a number of minor improvements, that an electric light plant was in process of construction. We believe that the new Superintendent has made considerable improvement in the conduct of the institution, and that he holds the respect and confidence of the boys. The Committee desire to call the attention of the Trustees to the fact that the treatment of the boys by the Athletic Instructor does not meet with the Committee's approval, and believe that under different methods the institution would be the gainer in kindly feeling and better discipline.

PARENTAL SCHOOL.

The Parental School was visited on Wednesday, May 24. The buildings are overcrowded, and the construction of new dormitories would be a very desirable improvement.

The Committee were satisfied that improvements in the methods of punishment might be made both at this institution and at Rainsford Island, and recommend that the Trustees should prevent unnecessarily severe treatment of the boys under their charge. The Committee also recommend a reduction of $500 in the salary of the Superintendent of the Parental School, believing he is now overpaid for the character and amount of service he renders.

REMARKS.

The Committee find that the institutions under a one-head, salaried officer are much better managed than the institutions under a board of trustees. At all the institutions the Committee were received with courtesy, and every opportunity was freely given for the investigation the Committee are obliged to make under Chapter 220 of the Public Statutes, with the single exception of the Parental School. At this institution the Superintendent refused a direct answer to questions of the Committee relating to the treatment of the boys.

Believing that a community as populous as the City of Boston offers a field sufficiently large from which to secure employees in the Parental School and House of Reformation, we regret the employment by the Trustees of non-residents secured through employment agencies. We believe that such service is not for the best interests either of the city or of the children confined in these institutions.

The Committee believe that the House of Reformation for boys is out of place on an island, and the institution should be removed to the mainland, and the buildings given over to the Penal Institutions Department, to be used for a woman's prison, thus bringing about an effectual separation of the male and female prisoners.

The Committee are indebted to Penal Institutions Commissioner Marshall and Deputy Sheriff Bradley for the free opportunity afforded for inspection, and believe them especially worthy of commendation for the manner in which the institutions under their charge are conducted.

BACTERIOLOGICAL EXAMINATION OF TELEPHONES.

Dr. Hibbert W. Hill, Director of the Bacteriological Laboratory of the Board of Health, in March last, began an investigation of the question whether telephone transmitters constitute a menace to the public health by reason of the presence of disease-producing bacteria. His report has recently been submitted to the Board of Health.

Thirteen telephones which are subjected to an extraordinary amount of daily use, were chosen. The attempt was made to secure specimens of bacteria from the inside and outside of the transmitters attached to the telephones in question. The results of the attempt were negative, as the cultures prepared from the specimens obtained failed to show the presence of bacteria dangerous to health.

"It may therefore be concluded," says Dr. Hill, "that these telephones did not on the day of examination constitute foci from which bacterial disease could be readily distributed, a conclusion quite in keeping with the views which may be deduced from ordinary bacteriological knowledge of the conditions to be considered. Nevertheless, it is doubtless possible that infectious diseases, particularly diphtheria, tuberculosis and syphilis may be conveyed from one user of a telephone to a subsequent user, not by infection of the transmitters through the expired air, strictly considered, of the diseased user, but through his saliva or sputum deposited on the transmitter either through actual contact of the wetted lips to the transmitter, or in the form of minute particles of liquid detached from the liquids of the mouth by coughing or other strong expiratory breaths. . . . Practically, then, the telephone transmitter cannot be considered a dangerous source of disease, while at the same time its possible action as an occasional medium for the carriage of infection must be admitted.

"From the æsthetic standpoint, however, it is evident that the regular cleansing and disinfection of telephone receivers, certainly of these used indiscriminately by the general public is to be advocated as a hygienic measure which may very occasionally present serious infection, while it will always add to the moral comfort and pleasure of those using the telephone."

Dr. Hill recommends the use of a liquid disinfectant, e. g., a one per cent. solution of formalin or a five per cent. solution of carbolic acid, applied by paper, cloth or brush or spray to the transmitter inside and out at all public telephone stations by the person in charge, after each use of the instrument.

SEVENTEENTH OF JUNE CELEBRATION.

On the morning of June 17, the Seventeenth of June Carnival Association will hold its customary parade in Charlestown, to defray the expenses of which the city has contributed the sum of $1,700. The civic parade, of which Captain D. Percival Sawyer has been chosen Chief Marshal, will be held during the afternoon. The organizations participating in this parade, with the amount of appropriation made by the city to each, will be as follows:

Branch 34, National Letter-Carriers' Association	$300
Charlestown Veteran Firemen	250
Division 5, A.O.H.	175
Division 37, A.O.H.	175
St. Francis De Sales Cadets	125
Conclave 114, Knights of Sherwood Forest	125
Knights of Pythias	125
Knights of the Golden Eagle	100
Company A, Fifth Regiment	100
Company H, Fifth Regiment	100
Company D, Ninth Regiment	100
Abraham Lincoln Camp, Sons of Veterans	50
High School Cadets	50

In addition to the above, the city, through its committee, has appropriated $25 for the expenses of the Chief Marshal; $680 for music; $300 for decorations; $200 for fireworks; $100 for the observation-stand, and $45 for incidentals. Thus the total appropriation for the celebration of the day amounts to $4,825.

In the evening, commencing at 8 o'clock, there will be a display of fireworks and a band concert at Sullivan square. Band concerts will also be given during the evening at Bunker Hill Monument and at Hayes square.

Owing to repairs at Faneuil Hall being in progress, the exercises of the day will be held in Tremont Temple, commencing at 10 A.M.

FOREST HILLS AND QUINCY STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

In the matter of the petition of the directors of an association for the formation of a corporation under the name of the Forest Hills and Quincy Street Railway Company, asking for the approval by the Board of Railroad Commissioners, under Section 8 of Chapter 413 of the Acts of 1887, of a location of tracks in the City of Boston, as granted to said directors by an order of the Board of Aldermen of said city, under date of December 27, 1898.

After public notice and full hearing of the petitioners and remonstrants, and of all other parties desiring to be heard, the Board of Commissioners, on June 9, 1899, determined as follows:

The order of location referred to was presented to the Mayor of Boston for his approval on December 28, 1898, but was not approved by him, nor did he return the order before the end of the municipal year which expired January 2, 1899. The Board inclines to the opinion that the order was not duly passed, and is without legal force and effect; and so rules. If the order is void, it would be idle for the Board to approve the location.

Whether or not the above view is correct, and apart from any legal aspect of the case, the Board, moreover, is not satisfied upon the facts shown that the location ought under present conditions to be approved.

The evidence tended to show that on an important section of the route the street as now laid out and constructed is narrow and hardly adequate for the operation of a street railway and for the due safety and convenience of other public travel. Extensive plans for the widening of the street are now under consideration. The location and construction of the railway may properly await, as it seems to us, the fuller development of these plans and improvements.

It also appeared that considerable and essential sections of the location and route of the proposed railway are outside the limits of any public highway or street. No authority under general or special law was shown for the location of any part of this railway on private land. It was conceded by the petitioners that the Board of Aldermen had no power to grant, and that this Board had no power to approve, a location outside a public way. We cannot revise and amend the order of location as passed by the Board of Aldermen. If we approve the location, we must approve it as a whole. It does not seem to us proper affirmatively to approve a location for essential portions of which no warrant or sanction of law has been shown. Eliminating these portions, if this could be done, the location would be of little value to the petitioners or the public.

PUBLIC CREMATORY.

His Honor the Mayor has received the following petition with regard to the establishment of a public crematory:

We, the undersigned, respectfully petition the authorities of the City of Boston for the establishment of a public crematory for the incineration of the remains of the departed, without distinction of class, creed, color or race.

The practice of burial, which means the increase and permanency of cemeteries within the limits or close neighborhood of cities, is attended with the following evils:

(1.) The appropriation of earth space required by the necessities of the living.

(2.) The disfigurement of the landscape and the casting of a gloom over the immediate vicinity.

(3.) The constant menace to health by the poisoning of the air and water.

(4.) The emphasis given to social distinctions and sectarian differences by ostentatious monuments by the side of humble graves, and the exclusion of "pauper" and "heretic" from the sacred inclosure.

(5.) The greater expense of this mode of disposing of the dead, which brings anxiety off-times to the mind of the dying.

(6.) The robbery and desecration of graves.

Cremation, therefore, which avoids all these evils, by the substitution of the quick purifying action of fire for the slower and loathsome process of decomposition, may be said to be justified by reasons at once economic, sanitary, æsthetic and humane.

Among the signers are Rev. William Bradley, Rev. Thomas Van Ness, Rev. Charles F. Dole, Dr. Thomas G. Reed, Dr. P. T. Buckley, Dr. A. B. Drake, Rev. B. Fay Mills and Dr. Francis J. Miller.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

City Hall, June 8, 1899.

A meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment was held on Thursday, June 8, 1899, at the Mayor's office, City Hall, at 3.30 P.M.

Present: All the members.

The records of the last meeting were approved, their reading being dispensed with on motion of Mr. Barry.

Mr. Barry called up the following assignment:

Communication from Mr. Henry M. Whitney, offering to contribute $40,000, towards the expense of widening the north draw of the Chelsea Bridge to seventy-five feet, and agreeing to deposit the money with the City Treasurer whenever the city is prepared to proceed with the work.

Mr. Kiley moved that, inasmuch as widening the draw to sixty feet had been decided upon, consideration of the matter of widening it to seventy-five feet be indefinitely postponed; carried.

Mr. Barry called up the following assignment:

Communication from the Trustees for Children, stating that the number of boys at the Parental School had been increased to 192, which number is greater than the accommodations available will provide for, and requesting that appropriation of $5,000, heretofore made for the drainage of land at the Parental School, West Roxbury, be transferred to an appropriation for the erection of temporary wooden buildings, and that an additional sum of $10,000 be appropriated for said buildings.

On motion of Mr. Kiley, further consideration of the matter was assigned to the next meeting.

Mr. Minot called up the following past assignments:

Communication (referred by the City Council) from Robert Treat Paine, enclosing petition of North Brighton Conference, District 5 of the Associated Charities of Boston, asking that $300 be appropriated for the renting of a field of about eight acres, located on the south and west sides of Waverly street, and north of Lincoln street, as a playground.

Order (referred by the City Council) requesting the Board to appropriate $300 for the renting of lot referred to above.

The Chairman stated that an order had now been passed by the City Council providing for the hiring, as in former years, of a lot on Everett street, as a playground, which lot is within five minutes' walk of the lot referred to in the above communication and order.

The communication and order were placed on file, on motion of Mr. Minot.

A communication was received from Water Commissioner Murphy requesting that an appropriation of $2,000 be made for the erection of cold water fountains.

A communication was received from Mayor Quincy requesting the Board to prepare and pass a loan order making an appropriation for the said purpose.

Mr. Barry moved the adoption of the following:

Ordered, That the Water Commissioner be authorized to expend the sum of two thousand (2,000) dollars in erecting cold water fountains, and the said sum is hereby appropriated for said purpose; and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds of the City of Boston to said amount for said purpose.

The question came on the adoption of the order, and Mr. Kiley called for the yeas and nays.

The order was not adopted (four votes being required) — yeas, 3 nays, 2.

Yeas — Messrs. Barry and Dore and Mayor Quincy — 3.

Nays — Messrs. Minot and Kiley — 2.

Mr. Kiley moved that the order be indefinitely postponed, and asked that the yeas and nays be called on his motion.

The motion to indefinitely postpone was lost — yea, 1; nays, 4.

Yea — Mr. Kiley — 1.

Nays — Messrs. Dore, Barry, Minot, and Mayor Quincy — 4.

A communication was received from the Superintendent of Streets, transmitting a letter received from the Superintendent of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary, requesting that Charles street be asphalted in front of the Infirmary's new building.

In connection with the above, Mr. Kiley called up the following, under unfinished business:

Communication from Mr. William D. Sohier, on behalf of the Massachusetts Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary (received May 31), requesting that an asphalt pavement be laid in front of the Infirmary's new building on Charles street.

On motion of Mr. Kiley it was voted that the whole matter be assigned to the next meeting, and that the representatives of the Massachusetts Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary be requested to be present and confer with the Board at its next regular meeting.

A communication was received from the Chairman of the Pauper Institutions Trustees requesting an additional appropriation of $10,000 to enable them to build a combination boiler-house, dynamo-room, bakeshop and laundry building, for which an appropriation of $60,000 had already been made.

Professor William T. Sedgwick, Chairman of the Pauper Institutions Trustees, and Mr. Frank W. Howard, chief of the Architectural Division of the Engineering Department, were heard by the Board in regard to the matter, and presented plans of the proposed building, with estimates of cost.

They stated that every effort had been made to reduce the cost of the proposed building to the amount of the appropriation, but that, largely on account of the advance in the price of building materials, this had been found impossible.

On motion of Mr. Dore, further consideration of the matter was assigned to the next meeting.

A communication was received from the Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the City Hospital requesting that an additional appropriation of $14,565.17 be made for new buildings, City Hospital, to replace the amount paid from the said appropriation on an execution of court in favor of Whidden & Co.

Mr. A. Shuman, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, appeared before the Board, and explained the necessity of making the said appropriation, and that the Board of Trustees not understanding that the execution was to be charged to the appropriation for new buildings had contracted liabilities which it was now unable to meet.

A communication was received from Mayor Quincy requesting the Board to prepare and pass a loan order making an additional appropriation of $14,500 for new buildings, City Hospital.

Mr. Barry moved the adoption of the following:

Ordered, That in addition to the amounts heretofore appropriated, the Trustees of the City Hospital be, and hereby are, authorized to expend an additional sum of fourteen thousand five hundred (14,500) dollars for new buildings, which amount is appropriated for said purpose; and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds of the City of Boston to said amount for said purpose.

On motion of Mr. Dore, further consideration of the matter was assigned to the next meeting.

Mr. Kiley moved the adoption of the following:

Ordered, That the order passed by this Board on February 7, 1899, appropriating fifty thousand (50,000) dollars for rebuilding the draw and reconstructing the present Malden Bridge, and authorizing the City Treasurer to issue bonds of the City of Boston, payable in ten years from their date, to said amount and for said purpose, be, and hereby is, rescinded.

The order was adopted, and was signed by all the members of the Board.

A communication was received from Wire Commissioner Flood, requesting an additional loan appropriation of $3,500, to be expended by the Department in carrying out the provisions of Chapter 434 of the Acts of 1894, and acts in amendment or addition thereto.

Commissioner Flood appeared before the Board and explained the necessity of said appropriation.

On motion of Mr. Kiley, further consideration of the matter was assigned to the next meeting.

Mayor Quincy called the attention of the Board to the fact that the appropriation, made in 1895, of $125,000, for grounds for the parade, drill and target practice of the militia stationed in the City of Boston was now available for expenditure, under the provisions of Chapter 142 of the Acts of 1898; that he intended to send a message to the City Council recommending that the order making the said appropriation be rescinded, and that if this were done the borrowing capacity would be increased by this amount. The Mayor also stated that, if the City Council refused to rescind the order, he would probably transfer the said appropriation to the Street Department, Sewer Division, under the authority of Chapter 450 of the Acts of 1899.

Mr. Barry moved that as soon as the Board can agree upon the items it proceed to make up a loan order for general municipal purposes, to the aggregate amount of about $150,000.

Mr. Dore moved to amend the motion by making the amount $100,000.

The motion as amended was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Barry, it was Voted, That a special meeting of the Board be held on Monday, June 12, at 2 P.M.

On motion of Mr. Kiley, it was Voted, That the next regular meeting of the Board will be held on Wednesday, June 14, at 3.30 P.M.

A communication was received from Mayor Quincy requesting the Board to pass an order making an appropriation for the purchase from the United States government of the gunboats "East Boston" and "Governor Russell," and for refitting the same for use as ferry-boats, and rescinding the order approved June 16, 1898, authorizing the Superintendent of Streets to build a new ferry-boat, to take the place of the "East Boston," and making an appropriation therefor.

Mr. Barry moved the adoption of the following:

Ordered, That the order approved June 16, 1898, authorizing the Superintendent of Streets to expend $71,000 for a new ferry-boat, to take the place of the "East Boston," and appropriating for said purpose the sum of $57,500 received from the United States government for the said ferry-boat, and the sum of $13,500 from the loan authorized by Chapter 435 of the Acts of 1895, be and hereby is rescinded; that the Superintendent of Streets, with the approval of His Honor the Mayor, be authorized to purchase from the United States government the gunboats "East Boston" and "Governor Russell," being the former ferry-boats "East Boston" and "William E. Russell," which were purchased from the city by the United States government, and converted by it into gunboats for use during the late Spanish war, and to refit the same for use as ferry-boats; that the sum of $57,500 received from the United States government for the ferry-boat "East Boston" be appropriated toward meeting the expense of purchasing said gunboats and refitting them as ferry-boats; and that the additional amount required to meet the expense of purchasing said gunboats and refitting them for use as ferry-boats, not to exceed forty thousand (40,000) dollars, be charged to the appropriation for new ferry landing, authorized by Chapter 435 of the Acts of 1895.

Assigned to the next meeting, on motion of Mr. Dore.

Adjourned, on motion of Mr. Barry, at 6.09 P.M.

LAURENCE MINOT, Secretary.

NEXT MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The next regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be held in the Aldermanic Chamber on Monday, June 26, at 3 P.M.

An act of the Legislature of Illinois, approved April 17, 1899, provides for the establishment of free employment offices. The offices are to be known as Illinois Free Employment Offices, and each city with 50,000 population is entitled to one, while cities of a million population are entitled to three.

Messages from the Mayor.

(2.) William J. Walter, to be an Inspector of Pressed or Bundled Hay or Straw for the term ending April 30, 1900.

(3.) Frederick A. Jones, to be a Weigher of Boilers and Heavy Machinery and a Weigher of Coal for the term ending April 30, 1900.

Severally laid over under the law.

The following messages were also received from His Honor the Mayor:

Memorial Day.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 12, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I return herewith for your files the official copy of City Document 84, being the report of the Committee on Memorial Day, together with the order providing for the distribution recommended by the Committee of the appropriation of $8,000, which document was referred to me by vote passed May 22, 1899. The distribution of the funds for this purpose made by me differed from that made by the Committee in the omission of the Vicksburg Command No. 15, U.V.U., from the list of organizations granted allowances, and the reduction of the amount allowed each of the other organizations in the list by $5, the amount thus saved being used towards meeting the expense of decorating the graves of soldiers who died from injuries received in the late Spanish-American war. For this purpose, a committee of the Ninth Regiment, Massachusetts Volunteers, were allowed the same amount given to Grand Army posts ($365), the remainder of this sum over the amount saved by the above modifications being met by a transfer from the Reserve Fund.

The officers of each of the organizations granted allowances, when receipting for the money, signed a statement that the money received would not be expended for other than memorial purposes, and that they would submit to the City Council before July 1, 1899, a report giving a statement of the expenditures made from the amount received, together with the actual number of members in the organization, and the number and location of graves decorated.

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Sent down.

Veto—Removal of Poles on K Street.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 2, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

In accordance with the recommendations of the Wire Commissioner, and for the reason stated in a communication from him submitted herewith, I return without my approval an order passed by your Board May 25, rescinding so much of the order passed by the Board of Aldermen, December 5, 1898, as authorized the Superintendent of Streets to issue a permit to the Boston Electric Light Company to erect poles on K street, South Boston.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

WIRE DEPARTMENT.

Old Court House, June 2, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: I beg to acknowledge the receipt of the accompanying order "rescinding so much of the order of the Board of Aldermen, passed November 5, 1898, as authorized the Superintendent of Streets to issue a permit to the Boston Electric Light Company to erect poles in K street, Wards 14 and 15," and I respectfully submit the following report:

The number of poles called for in the original order and shown on the plan on file in this office is three, and they are to be used for the support of the circuits furnishing current to the street lights in this and other streets of South Boston. These wires are now attached to the shade trees in the street, a method which this Department condemns, particularly in the case of high tension wires of this class, as it is impossible to secure the supports therefor in a safe or permanent manner, owing to the corrosive effect of the sap in the trees on the nails, spikes, or screws used in fastening the necessary insulating supports, and for the further reason that the swaying of trees during the prevalence of strong winds tends to pull these supports from their fastenings, either breaking the wire, or causing it to drop within reach of persons in the streets, or on wires that are in themselves harmless, rendering both extremely dangerous to persons and property.

The exact location of these poles has been selected by representatives of this Department and are the least objectionable possible to the abutters.

It is my opinion that this company should be permitted to comply with the requirements of the Wire Department and at the same time reduce the dangers attending the transmission of high tension currents, by setting the number of poles (3) indicated in the original order of December 5, 1898.

Yours very truly,

THOMAS W. FLOOD,

Commissioner of Wires.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements and later in the session passed, the Mayor's objections to the contrary notwithstanding.

Drinking Fountain, East Boston.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 1, 1899

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Water Commissioner in reply to your order of May 6, requesting certain information in regard to drinking fountains in East Boston.

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE WATER COMMISSIONER.

City Hall, May 27, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: Answering, in the order in which they are presented, the inquiries relative to drinking fountains in East Boston contained in the attached order of the Board of Aldermen, passed May 8, and referred by your Honor to me for report, I would say:

(1.) The drinking fountain referred to was originally located in the sidewalk around the enclosure known as Central Square. Some time in 1893 the sidewalk was abolished and the land taken for highway purposes. This, of course, necessitated the abandonment of the drinking fountain, and in its place a trough for beasts was established in the middle of the square, and a fountain erected for men on the sidewalk in front of Jackson & Caldwell's store, Central square, where it remained until August 1, 1897, when it was removed by request of the Common Council. We have many times attempted to relocate this fountain in this vicinity, but have been unable to secure a location on account of the refusal of abutters. I shall be very much pleased to restore this fountain if a proper location can be found.

(2.) East Boston will have four or five cold water fountains, one of which is already located and will be in service Memorial Day.

(3.) The following are the locations of the drinking fountains in East Boston:

Bennington street, junction Chelsea street.

Central square.

Maverick square.

Square at Winthrop Junction.

Lewis street, at Marginal street.

Neptune road, at Wood Island Park.

Saratoga street, junction Pope street.

Maverick street, corner Cottage street.

Prescott street, at Bennington street.

120 Marginal street.

Of these fountains, the first four are for beasts only, with continuous flow summer and winter, and the remainder are for men, in warm weather only. The fountain at 120 Marginal street is a "cold water" one.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN R. MURPHY,

Water Commissioner.

Placed on file.

Results of the Repair Division.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 2, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith for your information the accompanying report, made by a committee appointed upon my invitation by the Merchants' Municipal Committee and the Boston Society of Architects. The finding of the Committee, after its expert and impartial investigation, that a net profit of $12,616.60 was earned by this Division between the date of its establishment in January, 1898, and April 1, 1899, is certainly a gratifying one, and in my opinion amply justifies the establishment of this Division, and reflects credit upon its management.

I suggest that the report be printed as a public document.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Boston, Mass., May 27, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: The Committee appointed on examination of Repair Division have attended to the duties assigned them, and beg leave to submit the following report:

A careful examination of the accounts from January 1, 1898, to April, 1899, including verification of pay-rolls and checking of all bills for work and material has been made, and the same found to be correct. The profit to the city during this period, as shown by enclosed statement, is $12,616.60, and the work, so far as the Committee can learn, is of superior quality, and has been performed in a satisfactory manner. While it is difficult to form a correct estimate of the cost of repairs made in many departments, we have found by estimates made upon plans and specifications submitted by the City Architectural Department, that the estimates of the Repair Division were lower than those submitted by outside contractors who were invited to bid in competition, and in some cases the work was performed at less than the estimated cost.

In the opinion of the Committee, the establishment of the Repair Division has been a profitable undertaking for the city, and if its operations were large enough to enable it to purchase a larger machinery plant, and also purchase stock and materials in larger quantities, the Division would be able to do better service for the city.

The system of book-keeping should be changed from single to double entry, as the present method does not show the affairs of the Division in such a complete form as is desirable; and we recommend that this change be made, and the accounts so arranged that the amounts due to, and by the Division, together with the approximate standing of the Division, can be easily and correctly ascertained.

WILLIAM O. BLANEY,

Representing Merchants' Municipal Committee.

J. PICKERING PUTNAM,

C. H. BLACKALL,

EDWIN J. LEWIS, JR.,

Representing Boston Society of Architects.

W. O. BLANEY, Esq., Chairman Committee on Examination of the Repair Division.

DEAR SIR: I have made an examination of the accounts of the Repair Division of the Public Buildings Department of the city of Boston, and beg to submit the following report:

My examination has covered the period from January, 1898, the beginning of the Division, to April 1, 1899, and has included:

(1.) The addition of all pay-rolls as shown on the original pay-roll books, and the verification of their amount by the original paid pay-roll sheets in the City Auditor's office.

(2.) The checking of all bills rendered by the Division, for work performed, with the amounts of the bills deposited in the City Collector's office for collection, with the exception of bills for work done in March, 1899, on uncompleted work, and those bills I have examined.

(3.) The checking of all bills, for purchases of all kinds, made by the Division, with the bills as paid through the Public Buildings Department and City Auditor's office, or with bills remaining unpaid in the Public Buildings Department. The amount of stock on hand April 1 I take from the report of Mr. George H. Manson, and for tools, office furniture and fixtures, machinery and boilers, and horses, wagons, harness, etc., from the vouchers.

Total amount of bills rendered by the Division to April 1, 1899, and deposited in the City Collector's office $201,038 51
Amount of bills for work in March, 1899, on uncompleted work 3,979 49

Total of bills $205,018 00

The books of this Division have been kept by a system of single entry, and do not show the affairs of the Division in such a complete form as I believe it is desirable that they should. They show no merchandise, machinery, tools and fixtures, expense or other impersonal accounts, from which the standing of the Division can be easily obtained. I would recommend that the system of book-keeping be changed to double entry, with the accounts so arranged that the amounts due to and by the Division, can be easily and readily seen, that machinery, tools and fixtures, merchandise, expenses or any other accounts, which may be desirable, be opened, so that, with a trial balance, and an estimate of stock on hand, the approximate standing of the Division can be seen each month.

I annex hereto a copy of the inventory of April 1, 1899.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS P. PARSONS, Accountant.

Contract for Gas Lighting.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 12, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith for your information a copy of a contract between the city and the Rising Sun Street Lighting Company, executed by the Superintendent of Lamps and approved by myself on May 31.

While this contract is a departure from the general policy, in which I am a strong believer, of having all work for the municipality performed, as far as practicable and reasonably economical, by its own employees, the Superintendent of Lamps and myself were satisfied after enquiry that the city could not in any other manner secure the very important benefits of better street-lighting, through the use of the incandescent mantle and the boulevard type of lantern. The fact that the use of this mantle, which is now admitted and demonstrated by patents, and that the policy of the owners of these patents, adhered to wherever the incandescent mantle has been introduced extensively, has been to take charge of the care and maintenance of such lamps themselves, or through local companies, instead of entrusting them to municipal authorities, seemed to render it necessary for the city either to forego the important advantages of securing better lighted streets, at substantially the same cost as at present — thus falling behind other large cities both in this country and abroad, in which the mantle system of lighting has been or is being extensively introduced — or else to make an exception in this case to its general policy of employing its labor directly.

Under this contract the contracting company is to install throughout the city, at its own expense, boulevard lanterns of the latest improved type, and is to maintain such lanterns so that each will furnish a sixty candle-power light, which is nearly four times the light now furnished; any reductions in the price of gas which may be secured from any company furnishing it are to inure to the sole benefit of the city, and it is further understood that the company is to take into its employment all of the lamplighters now in the service of the city, at the same rate of pay.

While the Superintendent of Lamps and myself have taken a considerable responsibility in the making of this contract, we are entirely confident that the results will commend themselves to our citizens generally, and that the city will derive a material benefit from the change. I believe that it will be possible in many places to meet the demand for additional electric lights by the installation of these new lamps, and that the city will thus make a sufficient economy to fully make up for the slightly greater cost per lamp; and if necessary, the Lamp Department can be run without any increased expense whatever under the contract, and give a very greatly increased amount of street-lighting. I believe also that the substitution of ornamental boulevard lanterns for the present gas-lamps, many of which are in a poor state of repair, will tend to beautify the city and to improve the appearance of the residential sections; and the original cost of installing such lanterns, which is wholly borne by the contractor, must amount to a very considerable sum. I may add that the Superintendent of Lamps and myself will welcome any fair inquiry into all the circumstances surrounding the making of this contract if the City Council believes that our citizens desire any further enlightenment with reference thereto.

I think it proper to add that the making of this contract in no wise indicates any change in the general policy of extending rather than diminishing the direct employment of labor by the city, which I have favored since I have been in office, and that there is no foundation whatever for reports which have been put in circulation that it was my intention to transfer to contractors any other work which the city is now performing through its own employees.

Respectfully submitted,
JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

(Accompanying the above was the copy of the contract referred to. This contract will be found printed in THE CITY RECORD, No. 23, page 438.)

In connection with the above, Alderman Doyle offered the following:

Ordered, That the Committee on Lamps be instructed to inquire into the contract for lamp-lighting recently made with the Rising Sun Street Lighting Company, and to report to this Board its conclusions regarding the same.

The communication and order were referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Malden Bridge Loan Rescinded.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 12, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith an order passed by the Board of Apportionment rescinding the loan order providing $50,000 for rebuilding the draw and reconstructing the present Malden bridge, for the reason that this work is now otherwise provided for, under the provisions of Chapter 280 of the Acts of the year 1899, under which the sum of $200,000 has already been charged off against the borrowing capacity of the city for the current year, and is available for this purpose.

This order requires to be passed in concurrence by both branches of the City Council before it can take effect, and of course it is desirable that this money, which is now tied up, should be made available for other uses.

Respectfully submitted,
JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

IN BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

June 3, 1899.

Ordered, That the order passed by this Board on February 7, 1899, appropriating fifty thousand (50,000) dollars for rebuilding the draw and reconstructing the present Malden bridge, and authorizing the City Treasurer to issue bonds of the City of Boston, payable in ten years from their date, to said amount for said purpose, be, and hereby is, rescinded.

JOSIAH QUINCY,
DAVID F. BARRY,
JOHN P. DORE,
DANIEL J. KILEY,
LAURENCE MINOT,

Members of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

Passed in concurrence with the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. Sent down for concurrence.

Loan For Militia Target Grounds.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 12, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

Under the provisions of Chapter 142 of the Acts of 1898, this city was forbidden to acquire land "for a ground or place for the parade, drill and target practice of the militia," as had been required by a previous statute, prior to the first day of June in the current year, and it was further provided that the appropriation of $125,000 made for such purpose by the City Council in the year 1895 should not be "divided or used or applied for any other purpose" prior to said date.

This statute was passed as a step toward carrying out the recommendation which had been made by the State Inspector-General of Rifle Practice that the Commonwealth should provide such a parade ground for the use of the militia of the cities and towns of the Metropolitan District, instead of having such a ground provided by the City of Boston for the use of its own militia. The policy thus presented received my hearty approval at the time, and I think that all competent authorities recognize that it is the correct one, particularly in view of the fact it is exceedingly difficult, if not altogether impossible, for the City of Boston to obtain a suitable piece of land for this purpose within its own limits, and of the complications which are met with in attempting to go outside of its limits. In view of the position of the authorities of the State having charge of rifle practice and of this statute, I believe that this city is fully warranted in taking no further steps for the acquirement of a rifle range, in awaiting action of the Commonwealth to provide for the establishment of a Metropolitan rifle range, and in devoting to other uses the appropriation made for this purpose, which has remained unused for the last four years; and I am confirmed in this opinion by the apparent futility, judging by past experience, of any efforts to secure the application of this appropriation.

I therefore desire, particularly in view of the urgent need of this money for other purposes, to recommend to the City Council the passage of the accompanying order, rescinding this appropriation (which order can be passed by a majority vote of each branch), which will add the sum of $125,000 to the very limited amount of borrowing capacity for the remainder of this year. If this order should be passed, I should favor the appropriation of this money for the usual street improvements in the different wards of the city.

I think it proper to add for the information of the City Council, that if it should not see fit to pass such a rescinding order, I should transfer this appropriation to the appropriation for the maintenance of the Sewer Division of the Street Department, under the authority of Chapter 450 of the Acts of the year 1899; so that it will not in any case be available for the purposes originally designated.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Ordered, That so much of the order approved July 9, 1895, as appropriated $125,000 for "grounds for the parade, drill, and target practice of the militia belonging to the City of Boston," be and hereby is rescinded.

Sale of Marcella-street Home.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 12, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Chairman of the Trustees for Children, calling attention to the very crowded condition of the Parental School, and to the need of authorizing the sale of the Marcella-street Home property, for which these Trustees have no further use, in order that means may be provided for making the necessary additions to the Parental School. In a communication to the City Council under date of May 16, 1898, I again renewed a recommendation which I had already once made, that authority be given for the sale of the Marcella-street Home property, but no action has yet been taken upon the matter. I now desire to earnestly renew the recommendation, and to urge the passage of the accompanying order, which turns this property over to the Street Commissioners for sale, following the usual course, instead of authorizing its sale directly by the Trustees for Children. In order to enable the Board of Apportionment to act intelligently upon the application of the Children's Trustees for additional appropriations for the Parental School, it should know whether the Marcella-street Home property is to be sold.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

CHILDREN'S INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

June 9, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: The Trustees for Children desire to call your attention again to the overcrowding of the Parental School at West Roxbury, and earnestly trust that the Board of Estimate and Apportionment may see its way clear to grant temporary relief.

We now have 213 boys in this institution, originally intended for 80. These boys are overcrowded, and it is not to the credit of our city to receive them without giving them proper accommodations.

In this connection the Trustees feel that the very valuable property, formerly known as the Marcella-street Home, containing 338,337 feet of land, in the heart of our city, should be sold, as it can no longer be used by us, and in this way the means for taking proper care of the increasing number of truant boys in our city can be provided.

Respectfully yours,

H. A. LAMB, Chairman.

Ordered, That the Trustees for Children be authorized to transfer to the Board of Street Commissioners the Marcella-street Home property, the same being no longer used as an institution for children, and that said Board of Street Commissioners be authorized, with the approval of His Honor the Mayor, to sell the same for such price and upon such terms as they may deem advantageous.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Street-watering Districts.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 12, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I transmit herewith a map showing a division of the city into street-watering districts, as prepared by the Superintendent of Streets, and I hereby recommend the passage of the accompanying order prepared by him, such order being in conformity with the provisions of Chapter 366 of the Acts of the present year.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the territory of the city be divided into four street-watering districts, as shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Street-watering Districts, 1899. Benj. W. Wells, Superintendent of Streets," on file in the office of said Superintendent, and that the owners of estates abutting on public ways or parts thereof in said districts shall pay an assessment per linear foot of their estates so abutting, to be used for watering each way or part thereof to the same extent in the same district, as follows:

In District No. 1, seven cents.

In District No. 2, six cents.

In District No. 3, five cents.

In District No. 4, four cents.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

The following constitutes Chapter 450 of the Acts of 1899 regarding the sewerage works of Boston:

AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE SEWERAGE WORKS OF THE CITY OF BOSTON.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. Section 1 of Chapter 426 of the Acts of the year 1897, as amended by Chapter 257 of the Acts of the year 1898, is hereby further amended by striking out the whole of said section and inserting in place thereof the following: Section 1. The board or boards authorized to make appropriations for the City of Boston, by a majority vote of the members of such board or boards, approved by the City Council of said city by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all the members of each branch thereof, taken by a call of the yeas and nays, or, if there should be no such board or boards, then said City Council by such two-thirds vote, may annually appropriate, to be met by the issue of bonds as hereinafter provided, sums not exceeding $1,000,000 in any one year for constructing sewerage works in said city, and shall also appropriate, to be met by the annual income and taxes of said city, sums for maintaining and operating the sewerage works, and such sums as the City Treasurer of said city shall each year determine to be the amount to be used for interest on the bonds issued for sewerage works, and also the amount to be used for the sinking-funds for bonds issued for sewerage works, which, with all other amounts so used, and their accumulations, will pay all such bonds at maturity; and there shall also be used for said sinking-funds all premiums received from the sale of said bonds, and all amounts received for breach of any contract for constructing sewerage works, or for securities deposited as security for making such contracts and declared to be forfeited to the city, or for sales of property. All sewers, drains, pumping stations and other works for the collection or disposal of sewage, or surface or ground water in said city shall be included in the term "sewerage work," as used in this act, and no such work shall hereafter be constructed in said city, except under authority of this act, unless the same has been ordered to be constructed before the passage thereof.

Sect. 2. Section 5 of said Chapter 426 is hereby amended by inserting in the ninth line after the word, "Middlesex," the words: or for the County of Suffolk—and by inserting at the end of said section the words: In any case where a petition is filed by the Mayor in the County of Middlesex the cause shall be transferred to the County of Suffolk if the owner, within thirty days after the filing of said petition shall file in the office of the Clerk of Courts for the County of Middlesex a statement in writing that he desires said cause to be tried in the County of Suffolk — so as to read as follows: Section 5. Said city shall pay all damages sustained by the owner of any land, water-course, right or easement taken by said Board, or injured in any manner, or by any person, in doing any act or thing under Section 4 of this act, the same to be agreed upon by said Board with the approval of the Mayor and said owner, and if they cannot agree the damages shall, on the petition of said owner or Mayor, be determined by a jury of the Superior Court for the County of Middlesex or for the County of Suffolk in the manner provided by law with respect to lands taken for highways in said City of Boston, and costs shall be taxed and execution issued in favor of the prevailing party, as in civil cases. Any person whose water rights are thus taken or injured may apply as aforesaid within three years from the time of such taking or injury, and not afterwards. In any case where a petition is filed by the Mayor in the County of Middlesex, the cause shall be transferred to the County of Suffolk if the owner, within thirty days after the filing of said petition, shall file in the office of the Clerk of Courts for the County of Middlesex a statement in writing that he desires said cause to be tried in the County of Suffolk.

Sect. 3. Section 7 of said Chapter is hereby amended by striking out the whole of said section and inserting in place thereof the following: Section 7. The Board of Street Commissioners of said city at any time within two years after any new sewer or drain for the collection or disposal of sewage or of surface or ground water is completed, shall assess upon the several estates especially benefited by such sewer or drain, a proportional part of the cost thereof, not exceeding in amount the sum of $4 per linear foot. Any such assessment which shall be found to be invalid and is unpaid, or which shall have been recovered back, may be re-assessed by said Board to the amount for which, and to the person to whom, the original assessment ought to have been made. Every such re-assessment and every such original assessment shall be a lien upon the estate assessed or re-assessed for two years after such assessment or re-assessment, and shall be collected and paid into the city treasury in conformity with the provisions of Sections 16 and 17 of Chapter 323 of the Acts of the year 1891, and acts in amendment thereof or in addition thereto. Said Board may assess upon any estate heretofore or hereafter connected with a public sewer a reasonable part of the cost of construction thereof: provided, that no owner of the estate has paid for such sewer or has paid any assessment for its construction. Every such assessment may be revised and corrected by said Board of Street Commissioners, and such assessments and revised and corrected assessments shall be subject to an appeal to the Superior Court in the manner provided for appeals from the Board of Assessors in the case of taxes, and they shall not be affected by the provisions of the statute requiring the filing of a list of estates liable to taxation as a prerequisite to an appeal.

Sect. 4. All votes heretofore passed by the City Council or by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of the City of Boston under the provisions of Chapter 426 of the Acts of the year 1897, and of Chapter 257 of the Acts of the year 1898, authorizing the issue of bonds of said city for the construction of sewerage works, are hereby ratified and confirmed; and all bonds heretofore or hereafter issued as authorized by said votes, shall be legal obligations of said city, and the interest and sinking-fund requirements thereof shall be paid from the income and taxes of said city. The Treasurer of said city, upon request of the Mayor, shall issue bonds of said city outside the debt limit thereof, payable in five years from their date, to the amount required to repay all sewerage charges collected by said city under the provisions of Section 7 of Chapter 426 of the Acts of the year 1897, prior to the date hereof, and use the proceeds of such bonds to repay said sewerage charges, and for no other purpose. The Mayor of said city may authorize the transfer of any loans or parts of any loans heretofore made or authorized, and not required to meet any contract, except loans for sewerage works, water-works or subways, to an amount not exceeding $350,000, to meet the expenses of operating and maintaining said sewerage works until the first day of February in the year 1900; and the Treasurer of said city shall thereupon hold the proceeds of the loans or parts of the loans so authorized, and use the same to meet said expenses. The Board of Assessors of said city shall include in their assessment of taxes, tax lists and warrants for the current year, in addition to the amounts already authorized to be inserted therein, the further sum of $122,669.88, to meet the interest and sinking-fund requirements for the current year of the bonds for the construction of sewerage works, issued prior to said first day of February.

Yours very truly,

JOHN F. DEVER, Clerk of Committees.

P. S. Some of these schools may not be required, and, if so, I will notify you later.

Placed on file.

The resignations of six teachers were accepted.

The Superintendent presented the following appointments, confirmations and transfers, certified by him as made in accordance with the Rules and Regulations, which were laid over under the rules: The appointments of three teachers on probation, the confirmation of five teachers, and the transfers of two teachers. Leave of absence was granted to five teachers.

The Superintendent presented the following communication:

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE.

June 13, 1899.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

On April 11, 1899, the School Board passed the following vote:

"Ordered, That the Superintendent be requested to report to this Board the names of masters of the grammar schools, if any, whose removal would be for the best interest of the Boston public schools."

After careful consideration of this matter relatively to the grammar masters now in the service of the city, I have concluded that the good of the schools does not require the removal of any master at the present time.

The removal of a master by public action is a grave matter, and one which ought not even to be suggested publicly, except for strong reasons. A master guilty of crime or of discreditable behavior might properly be proceeded against at once, and publicly. But such cases are rare, and can be dealt with singly as they arise.

In all other cases, public removal, or public mention for that purpose, is a last resort, to be adopted only when other measures have failed. If, for example, a master is growing old and feeble, his friends can be relied on usually to suggest to him that the time has come for him to hand in his resignation. Or an informal suggestion to the same end made by officials in a proper way would seldom go unheeded. Even if it were necessary to proceed in a formal and official manner, it certainly would be best that the initial steps should take place privately, and that the master whose retirement was desired should be given an opportunity to offer his resignation without being publicly asked for it.

Publicity in relation to such matters is to be avoided for the very good reason that a teacher's professional standing and reputation ought not to be impaired unnecessarily.

Supposing then that there are masters whose retirement from the service might be desirable now, or at an early day, it would certainly be premature, and it might be unjust to publish their names to the world at the present time. For there is no doubt whatever that resignations would be offered in response to proper suggestion in all cases.

Respectfully submitted,

EDWIN P. SEAVER,

Superintendent of Public Schools.

Laid on the table.

Mr. Aldrich, for the Committee on New Buildings, to whom was referred, March 28, a communication from the Common Council, through His Honor the Mayor, requesting the School Committee to consider the advisability of selecting a site and erecting thereon a new primary school-house in the vicinity of Thorndike and Reed streets, Ward 17, reported that this proposition has been brought to the attention of the School Committee a number of times, and your committee fully appreciate the efforts of the residents of this section to obtain additional school accommodations which are undoubtedly needed, and they recommend that the Common Council be respectfully informed, through His Honor the Mayor, that the School Committee will take the necessary steps toward the selection of a site and the erection of a building as soon as an appropriation for the purpose can be obtained.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to His Honor the Mayor.

On the recommendation of the Committee on New Buildings, it was ordered

(1.) That the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to advertise for proposals for selling to the city a lot of land containing twenty thousand (20,000) square feet, more or less, for a site for a new primary school-house in the Sherwin District, Roxbury, within the territory bounded approximately by Huntington avenue, Vancouver street, Ward street, Cottage place, Tremont street, and Camden street, extended to Huntington avenue.

(2.) That the Committee on New Buildings be authorized to provide temporary accommodations in the Bigelow District substantially in accordance with the foregoing report, and at an expense not to exceed that specified therein.

(3.) That the plans and specifications prepared by Edmund M. Wheelwright, architect, for a plumbing system for the Mechanic Arts High School-house be accepted, and the same are hereby approved by this Board, and the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to execute a contract with William N. McKenna in the sum of $4,198 for furnishing and installing a plumbing system in said school-house, substantially in accordance with said plans and specifications, the said McKenna being the lowest bidder.

(4.) That the Committee on New Buildings is hereby authorized to sell at public auction the buildings now standing on the site bordering on Bartlett, School, and Pearl streets, at Charlestown, taken for school purposes April 14, 1899, and that any expenses incurred in connection with such sale shall be charged to, and any proceeds in excess of such expenses, credited to, the appropriation for new primary school-house, Warren District.

(5.) That the City Treasurer be requested to issue negotiable bonds of the city to the amount of three hundred thousand (300,000) dollars and to hold the proceeds of the same in the treasury, and pay therefrom the expenses incurred for land taken and the construction and furnishing of a normal school building, under the provisions of Chapter 239 of the Acts of 1899.

Mr. Aldrich, for the same committee, to whom was referred, February 14, a communication from the Common Council, through His Honor the Mayor, requesting the School Committee to provide school accommodations of the primary grade at that section of Ward 23 known as Central Station, reported that while they realize the importance of school facilities keeping pace with the development of this section of the city, they are yet constrained to state there are no funds at their disposal to meet the cost of a new building as suggested. They hope, however, to be able to provide the desired accommodations at no distant date, and recommend that the Common Council be informed, through His Honor the Mayor, that this matter will receive their favorable consideration at the earliest opportunity.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to His Honor the Mayor.

Mr. Aldrich, for the same committee, to whom was referred, March 28, a communication from the Common Council, through His Honor the Mayor, requesting the School Committee to take such steps as may be necessary for the erection of a building for kindergarten and primary school purposes on the site of the present school building on Leon street, Ward 19, reported that the necessity of replacing the present Ora Allen School-house, referred to, by a new and modern building has long been recognized, and numerous efforts made to bring about the desired result. Your committee gave this matter very earnest consideration some months ago, but arrived at the conclusion that it would be wiser to obtain a better and more conveniently located site in the Sherwin District than to rebuild on the present Leon street lot. An appropriation to cover the cost of a new building is now available, the architects have been selected by this Board, and your committee understand that favorable action has been taken by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and by both branches of the City Council with regard to providing an appropriation to cover the cost of a new site. Your committee recommend that the information contained in the foregoing report be transmitted to the Common Council, through His Honor the Mayor.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to His Honor the Mayor.

Mr. Aldrich, for the same committee, to whom was referred, March 28, a communication from the Common Council, through His Honor the Mayor, requesting the School Committee to consider the advisability of purchasing land and erecting a school-house thereon in the vicinity of Byron street, Ward 1, the expense of the same to be taken from the sum set aside by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for the purpose of building new schools, reported that in consideration of the somewhat limited amount available for new school accommodations during the current year, and the urgent necessities existing in various sections of the city for additional facilities, your committee felt that they could not consistently favor the proposition in question this year. They hope, however, to be able to give this matter renewed consideration early next year, and recommend that the Common Council be so informed.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to the Common Council.

Mr. Aldrich, for the same committee, to whom was referred, March 28, a communication from the City Council requesting the School Committee to remodel the Chapman School building, and to add a six-room wing to it, etc., reported that they have considered the matter and recommend that the City Council be informed that it is the intention of the School Committee to replace the present Chapman School-house by an entirely new building, the plans for which are now being drawn and will be completed at an early date.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to the City Council.

It was ordered (1) that the Paul Gore street lot, in Jamaica Plain, be surrendered to the City Council for immediate sale, the said lot being no longer required for school purposes, and that the proceeds of such sale be appropriated for the purpose of adding six additional rooms upon the Wyman School in the Lowell District.

(2.) That the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to advertise for proposals for selling to the city a lot of land in Dorchester, containing thirty-five thousand (35,000) square feet, more or less, for a site for a new grammar school-house, within the territory bounded approximately by Blue Hill avenue, Lauriat avenue, the New England Railroad, and Walk Hill street.

(3.) That the City Council be granted the use of the following-named school-houses for children's entertainments July 4, 1899, provided that the regular janitors of said school-houses be employed to take charge of the buildings on that day: Emerson, Blackinton, Frothingham, Hancock, Eliot, Wells, Phillips, Quincy, Franklin, Rice, Lawrence, Lincoln, Andrew, Sherwin, Hyde, Martin, Comins, Lowell, O'Brien, Roxbury High, Shaw, Minot, Harris, Tileston, Pierce, and the High School drill-hall for dancing.

On the third ballot for School-house Agent, twenty-three votes were cast; one vote was defective and was not counted; F. L. Coolidge had one vote; M. W. Burlen had nine votes; Horace B. Fisher had twelve votes, and was accordingly elected School-house Agent.

Mr. Strange, for the Committee on Courses of Study and Text Books, presented the annual report of that committee in print (School Document No. 4, 1899).

Mr. Anderson, for the Committee on Rules and Regulations, to whom was referred, May 15, a communication from the Common Council, through His Honor the Mayor, requesting the School Committee to adopt a regulation providing that the date for reopening after the summer vacation, all the high, grammar, primary and kindergarten schools of the City of Boston shall be the first Tuesday after the second Monday of September in each year, reported that they are not in favor of the proposition, and call attention to their report presented at the meeting of May 9 on the same subject.

They recommend, therefore, that the Common Council be respectfully informed, through His Honor the Mayor, that the School Committee deem it inexpedient to adopt the regulation suggested.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to His Honor the Mayor.

On the recommendation of the same committee it was ordered (1) that the sessions of the Roxbury High School during the school year 1899-1900 shall extend from 9 o'clock A.M. to 4 o'clock P.M., with the understanding that no pupil shall be compelled to attend more than five hours per day.

(2.) That the average amount of a teacher's work per week in the Roxbury High School for the school year 1899-1900 shall be reckoned as six hundred and fifty (650) recitation periods of fifty minutes each for a single pupil.

It was also ordered

(1.) That the Board of Supervisors be requested to consider and to report to this Board relative to the following matters:

a. Whether it is expedient that in each school year there be not less than forty-five weeks, and whether said period shall be divided into three or four terms.

b. Whether, assuming that there should be four terms in each year, the course of study for the summer term should be radically different from that in the other three terms. Also whether the course of study and the grading should be so arranged that pupils not attending the summer term should be able to progress in regular class organization.

c. Assuming that the school year should not be essentially changed, what provision, if any, should be made to meet the present demand for vacation schools, to furnish occupation and training for the thousands of children now spending the long summer vacation in idleness or worse.

d. Whether the number of pupils per teacher should not be decreased and, if so, to what number.

e. Whether the course of study should not be so changed and simplified that pupils shall pursue less studies of the same time, to the end that sound scholarship and mental grasp may be encouraged, and smattering and superficiality be lessened.

f. Whether the course of study should be so changed and rearranged that pupils may select a specified number of courses adapted to their individual capacities and needs, and may not be granted diplomas more on account of development of power than because of time spent in alleged educational work.

g. Whether the rigidity of the present graded system should not be relaxed in other ways besides those specified above, to the end that pupils may have more time for continuous study, and be relieved from the distraction and confusion now the cause of so great nervous waste on the part of both pupils and teachers.

h. What other changes in the course of study and the arrangement of school terms, and in the administration of the schools, are necessary and expedient in order that the results achieved may be more consonant with the expense of equipment and maintenance and with the time given by children to the work of education.

(2.) That all persons in the employ of the School Committee during the month of August, 1899, who will be deprived of a portion of their salaries for said month, on the ground that the School Committee might otherwise exceed their authority in making contracts beyond the appropriation allowed them by law, receive sums sufficient to make good such reduction in September, 1899, the same to be independent of any salary that may be due them for said month.

(3.) That the Superintendent of Streets, through His Honor the Mayor, be requested to put Arlington street, between Commonwealth avenue and Beacon street, in such repair that the lives of scholars and others passing over said street on bicycles may not be endangered.

Mrs. Fifield, for the Committee on the Ninth Division, to whom was referred, May 23, a communication from the Common Council, through His Honor the Mayor, requesting that the School Committee lay out and construct, as a park and playground, a portion of the yard of the Tileston School, Dorchester District, which is not now used for any purpose, reported that the proposition meets with their cordial approval, but they are not aware of any funds within the control of the School Committee which can be drawn upon to meet the cost of the suggested improvements. They, therefore, recommend that the Common Council be respectfully informed, through His Honor the Mayor, that there is no objection on the part of this Board to the proposed use of the unoccupied portion of the Tileston School lot until such time as it may be required for school purposes, provided that all expense in connection with this matter be assumed by the Common Council.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to His Honor the Mayor.

It was ordered (1) that the members of the Board of Supervisors be requested to attend the next meeting of this Board, for conference and discussion with regard to the condition and needs of the public schools.

(2.) That an additional kindergarten be established in the Washington Allston and in the Robert G. Shaw Districts, the latter to be situated in the old Baker-street School-house.

(4.) That the salary due Samuel P. Howard, deceased, late janitor of the Bigelow School, be paid to his widow, Mary Howard.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

City Hall, June 19, 1899.

A meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment was held Monday, June 19, 1899, at 12 M. at the Mayor's office, City Hall.

Present: All the members except Mr. Barry.

The records of the last meeting were approved, their reading being dispensed with, on motion of Mr. Dore.

A communication was received from the Water Commissioner, requesting a loan appropriation of $25,000 for extension of mains, to enable various firms desiring to introduce the fire-sprinkler system to connect with the water mains.

Water Commissioner John R. Murphy, Mr. J. Richard Carter, for the Carter, Rice & Co. Corporation and for the H. H. Hunnewell heirs, and Mr. James W. Tufts, were heard by the Board in regard to the proposed loan. The Water Commissioner stated that such extensions had formerly been paid from such a loan, but that he had been paying for them out of his maintenance appropriation. This he could not do any longer, as his appropriation is not sufficiently large. Messrs. Carter and Tufts stated that they desired to introduce the sprinkler system as soon as they could obtain a supply of water.

An order (passed by the City Council) was received requesting the Board to transfer the sum of $5,000 from the reserve fund to the appropriation for Assessing Department.

A hearing was given to Mr. Frank A. Drew, Chairman of the Board of Assessors, who stated that, largely on account of the increased work required of the Board by laws passed by the Legislature of 1899, the Board was unable to meet the expense of its work with the appropriation at its disposal. The Board then went into executive session.

A communication was received from Mayor Quincy requesting the Board to prepare and pass a loan order appropriating $25,000 for the extension of water mains.

Mr. Minot moved the adoption of the following:

Ordered, That the additional sum of twenty-five thousand (25,000) dollars be appropriated, to be expended by the Water Department in the extension of water mains; and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds of the City of Boston to said amount for said purpose.

On motion of Mr. Kiley, further consideration of the matter was assigned to the next meeting of the Board.

A communication was received from Mayor Quincy transmitting a communication from the City Auditor stating that, subject to the approval of the Board, he had transferred the sum of $5,000 from the appropriation for Reserve Fund to the appropriation for Assessing Department.

On motion of Mr. Dore, it was Voted, To approve the transfer by the City Auditor of five thousand (5,000) dollars from the appropriation for Reserve Fund to the appropriation for Assessing Department.

The vote was signed by the four members present.

Mr. Dore called up the following assignments:

(1.) Communication from the Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the City Hospital, requesting that an additional appropriation of $14,565.17 be made for new buildings, City Hospital, to replace the amount paid from the said appropriation on an execution of court in favor of Whidden & Co.

(2.) Message from Mayor Quincy requesting the Board to prepare and pass an order making an additional appropriation of $14,500 for new buildings, City Hospital.

(3.) Ordered, That in addition to the amounts heretofore appropriated, the Trustees of the City Hospital be, and hereby are, authorized to expend an additional sum of fourteen thousand five hundred (14,500) dollars for new buildings, which amount is appropriated for said purpose; and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds of the City of Boston to said amount for said purpose.

The communications were placed on file, and the order was adopted — yeas 4:

Yeas — Messrs. Minot, Dore and Kiley, and Mayor Quincy — 4.

The order was signed by the above members, they certifying upon the original order that the said appropriation is not to meet a current expense.

Mr. Minot called up the following assignment:

Ordered, That the order approved June 16, 1898, authorizing the Superintendent of Streets to expend $71,000 for a new ferry-boat, to take the place of the "East Boston," and appropriating for said purpose the sum of $57,500 received from the United States government for the said ferry-boat, and the sum of $13,500 from the loan authorized by Chapter 435 of the Acts of 1895, be, and hereby is, rescinded; that the Superintendent of Streets, with the approval of His Honor the Mayor, be authorized to purchase from the United States government the gunboats "East Boston" and "Governor Russell," being the former ferry-boats "East Boston" and "William E. Russell," which were purchased from the city by the United States government and converted by it into gunboats for use during the late Spanish war, and to refit the same for use as ferry-boats; that the sum of $57,500 received from the United States government for the ferry-boat "East Boston" be appropriated towards meeting the expense of purchasing said gunboats and refitting them as ferry-boats; and that the additional amount required to meet the expense of purchasing said gunboats and refitting them for use as ferry-boats, not to exceed forty thousand (40,000) dollars, be charged to the appropriation for new ferry landing, authorized by Chapter 435 of the Acts of 1895.

On motion of Mr. Kiley, the matter was assigned to the next meeting.

Adjourned, on motion of Mr. Kiley, at 1.12 P.M., to meet on Thursday, June 22, at 1 P.M.

LAURENCE MINOT, Secretary.

I transmit herewith a communication from the Fire Commissioner in reply to your order requesting "a list of those employees in the Fire Department who have not been put on the vacation list."

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE FIRE COMMISSIONER,

Bristol Street, June 2, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: Replying to the request of the Honorable Common Council, I would respectfully report that the employees of this Department not included in the vacation list are the Commissioner, five men on the special force of the Fire-alarm Branch, and thirty permanent substitutes who had not been in the Department six months before the vacation season began.

Veto — Farragut Day Celebration.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 2, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I return herewith without my approval the order passed by your body providing for the expenditure of not exceeding $1,000 for the observance of June 28, for the reason that there is no balance in the appropriation for City Council, Incidental Expenses, to which this expenditure is to be charged, and also for the further reason that all such celebrations should, in my opinion, be provided for at the beginning of the year in the regular appropriations for such purposes.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The question came on the passage of the order, notwithstanding the objections of His Honor the Mayor. The order was indefinitely postponed.

Veto — Map Order.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 2, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I return herewith without my approval the order providing for the purchase of 500 copies of a new map of Boston, for the reason that there is no balance in the appropriation for City Council, Incidental Expenses, to which this expense is to be charged, out of which to meet the cost of carrying out the order, which would amount to nearly $1,500.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The question came on the passage of the order over the veto of the Mayor. The order was indefinitely postponed.

The Common Council, at its meeting on the fifteenth instant, adjourned to meet on Thursday, June 29, at 7.45 P.M.

The report contains the usual detailed statements regarding the receipts and expenditures of the several divisions of the Department, and the usual lists showing the location and use of the buildings under the charge of the Department.

The first annual report of Mr. Logue, Chief of the Repair Division, forms a part of the report of the Superintendent of Public Buildings.

The Division was organized on January 12, 1898, and was given the old Battery building on Plympton street as headquarters, on which the Division made extensive alterations to fit it with workshops in the various trades. Part of the building was set apart for the Electrical Construction Division, and was fitted up for them by this Division.

The Division has done work for the various city departments since its organization, to the amount of $184,449; the principal items being for Public Buildings Department, $45,562; Baths Department, $44,275; Children's Institutions Department, $16,392; Fire Department, $15,512; Street Department, $15,150; and for the Election Commissioners, $12,066.

Some of the principal jobs are the following:

Heating and plumbing of Laundry Building, City Hospital; foundations and finishing of veterinary hospital for Fire Department; Wood Island Bath-house; floating bath-house, located at Harvard bridge, and said to be the finest in the country, was built by this Division at a cost of $3,500 — which is $500 less than has been paid for the old-style floating baths; gymnasium at Commonwealth Park; alteration of Mayor's and City Clerk's offices; building of twenty wooden booths for the Election Commissioners at less than $200 each; extensive alterations at House of Reformation, Rainsford Island, and rebuilding of bridge and wharf, carried away by storm of November 27; alterations at Austin and Pierce Farms, and building coal-run at pumping station.

Unsuccessful efforts have been made by the Division to obtain some of the repairs on school buildings.

Almost all of the work has been done on the basis of 10 per cent. over the net cost of material and labor, and out of this 10 per cent. and the profit made on some work on which estimates had been given, the Division has paid all its expenses and made a net profit of $11,922.66.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.

The Joint City Council Committee, in charge of the programme for the Fourth of July celebration, for which an appropriation of $11,000 has been made by the city, has about completed its arrangements.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, at 3 P.M., on Monday, June 26, 1899, Chairman Barry presiding and all the members present.

The following messages were received from His Honor the Mayor:

Veto — Land for Burial Purposes.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 26, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my approval the order passed by your Board granting permission to the Boston Catholic Cemetery Association to use for purposes of burial a parcel of land on Harvard and Walk Hill streets, Dorchester, containing about fifty-four acres, as I do not believe that the passage of this order is consistent with sound municipal policy.

This permit seems to be granted under Section 18 of Chapter 82 of the Public Statutes, which provides that "no land not already appropriated for burial purposes shall be so used in cities unless by permission of the Mayor and Aldermen." I base my disapproval of this order upon the following grounds:

First—I do not believe that it is desirable to further enlarge to any material extent the area of land within the city limits which is already devoted to cemetery purposes. Besides the seventeen cemeteries in charge of the Cemetery Department of the city there are an equal number within the city limits not owned by the city, and the aggregate area of desirable land thus dedicated to the disposal of the dead is very considerable. As all land devoted to cemetery purposes is entirely exempt from taxation, every new cemetery established and every addition to the area of an existing cemetery withdraws property from taxation; and while the taxes now received from land so withdrawn may not be considered at existing valuations, it must be remembered that such withdrawal is for all future time, and that with the growth of population all land within the city limits is bound to increase very largely in value in the future, and, moreover, that the dedication of land to cemetery purposes exerts a decidedly unfavorable influence upon the value and development of adjacent property.

While the property which the Catholic Cemetery Association proposes to purchase if this permit is granted is only assessed at present for about two cents a foot, the fact that the price which is to be paid amounts to six cents a foot, or about $140,000 for the parcel of land to be acquired, would seem to show that it already has a very substantial value; and from the character of the surroundings there can be no doubt that this property and the adjacent land would in the future acquire a considerable value for residential purposes, if present conditions remain unchanged.

I do not believe that it is necessary or desirable for a large city to undertake to provide burial facilities for all its people within the city limits, and it is well known that the dead of large cities are buried to a very considerable extent either outside of the city limits altogether, or, where such limits are very extensive, at a greater distance from the centre of the city than the land in question. Personally, I am opposed to the burial of the dead, alike upon sanitary, economic and sentimental grounds, believing cremation to be far preferable; but recognizing the established practice and the prevailing sentiment in favor of burial, as well as the fact that many persons have religious scruples against cremation, I should not feel warranted in standing in the way of the granting of such a permit as the present one merely because of such personal views. I feel, however, that everyone must admit the necessity of confining within proper limits the dedication to the purposes of burial of land within the limits of a large city.

If all residents of Boston were to be buried within the limits of the city, the amount of land taken up for the dead would in the course of time encroach very seriously upon that needed for the use of the living, and the financial loss of exempting such large areas of valuable land from taxation, to say nothing of the injury to adjacent property, would become very considerable. Sound policy and a due regard for the interests of coming generations require that we should consider the future as well as the present effects of allowing the withdrawal from taxation of additional considerable areas of land. I can see no exigency in the present case which requires a departure from what seems to me the sound general rule.

I am confirmed in these views by the fact that no permit for the addition of any considerable area to any cemetery within the city limits has been granted since 1890. I think it has been generally felt that the boundaries of existing cemeteries could be taken as fixed, and that calculations for the development of real estate could be made upon this basis.

Secondly—The land covered by this permit is not immediately adjacent to the existing cemetery grounds; it lies on the other side of a public street, and it is not even directly opposite the present cemetery. The area which it is proposed to add will only approach the present cemetery at one corner, and will even there be separated by a street, and it seems to me that it should therefore be regarded rather as a new and separate cemetery, in everything except ownership and name, than as an enlargement of an existing cemetery.

Thirdly—The Boston Catholic Cemetery Association is the owner of another large cemetery, called the Mt. Benedict Catholic Cemetery, which is only about two and one-half miles distant from Mt. Calvary Cemetery, and is distant from City Hall less than a mile more than the former cemetery, and here there is a large area of land not yet developed, and entirely suitable for burial purposes. I cannot see that any great hardship will be occasioned to the members of the association if they are obliged to utilize Mt. Benedict Cemetery more fully, as Mt. Calvary Cemetery becomes filled up.

Fourthly—The owners of land in the immediate vicinity of the tract which it is proposed to take for this purpose seem to be pretty unanimous and strenuous in objecting to the granting of this permit, believing that the value of their property will thereby be considerably depreciated, and its future development prevented. The section in which this land is included has been fully and elaborately platted under the law establishing the Board of Survey, and there is little doubt that it will be developed in time as an attractive residential neighborhood, containing a large amount of taxable property, if the cemetery is kept within its present limits.

For these and other reasons it seems to me that the conclusions reached by the committee of your Board, which, after full hearings, reported that this order ought not to pass, were entirely warranted; and while I may not be fully aware of all the arguments which led the majority of your Board to decline in this case to follow the usual course and sustain the report of the committee which had heard the matter—although I have endeavored to ascertain them—I feel convinced that no public interest will suffer by the refusal of this permit.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

VACATION PLAYGROUNDS IN SCHOOLYARDS.

For several years the School Committee has granted the use of certain schoolyards during the summer vacation to the Massachusetts Emergency and Hygiene Association to be used as playgrounds for children. During the summer of 1898 the Association maintained and managed twelve such playgrounds at its own expense. In addition nineteen schoolyards were opened at the instance of Mayor Quincy, and placed under the management of the Superintendent of Public Buildings. (See Vol. I., THE CITY RECORD, page 502.)

The appropriation of the School Committee for the current year contains an item of $3,000 for vacation playgrounds. On May 9, 1899, the School Committee passed the following order:

Ordered, That in order to carry on the vacation work of the present year, for which the School Board appropriated the sum of $3,000, there be granted the use of such yards and basements as, in the opinion of the Massachusetts Emergency and Hygiene Association, may be needed.

At its meeting, held June 27, the School Committee voted to approve the list of schoolyard-playgrounds and the list of persons to be employed in them during the summer of 1899, as presented by the Committee on Playgrounds of the Massachusetts Emergency and Hygiene Association. (See THE CITY RECORD, page 498.)

The following statement includes the names and locations of the vacation playgrounds, and a list of the persons charged with their management:

REPORT OF PARK COMMISSIONERS.

The annual report of the Park Department for the year 1898, constituting Document 24, 1899, has been submitted to His Honor the Mayor.

In their report the Commissioners state that during the winter the original plans for park construction were carefully revised, and by the omission of expensive buildings and other features the amount finally considered necessary to complete the parks was cut down one-half; that is to say, from about $3,000,000 to about $1,500,000. Of this sum $500,000 have been obtained.

After the expenditure of the remaining million it is believed that the period of park construction will be ended.

The work of the year may be summarized by saying that it has consisted principally in building boundary walls and planting boundary trees, and in planting trees along the parkways, and in other parts of the parks where they have been much needed, notably in Wood Island Park, and in pruning and otherwise taking care of the old trees and shrubs much neglected during the many years of road building and other construction, thus giving freedom for new life and vigor to the trees and shrubs, and letting in the sunlight to the encouragement of the undergrowth and of the song birds who make it their home; in building roads, in somewhat delayed performance of our contract with Harvard College, on Peters Hill, and the new Francis Parkman road by Jamaica pond in both localities opening delightful views to the public; in Franklin Park, substituting a grassy glade for the expensive greeting or concourse; in much loaming where no loam has been before, or where it has been put in insufficient quantities, covering over the old gravel pits; taking down the "Galvin House" and the sheep barn, and otherwise removing artificial blemishes.

The Department has endeavored to put things in such condition that the city will in the future be called upon for the least annual expense for park maintenance.

The act of the Legislature, authorizing the Board, with the approval of the Mayor, to purchase playgrounds in different parts of the city, and appropriating $500,000 therefor, not more than $200,000 to be spent in any one year, was not approved by the City Council till December 31, 1898. Therefore no action under this statute has yet been taken. The crying need of the children in the densely populated parts of the city for something better than the streets to play in is manifest to all our citizens, and in view of the high value placed upon Boston real estate, $500,000 seems all too small.

Following the report of the Commissioners are the reports of the Superintendent and of the Engineer. These contain a detailed account of the work done at each of the parks and playgrounds, with an outline of future plans for their further development.

In addition to these, the general report embraces various financial statements of the Department; statistics and tables concerning the parks of the city; a report of the committee of the Massachusetts Emergency and Hygiene Association regarding Charlesbank; copies of the statutes passed by the Legislature during 1898 relating to public parks in Boston, and a summary of such statutes since 1866.

The expenditures of the Department for land, construction and maintenance from February 1, 1898 to January 31, 1899, have been as follows:

(3) Trust Funds. (4) Book-keeping Items.

Special Publications, No. 3, is in form a consolidation of Special Publications No. 1 and 2, but the tables have been continued and brought down for another year. It gives a complete review of the Ordinary Receipts and Expenditures for the five years ending January 31, 1898.

The total amount of Ordinary Receipts and Expenditures together with the relation of this total to the total Receipts and Expenditures of the other three classes and to the total Receipts and Expenditures of the city and county are set forth in a general financial statement for the five years.

The Ordinary Receipts and Expenditures are separately stated in a fuller form, and balanced to show the amount of ordinary revenue used for extraordinary purposes, or vice versa, in a series of tables headed "Summary of Ordinary Receipts and Expenditures." In these tables the receipts and expenditures of the Water Department are separately stated in order to facilitate comparisons in which these figures must be excluded. A further set of tables headed "Analysis of Ordinary Revenue" give for each year a summarized statement of the city income, excluding the receipts of the Water Works, by certain classes of revenue.

These tables may be compared with a series of tables published annually by the City Auditor in his report, in which the same income is classified by the department through which the income is received. It has not been deemed advisable to republish these tables, as they are already available in that report. The several classes of revenue, as summarized in the present analysis, have been developed in detail in a series of tables (see Detail Tables—Ordinary Revenue), so that by comparing the various items here stated with the Auditor's report, it is easy to identify every item included in a given class.

A series of tables headed "Analysis by Departments of Expenditure for Ordinary purposes," give (1) the funds available for current expenses of each department, namely, the appropriation made by the City Council at the beginning of the year, the income credited directly to the department during the year and balances available from the previous year; (2) the actual expenditures, of the department for ordinary purposes; (3) the surplus or deficit of available funds with respect to the appropriations made at the beginning of the year. Supplementary appropriations and transfers made during the year are not taken into consideration in preparing this table. The details of these facts, for each department by classes of expenditure, have been developed in a special series of tables (see Detail Tables—Ordinary Expenditures).

BOARD OF ALDERMEN ACTING AS COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Following is the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of the Boston Elevated Railway Company vs. Edward W. Preshe et al., Board of Aldermen of the City of Boston acting as County Commissioners for the County of Suffolk:

HOLMES, J. This is a petition for a writ of prohibition to prevent the Board of Aldermen of the City of Boston from adjudicating the damages suffered by a land-owner whose land was taken by the petitioner under Section 11 of its charter. Stats. 1894, Chap. 548. The question is whether that somewhat blind section gives jurisdiction to the above mentioned Board.

After authorizing the petitioner to take land for the purpose of constructing its railway, etc., the section goes on: "and for such purposes may take any private property in the manner in which land may be taken for the construction of railroads as set forth in Sects. 95, 96 and 97 of Chapter 112 of the Public Statutes." These are the words relied on by the respondents. The section then requires the petitioner to pay all damages, etc., and concludes: "such damages on the application of either party shall be estimated and determined in the manner provided in reference to the assessment of damages occasioned by the laying out of highways." These are the words relied on by the petitioner. The argument for the petitioner is admitted by it to require at least the rejection of the reference to Sections 95 and 96 of the railroad act. That for the respondents requires a somewhat unnatural interpretation of the words in which that reference is made, and a restriction of the later words by which the manner of estimating the damages is to be made the same as in the case of highways.

We are unable to reject the express reference to Pub. Stats. Chap. 112, Sects. 96 and

97. It is true that those sections do not prescribe a manner of taking in the usual and literal sense of the words referring to them. They authorize a taking and prescribe a manner of estimating damages, upon the application of either party to the County Commissioners. But the words referring to those sections clearly enough show the intent to adopt their contents, and only need to be taken with a vagueness not exceeding the common latitude of speech.

In Section 97 there is a special provision for security to those whose land is taken. In view of the experimental nature of the system of construction approved by the Act of 1894, we cannot doubt that it was intended to give persons whose land should be taken by the petitioner the benefit of this provision. But if we once admit that some part of the reference to the manner of providing for payment of damages was made understandingly, it is more difficult than ever to suppose that the rest of it was made through mistake. If not, then we have a consistent scheme, and a right of either party to apply to the County Commissioners within three years for the assessment of damages as well as for the security for which, as we have said, it must have been intended to provide.

In some way or other the last part of the section which we are trying to construe (Stats. 1894, Chap. 548, Sect. 11) must be reconciled with this view. The last part of Sect. 11, it will be remembered, adopts the manner of assessing damages in highway proceedings. One of the incidents of a complete adoption of that manner would be that petitions of land-owners in Boston would go before the Street Commissioners, Pub. Stats., Chap. 49, Sect. 84, instead of before the Board of Aldermen.

As the plaintiff's charter contemplates its having lines in different counties, and as there is no reference in terms either to Aldermen or to Street Commissioners, possibly either substitute for the County Commissioners in Boston would be consistent with the retention of the reference to Pub. Stats., Chap. 112, Sects. 95 and 96. But the contrary is assumed by the petitioner, and we agree that the retention of the reference to those sections more naturally would be taken to refer to petitions for damages to the tribunals sitting in railroad cases, that is to say in Boston cases to the Board of Aldermen, who also are the general representatives in Boston of County Commissioners. We think that the reference to highway proceedings is sufficiently accounted for if it be regarded as a sort of drag-net to secure to land-owners whatever rights could be secured in that way, which were not already provided for by the reference to Pub. Stats., Chap. 112, Sects. 95 to 97. It may be that it will be necessary to rely upon it to secure both parties a trial by jury, as that matter is not dealt with in the chapter on railroads until Sect. 99. How this may be we express no opinion at the present time. We are of the opinion that the Board of Aldermen have jurisdiction of the cases before them.

Petition denied.

By a recent act of the Legislature of Vermont, the first Monday in September will hereafter be a legal holiday, to be known as Labor Day.

PUBLIC CHARITY IN NEW YORK CITY.

According to Mr. Coler, the Comptroller of New York City, whose article, entitled "Abuse of Public Charity," is published in the June number of the "Popular Science Monthly," 10 per cent. of all persons who die in that city are buried at public expense in the Potter's Field, although less than 1 per cent. of the living are paupers or dependent persons.

Mr. Coler estimates that the city will contribute directly and indirectly nearly six and one-half millions of dollars for public charity in 1899—a sum equal to between 14 and 15 per cent. of the ordinary expenses of the city for the year.

The direct contributions of the city, and of the counties included in it, are as follows for 1899: Appropriation for the Department of Public Charities, $1,941,215; appropriation divided among 215 private charitable and correctional institutions, over which the city has no direct control, $1,784,846; contribution for the support of paupers, derived from excise, $1,000,000; payments to the State for similar purposes by the counties of New York, Kings and Richmond, $206,196; $50,000 from license fees divided among 82 private societies—total, $4,982,257.

Mr. Coler estimates the indirect contributions of the city, through loss of taxes on exempted property belonging to charitable institutions and from the defrayment of assessments on such property for public improvements, at $1,500,000, which being added to the amount appropriated for charitable purposes gives a total of $6,482,257.

Mr. Coler states that nearly one-half of the charitable societies and institutions which receive aid from the city treasury have been organized during the last ten years, and that very many of them could not exist six months without such aid. He is of the opinion that a disproportionate portion of the money appropriated for charitable purposes is expended for the salaries and wages of persons engaged in relief work, and among the cases cited in support of his opinion is that of one of the oldest and best managed charitable institutions in the city, which out of a total expenditure of $309,000 in 1898 reported a salary account of over $114,000.

The lack of control by the city authorities over the expenditures of public money by private institutions and associations; extravagance in the item of salaries and wages, and the assistance given to professional beggars and other unworthy persons are the principal abuses against which Mr. Coler inveighs.

SOLEMNIZATION OF MARRIAGES.

The following act constitutes Chapter 387 of the Acts of 1899, and the appended list gives the names and addresses of Justices of the Peace who have been designated to solemnize marriages in the City of Boston in accordance with the provisions of the new law.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. No Justice of the Peace shall solemnize a marriage in this Commonwealth unless he also holds one of the following offices: City or Town Clerk or Assistant City or Town Clerk; City Registrar or Assistant City Registrar; Clerk of a court or Assistant Clerk of a court; or unless he shall have been specially designated by the Governor as hereinafter provided.

Sect. 2. The Governor may, at his discretion, designate Justices of the Peace who may solemnize marriages in the city or town in which they severally reside. The number so designated shall not exceed one to every 5,000 inhabitants of the city or town: provided, however, that one such justice may be designated in each town. Such designation may be revoked by the Governor at any time for cause.

Sect. 3. Each Justice of the Peace designated as provided in Section 2 shall receive a certificate of such designation, for which he shall pay to the Secretary of the Commonwealth a fee of $5; and he shall not solemnize a marriage until he has received such certificate and qualified thereunder.

Sect. 4. The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall annually in January send to the several city and town clerks and city registrars a list of all Justices of the Peace designated under this act, with the dates of termination of such designations.

Sect. 5. This act shall take effect on the first day of July in the year 1899. [Approved May 23, 1899.]

RESIGNATION OF THE CORPORATION COUNSEL.

The following letters from the Corporation Counsel, the resolution of the Board of Aldermen, and the reply of his Honor the Mayor, are self-explanatory.

Mr. Bailey's letter of resignation is as follows:

Boston, June 27, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: I hereby resign my position as Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, and request that you will immediately accept the same. I have tried during my service for the city to give it my best and honest effort; but, from the proceedings of the Board of Aldermen, as reported in the "Boston Daily Advertiser," I find that I am regarded as giving opinions and advice entirely regardless of my opinion of the law, and that no member of the Board thinks otherwise. Under these circumstances I do not consider it consistent with my self-respect to longer continue to hold said office.

Respectfully,

ANDREW J. BAILEY.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted by the Board of aldermen at its meeting on June 29, 1899:

Resolved, That the Board of Aldermen regret exceedingly the resignation of the Hon. Andrew J. Bailey from the position of Corporation Counsel.

The Board of Aldermen has the greatest confidence in his ability as a lawyer, and while we may differ from him at times, we nevertheless respect his opinions, and we earnestly request that he withdraw his resignation.

The letter of Mr. Bailey withdrawing his resignation and the letter of His Honor the Mayor, are as follows:

Boston, June 30, 1899.

TO THE MAYOR AND BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

GENTLEMEN: At your request, made in such kind terms, I gladly withdraw my resignation of the office of Corporation Counsel.

As most of you know, my service with the city has been a labor of love, and my associations with you all have been of the most pleasant character, and were not lightly or easily broken, but the feeling, arising, perhaps, from oversensitiveness, that I had failed to satisfy you, that my opinions were mine alone, and the result of my best efforts, and this feeling alone was the cause of my resignation.

The kind expressions of the Mayor, the members of the Board of Aldermen, the members of the Common Council and others, made both publicly and privately, have given me the keen satisfaction of believing that I was wrong in that feeling, and I only too gladly continue in the service which I love so well.

I assure you that these expressions receive my heartfelt gratitude, and that they will prove an additional incentive to my giving my best efforts to the service of the city.

Yours very truly,

ANDREW J. BAILEY.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 30, 1899.

HON. A. J. BAILEY, Corporation Counsel, Boston.

DEAR SIR: I have your letter of June 30 withdrawing your resignation, which I had declined to accept, of the office of Corporation Counsel. I am very glad that the matter has ended in this way.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY.

Land for War Department.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 29, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

The United States government, through the War Department, desires to purchase additional land on Long Island for the enlargement of the area already under its ownership, and the Trustees for Paupers have assented to this proposed transfer of land. The price has been agreed to at $1,200 an acre, which, it seems to me, is a fair compensation for the city to receive from the government, and I desire to ask for the speedy passage of the accompanying order, as the War Department desires to take possession of the additional land at once.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Ordered: That His Honor the Mayor be authorized to convey to the United States government the land on Long Island required by the War Department for an enlargement of the parcel of land on said island already owned by the United States government and used for military purposes, at a price of $1,200 per acre.

Transmitted to the Common Council without alteration.

The Committee on New Buildings, to whom was referred, February 14, a communication from the Common Council, through His Honor the Mayor, requesting the School Committee to provide school accommodations of the primary grade at that section of Ward 23, known as Central Station, report that while they realize the importance of school facilities keeping pace with the development of this section of the city, they are yet constrained to state that there are no funds at their disposal to meet the cost of a new building as suggested. They hope, however, to be able to provide the desired accommodations at no distant date, and recommend that the Common Council be informed, through His Honor the Mayor, that this matter will receive their favorable consideration at the earliest opportunity.

For the Committee,

E. I. ALDRICH, Chairman.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to His Honor the Mayor.

School Building — Leon Street.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 16, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication received from the School Committee in reply to your order requesting them to take such steps as may be necessary for the erection of a building for kindergarten and primary school purposes on the site of the present school building on Leon street, Ward 19.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

IN SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

June 13, 1899.

The Committee on New Buildings, to whom was referred, March 28, a communication from the Common Council, through His Honor the Mayor, requesting the School Committee to take such steps as may be necessary for the erection of a building for kindergarten and primary school purposes on the site of the present school building on Leon street, Ward 19, report that the necessity of replacing the present Ira Allen School-house, referred to, by a new and modern building has long been recognized, and numerous efforts have been made to bring about the desired result. Your committee gave this matter very earnest consideration some months ago, but arrived at the conclusion that it would be wiser to obtain a better and more conveniently located site in the Sherwin District than to rebuild on the present Leon-street lot. An appropriation to cover the cost of a new building is now available, the architects have been selected by this Board, and your committee understand that favorable action has been taken by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and by both branches of the City Council with regard to providing an appropriation to cover the cost of a new site. Your committee recommend that the information contained in the foregoing report be transmitted to the Common Council, through His Honor the Mayor.

For the Committee,

E. I. ALDRICH, Chairman.

Accepted and ordered to be sent to His Honor the Mayor.

bility of purchasing land and erecting a school-house in the vicinity of Byron street, Ward 1.

IN SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

June 13, 1899.

The Committee on New Buildings, to whom was referred, March 28, a communication from the Common Council, through His Honor the Mayor, requesting the School Committee to consider the advisability of purchasing land and erecting a school-house thereon in the vicinity of Byron street, Ward 1, the expense of the same to be taken from the sum set aside by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for the purpose of building new schools, report that in consideration of the somewhat limited amount available for new school accommodations during the current year, and the urgent necessities existing in various sections of the city for additional facilities, your committee felt that they could not consistently favor the proposition in question this year. They hope, however, to be able to give this matter renewed consideration early next year, and recommend that the Common Council be so informed.

For the Committee,

E. I. ALDRICH, Chairman.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to His Honor the Mayor

IN SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

June 13, 1899.

The Committee on the Ninth Division, to whom was referred, May 23, a communication from the Common Council, through His Honor the Mayor, requesting that the School Committee lay out and construct as a park and playground, a portion of the yard of the Tileston School, Dorchester District, which is not now used for any purpose, report that the proposition meets with their cordial approval, but they are not aware of any funds within the control of the School Committee which can be drawn upon to meet the cost of the suggested improvements. They therefore recommend that the Common Council be respectfully informed, through His Honor the Mayor, that there is no objection on the part of this Board to the proposed use of the unoccupied portion of the Tileston School lot until such time as it may be required for school purposes, provided that all expense in connection with this matter be assumed by the Common Council.

Wires on Broadway.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 29, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Commissioner of Wires in reply to your order requesting information as to "whether any action can be taken to oblige the Boston Elevated Railway Company to place its cables on Broadway, South Boston, underground."

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

WIRE DEPARTMENT.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: I beg leave to acknowledge the receipt of the following order passed by the Common Council June 15, 1899:

"Ordered, That the Wire Commissioner, through His Honor the Mayor, be requested to report to the Common Council whether any action can be taken to oblige the Boston Elevated Railway Company to place its cables on Broadway, South Boston, underground, in order to prevent further injury to the trees on that thoroughfare."

I respectfully beg leave to submit the following report:

Chapter 454, Acts of 1894, authorizes the Commissioner of Wires to cause to be removed from above the surface of the streets all wires with the exception of the long distance telephone wires and the trolley wires of the Boston Elevated Railway Company within the district south of Dover and Berkeley streets, which includes that portion of the city proper. This act does not give him authority to order the removal of any wires or cables outside that district until after January 1, 1900.

Chapter 249, Acts of 1898, authorizes him to remove from at least two miles of streets, avenues and highways, within any portion of the City of Boston, all wires, with the exception of those before mentioned, it being the purpose and intention of this act to cause the removal from twenty miles of streets, avenues and highways outside the prescribed district of all overhead wires prior to the first day of January, in the year 1910. At any time after January 1, 1900, the Commissioner of Wires can order the Boston Elevated Railway Company to place its cables on Broadway, South Boston, underground, providing that public interests will be best served by so doing.

Inasmuch as the amount of streets which are to be cleared of poles and wires is limited to two miles per year, it will require careful consideration on the part of the Wire Commissioner as to where this work shall first begin. The purpose and intention of this act would seem to be that that portion of the city where large numbers of wires are located which would prove to be an obstruction to the Fire Department in the performance of its duties, and where they are in a measure a menace to life and property should be first attended to; and there are a great many streets within the city limits that contain more overhead wires which are in a worse condition at the present time than those in Broadway, South Boston.

The location of the poles owned by the Boston Elevated Railway Company was granted by the Board of Aldermen. It was impossible to support the wires on these poles without interfering with the trees, in many cases without fastening them thereto. These fastenings are of an unreliable nature, and cannot be depended on; they frequently give way and let the wires come in contact with the branches, abrading the insulation, and often shortening the life of the trees very materially. These feeders, however, are a necessary adjunct to that portion of the street railway which cannot be operated without them, and there is no authority vested in the Wire Commissioner to cause their removal at this time.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS W. FLOOD,

Commissioner of Wires.

Park Near Columbia Road.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, June 29, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Board of Park Commissioners in reply to your order requesting the said Board "to lay out a park and a playground south-east of the Columbia road, and to consider the feasibility of providing in connection therewith, if possible, a suitable house for beach-bathing purposes."

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

BOARD OF PARK COMMISSIONERS.

June 26, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: In reply to the request of the Common Council of June 15, that we submit a report in relation to the matter of a park or playground in the territory south-east of Columbia road and providing in connection therewith a suitable house for beach-bathing purposes, we beg to say that the land in question is a margin of salt marsh, irregular in form, bordering on extensive flats and undefended from the tides which cover it for considerable periods each month, and that to make the ground available for the purposes mentioned would require a large expenditure of money for which no appropriation is available.

This location is so near the L street bath-house as to make it undesirable to establish another bathing place here.

Yours respectfully,

LABAN PRATT, Chairman pro tempore.

Ordered printed, and assigned to the next meeting.

DEATH OF MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL.

The death of Mr. Joseph Caldwell, a well-known citizen of Charlestown, occurred at his summer home at Clifton, Mass., on Saturday, July 8, 1899.

Mr. Caldwell was born in Charlestown in 1822. He served an apprenticeship at spar-making in the Navy Yard, and in 1850 went into the mast and spar business at Winchester's wharf, Charlestown.

During 1860-61-62, and again in 1865, Mr. Caldwell served as a member of the Charlestown Board of Aldermen, and in 1880-81-82 he was a member of the Boston Board of Aldermen. He represented his district in the Massachusetts House of Representatives during 1858 and 1859.

THE EAST BOSTON TUNNEL.

Following is the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Causten Browne et al. vs. Alfred T. Turner, City Treasurer, George G. Crocker et al., members of the Boston Transit Commission, the Boston Elevated Railway Company and the West End Street Railway Company, regarding the construction of the proposed East Boston tunnel:

HAMMOND, J. This is a petition under Statutes 1898, Chapter 490. At the threshold of the case it is urged by the respondents that the constitutional questions which the petitioners seek to raise are not open to them upon such a petition.

In view of the conclusion to which we have come in relation to the statutory questions involved, we have had no occasion to consider the constitutional questions, nor of course whether they can be raised in this way. The statutory question is simply whether the tunnel which the Transit Commission has voted, and intends to build, is such as Statutes 1897, Chapter 500, calls for.

As the first step in this inquiry it is necessary to ascertain what kind of a tunnel the Commission has voted and intends to build. On October 18, 1898, the Commission passed the following vote:

"Whereas, the Corporation Counsel has expressed the opinion that, under Section 17 of Chapter 500 of the Acts of the year 1897, this Commission is authorized to build a tunnel or tunnels to East Boston either from the surface at a point on or near Hanover street or from any subway or subways constructed under the authority of Chapter 548 of the Acts of the year 1894:

"Voted, That the construction of a tunnel or tunnels, beginning on or near Hanover street in the City of Boston, or beginning at such other point or points as may be proper for a suitable connection with the subway or subways authorized by Chapter 548 of the Acts of the year 1894, thence running to a point at or near Maverick square in that part of Boston called East Boston, making there a suitable connection with the surface tracks, be proceeded with, and that as a preliminary the Chief Engineer be instructed to have surveys, estimates and plans made for such tunnel or tunnels."

On November 29, 1898, it "Voted, That Route 3-4 be adopted as the route for the East Boston tunnel as far as the vicinity of Atlantic avenue" in the city proper, and on February 16 and February 23, 1899, it passed the following votes, respectively:

"Whereas, The statutes creating this Commission and providing for the construction of the subway and a tunnel to East Boston contemplate a system of public travel to be conducted by street railway cars:

"Voted, That, in the judgment of this Commission, a connection by surface street railway tracks between the proposed tunnel to East Boston and the subway is a suitable connection within the meaning of Section 17 of Chapter 500 of the Acts of 1897."

"Voted, That the construction of the tunnel west of the point indicated in the vote of Tuesday, November 29, 1898, shall be such that the tracks shall rise to the surface of the ground by an inclined way."

In addition to these votes, the Court has found the following: "The tunnel about to be constructed under the votes set forth in Exhibit 3 will run from Maverick square in East Boston to the junction of Atlantic avenue and Eastern avenue in the city proper, along the route marked 3-4, as shown in Exhibit 2. The Commissioners have come to no definite decision as to the precise direction of the tunnel beyond the last named point, but they are considering the feasibility of bringing the tunnel to the surface on or near Atlantic avenue or Commercial street by means of an incline, or of coming to the surface near North square, or of turning in a southerly direction on Atlantic avenue and coming to the surface at some point south of the junction of that avenue with Eastern avenue, or of going towards the subway in some other direction."

It thus appears that the easterly terminus is to be at Maverick square, where it will come to the surface by an incline, making there a suitable connection with surface tracks, and that the westerly terminus will be at least as far west as the junction of Atlantic avenue and Eastern avenue in the city proper. Whether it will come to the surface at that point or at some distance from there is not definitely decided, but it is certain that it will come to the surface no nearer the subway than North square, which, as appears by the plan, is at least 1,500 feet from the nearest point of the subway, and much farther than that from any car entrance to the subway; and that the only connection between the tunnel and the subway is by means of surface tracks.

Is this such a tunnel as the statute calls for? If the statute requires that the tunnel shall make an actual physical connection with the subway, or at least a direct and immediate connection with the subway, so that passengers can pass directly from one to the other, the question must be answered in the negative. Otherwise it may be answered in the affirmative.

The decision of this question depends upon the interpretation to be given to the following words in Section 17 of Statutes 1897, Chapter 500: "Whenever said corporation [the Boston Elevated Railway Company] is authorized to begin the construction of its railroad over the route first applied for, as provided in Section 13 of this act, the Boston Transit Commission shall construct a tunnel or tunnels of sufficient size for two railway tracks, with approaches, entrances, sidings, stations and connections therefor, and for the running of railway cars therein, or such other point or points as said Board may deem proper for a suitable connection with the subway or subways provided for in Section 25 of said Chapter 548, to a point at or near Maverick square in that part of Boston called East Boston, where a suitable connection with surface tracks may be made."

Simply and briefly the question is: Does this language require that the westerly end of the tunnel shall touch the subway, or at least come in direct and immediate connection with it, as above stated?

Inasmuch as the words last above quoted constitute only a part of one section in a statute of several sections, which statute is only one of several upon the same general subject of rapid transit in Boston and its immediate vicinity, it is proper to review to some extent the prior legislation on this matter; and, further, to see what was the actual condition of things, physical or otherwise, at the time of the passage of the act, so far as material to this inquiry.

The first act authorizing the construction of a subway was Statutes 1893, Chapter 478. Section 1, provided that the Mayor of Boston should appoint a Board of three Subway Commissioners. By Section 2 this Board was authorized to lay out and construct for street railway purposes a subway, with approaches, stations, exits and entrances, from a point or points at or near the junction of Tremont and Pleasant streets to Scollay square, and to other streets near Scollay square to a point or points where, in the judgment of the Board, a suitable and advantageous exit to connect with surface tracks might be obtained.

By Section 3, authority was given to the Board to take lands either below or upon the surface as might be requisite, for the widening of the subway and for suitable approaches thereto and extension thereof to connect with surface tracks and for suitable stations, exits and entrances. By Section 7, power was given to the Board to compel the cars of any lines of street railway running in and through said city to run in and through the subway.

It is manifest that this statute contemplated a physical union between the entrances to and the exits from the subway and the surface tracks, and the Commission was authorized to take such "lands either below or upon the surface" as might be requisite for widening the subway, and for suitable approaches thereto and extension thereof, to connect with those tracks. In other words, they were authorized to build the subway and to extend the approach so as to make connection with the surface tracks.

The next statute is Statutes 1894, Chapter 548. The title is "An Act to Incorporate the Boston Elevated Railway Company and to promote Rapid Transit in the City of Boston and vicinity." The first twenty-two sections provide for the incorporation of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, and authorize it to build an elevated railroad over certain routes therein specified, and to lease and purchase certain street or elevated railway lines. The remaining sections provide for the appointment of a Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five persons, and for the construction of subways and a tunnel.

Section 25 authorizes the Commission "to construct in the City of Boston a subway or subways, of sufficient size for four railroad tracks with approaches, entrances, sidings, stations and connections therefor, and for the running of railway cars thereon through and under Tremont street and the adjoining mall of the Boston Common, and through public or private lands adjoining on said street, from a point or points within 100 feet of the junction of Tremont street and Shawmut avenue, to, through and under Scollay square," and "to a point or points on Washington street, or between Scollay square and Causeway street." By Section 26 the Commission was authorized to "construct a tunnel or tunnels of sufficient size for two railway tracks, with approaches, entrances, stations and connections therefor, and for the running of railway cars therein, from a point on or near Scollay square in the City of Boston, where a suitable connection may be made with the subway or subways provided for by this act, to a point on or near Maverick square in that part of Boston called East Boston, where a suitable connection with surface tracks may be made."

Section 27 authorized the Commission to construct subways from Tremont street "to a point on or near Boylston street, where a suitable connection with surface tracks may be made," and another subway from Boylston street "to a point or points on or near Columbus avenue, where a suitable connection with surface tracks may be made"; also another subway from Tremont street "to a point on or near Staniford street or Merri-mac square, where a suitable connection with surface tracks may be made."

By Section 29 the Commission "may locate and construct said subways, tunnels, approaches, tracks, sidings, stations, entrances and connections where it deems best within the limits aforesaid," with certain exceptions not here material; and by subsequent sections, full power to take lands either above or below the surface is given for the purpose of doing the work. By Section 35 the Commission was authorized to grant locations for tracks to, and for two tracks in, said subways and tunnels to be used by any street railway company or companies.

It will be observed that the Commission is to construct not only the subway proper, but also approaches, entrances, sidings, stations and connections therefor, and for the running of railway cars. That is to say, it is to bring the bottom of the subway to the surface of the ground, extending it far enough to make the connection between the subway tracks and the surface tracks, or, in other words, the point of connection from the subway side must be reached by the work which the Commission is authorized to do, while the point of connection from the other side must be reached by the street railway company; and the work of both is to constitute a continuous track or a foundation therefor.

All this means an actual physical connection between the track which the Commission is authorized to construct and the rest of the track, and the Commission is to make the connection; that is, the approach of the tunnel is to be extended far enough to reach the surface tracks. There is to be no intervening space between the extension of the subway and the ground where the surface tracks are laid, the ends of which are to connect with the ends of the subway tracks. The language is always the same, and it is obvious that it means an actual physical connection.

As to the tunnel authorized by Section 26, the language is precisely the same as to the appurtenances connected with the tunnel and as to the connection with surface tracks at its easterly terminus, and of course it must have the same construction. But as to the westerly end the act says that the start must be made "from a point on or near Scollay square . . . where a suitable connection may be made with the subway or subways provided for by this act." These subways were all connected, and a connection with the subway at Scollay square was all that was needed to enable the traveller to reach any point in any of these subways. The nature of that connection will be considered hereafter.

Statutes 1895, Chapter 440, and Statutes 1896, Chapter 492, are not material to this inquiry, and may be passed over without further notice.

We now come to Statutes 1897, Chapter 500, which contains in Section 17 the language to be construed. It is entitled "An Act to Promote Rapid Transit in the City of Boston and Vicinity." The most of its provisions concern the location and construction of the elevated road. But Section 5 provides that whenever the Boston Elevated Railway Company "shall request said Boston Transit Commission or the City of Boston to construct a subway in and under Cambridge street . . . to connect with the subway now being constructed by said Commission . . . said Commission shall forthwith construct an incline, open cut and subway beginning at a point on Cambridge street," etc., and running "to a junction at Scollay square with the subway."

Section 18 makes an additional appropriation for the payment of the costs and expenses of the subways and tunnel.

Between the passage of the Act of 1894 and that of 1897 much progress had been made in the subway construction, and a contract had been made between the City of Boston, acting by the Boston Transit Commission, and the West End Street Railway Company (to whose rights the Boston Elevated Railway afterward succeeded) by which the right to use and occupy the subways and tunnel, constructed or to be constructed under the then existing statutes was granted to the street railway company, such use to be only for the location of the tracks of the company and for the operation of its railway for the purposes enumerated in the contract. Before August, 1897, and probably early in the spring, that portion of the subway extending from the entrances in the Public Garden and from those at Pleasant street to Park street, was nearly completed, and the lessee was engaged in laying its tracks therein. In the spring of 1897, prior to the enactment of Chapter 500 of the acts of that year, the subway was under construction in Cornhill, between Scollay square and Washington street, in Hanover street, between Scollay square and Washington street, and in Washington street, between Adams square and Haymarket square; and the subway has since been completed along this route, from Scollay square to Travers street. At this time the East Boston cars tapped Washington street at Hanover street.

By agreement of parties it also appears:

"(1.) That such tunnel as the Boston Transit Commission is proceeding to construct can be built within the sum now available for tunnel construction, which is $2,634,000.

"(2.) That the estimated cost of such a tunnel as the Boston Transit Commission is about to construct is about $2,500,000.

"(3.) That a tunnel from a point on or near Scollay square, or from any point on the subway, as now existing, to Maverick square cannot now, and would never have been built for any sum available for tunnel construction under the statute of 1894 or the statute of 1897. The estimates of the cost of such a tunnel are between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000. The cost of the subway as now constructed is about $4,250,000.

"(4.) That a tunnel from a point on or near Scollay square, or from any point on the present subway to Maverick square is materially longer and more expensive than a tunnel from any point northerly of the subway on or near Hanover street or Atlantic avenue, such as is proposed to be built.

"(5.) That some portions of the subway authorized by Statutes 1894, Chapter 548, viz.: space for two additional tracks between Scollay square and Park street and between Boylston street and Shawmut avenue, have not yet been built; but no action has been taken by the Commission looking to the construction under said act of any addition to the subway as now existing.

"(6.) That the only connection between the proposed tunnel and the subway, such that cars can pass from one to the other, will be by means of tracks run along the surface from the terminus of the tunnel to the entrance of the subway near Causeway street.

"(7.) That the distance from the intersection of Commercial street and Eastern avenue to the entrance of the subway on Causeway street is about 4,366 feet; that the distance from said intersection to the junction of Hanover and Washington streets via Fleet street and Hanover street, is about 2,517⁵/₁₀ feet, and via Commercial and Hanover streets about 3,346 feet.

"(8.) That said balance of appropriation is not sufficient to connect the tunnel with the subway by any underground structure so as to make a connection at grade to let cars pass immediately from the tunnel into the subway and vice versa.

"(9.) That the Boston Elevated Railway Company entered into an agreement with the City of Boston, dated December 15, 1897, a copy of which is hereto annexed and marked Exhibit 4.

"(10.) That prior to April 1, 1897, the portion of the subway north of Scollay square was under construction in Cornhill, in Hanover street, between Scollay square and Washington street, and in Washington street, between Adams square and Haymarket square.

"(12.) That in the spring of 1897, prior to the enactment of Chapter 500 of the acts of that year, the subway was not completed; the tunnel was not begun; it was estimated by the Transit Commission that the subway would cost about $5,000,000; that a tunnel to East Boston from a point on or near Scollay square, or from the point of the subway nearest to Maverick square, could not be built for the amount then remaining available for a tunnel from the construction of the subway; and that a shorter tunnel, from a more northerly point on or near Hanover street, could be built for $2,406,000, as appears by an estimate on page 14 of the report of the Transit Commissioners, dated August 15, 1896."

And the Court has found that "the appropriation available for the tunnel is sufficient to construct it with an incline from the said last-named junction [the junction of Atlantic avenue with Eastern avenue] to a point on North square, or to a point south of said junction, but not to a point nearer the present subway than North square."

We do not think the fact that a copy of the report made by the Boston Transit Commission to the City Council of Boston, containing an estimate of $2,406,000 as the cost of a tunnel from Maverick square, East Boston, to a point on Hanover street, along the route marked as Route 1 on Exhibit 2, was mailed to members of the Legislature soon after their election can affect the construction to be given to the language under discussion. The report was not made to the Legislature, was doubtless only one of many documents and papers sent to the different legislators while in office, and we cannot assume that any member read it, or that if he did he paid any particular attention to Carson's estimate, which was contained in a few lines, or that if he did pay any such attention he was at all influenced by the estimate in voting upon the bill. Nor would the statement of any member that he was so influenced be admissible, nor even what he supposed the bill meant.

Certain general facts of common knowledge, such as some of those agreed upon in this case, may, however, be taken into consideration, under a principle similar to that under which in construing a private contract the circumstances may be shown to enable the Court to see the situation of the parties.

In the light of this previous legislation and of these circumstances we are to interpret the language of the statute. The first contention of the Commission is that the language does not require that the terminal point in the city must be one which the Board may deem proper for a suitable connection with the subway. They submit that two distinct termini are permitted—first, at a point on or near Hanover street in the City of Boston without reference to any connection with the subway, and, second, such other point or points as said Board may deem proper for a suitable connection with the subway, and that the limitation that the point shall be suitable for a connection with the subway is not attached to the first terminus. But the suggestion is not much pressed, and it does not seem to us to require much discussion. The whole scope of the legislation upon the subject shows that this tunnel is to be regarded as a substitute for the tunnel authorized by Statutes, 1894, and as one of the features of the plan of rapid transportation therein provided for. To interpret the language as giving to the Commission the power to construct a tunnel which should have no relation to this plan would be out of harmony with the general nature of the legislation, and with the general purpose for which the Commission was established and the general nature of the authority conferred upon it.

It must be conceded that the sentence under discussion is loosely constructed, but disregarding punctuation, as may properly be done (Cushing v. Warrick, 9 Gray, 385; Martin v. Gleason, 139 Mass. 187), and bearing in mind that the presumption is that every word of a statute is to have some force and effect (opinion of the Justices, 22 Pick. 571-573), so that in this case the word "other" must be supposed to have some office, and considering above all the general scope of the legislation in which the authority to construct the tunnel is found, and the general nature of the authority conferred upon the Commission by whom it is to be constructed, we have no doubt that the clause, "as said Board may deem proper for a suitable connection with the subway," refers as well to the point, "on or near Hanover street," as to the other, "point or points." The westerly end of the tunnel, therefore, must be at some point which the Commission "may deem proper for a suitable connection with the subway." The Commission has voted that that point shall be many hundred feet from any point of the subway, and that a connection by surface street railway tracks is a suitable connection.

The petitioners contend that the connection between the subway and tunnel must be an actual physical connection; that the tunnel must go to the subway; and that a connection by the track of a street railway several hundred feet in length is not such a connection as the statute calls for.

The point is to be selected by the Commission, and it must be a point where a suitable connection may be made with the subway. That point cannot be fixed until the kind of connection required by the statute is first determined.

What is meant by the word "connection" as here used? The word is used in various places in the preceding statutes on this same subject to which we have referred. Where it refers to surface tracks it means, as we have heretofore said, an actual physical connection with such tracks. Or, in other words, where there is to be a connection with surface tracks, the Commission shall extend the entrance to the subway far enough to reach surface tracks, and it is authorized to take land enough for the purpose, and there is no intervening land between that upon which the subway rails rest and that upon which the surface rails rest. The rails are to meet physically. The authority of the Commission upon the subway side of the point of meeting goes to that point; the authority of the surface road on the other side extends to that point; and there is no intervening link, no intervening authority.

This tunnel is to have two ends, the easterly end in Maverick square, and the westerly in the city proper. The easterly end is to be carried to a point where a suitable connection with surface tracks may be made. This language is the same as that used with reference to the subway, and must receive the same interpretation. That is to say, the tunnel is to rise to the surface, and the approach is to be extended far enough to reach the surface tracks; and to that point the tunnel must go. The manner of making the connection and the details are left to the Commission, but the order to the Commission is to go far enough to make such a physical connection. There must be no intervening rail between the tunnel rail and the rail of the surface road.

The westerly end is to be at some point where a suitable connection may be made with the tunnel. Here, then, is the same phrase "suitable connection." Wherever we have heretofore met it in these statutes we have seen that it means an actual physical contact. Indeed, with reference to the other end of this same tunnel, it has that meaning. One of the most familiar rules relating to the interpretation of statutes is that a word or phrase repeatedly used in the same statute is presumed, in the absence of a clear intent to the contrary, to have the same meaning throughout; and amending statutes are to be regarded as a part of the original statute within the meaning of this rule.

It is to be observed that the connection is to be made by the Commission, and we can see no sound reason for making a distinction as to that duty at the different ends of the tunnel. As at the easterly end the tunnel must be extended far enough to make a physical connection with the surface tracks, so at the westerly end it must go far enough to make a physical connection with the subway; and, as at the easterly end, there must be no intervening link between the tunnel side and the surface track side of the point of connection, so at the westerly end there must be no intervening link between the tunnel side and the subway side of the point of connection. The tunnel must go to a point where such connection may be made, and the Commission must make the connection. The Commission also constructs the subway. Its authority, therefore, on both sides of the point of connection is exclusive, and there must be no intervening power. The connection is to be made complete by their authority.

This is the most natural construction of the statute, when read in the light of the previous legislation upon the same subject, and of the circumstances existing at the time it was passed. Any other construction seems to us not only forced and unnatural when considering the statute by itself, but also entirely inconsistent with the main purpose of the entire body of laws of which this is a part, namely, to secure rapid transit in Boston and vicinity, and to reduce the congestion in the streets by means of a system of subways and tunnels.

But the respondents urge that no such tunnel as called for under this construction of the statute can, or ever could, be built with the sum already appropriated, while the tunnel which the Commission has voted can be built within the appropriation. This fact does not seem to us of much weight. It is a matter of common knowledge that the actual cost of a public work frequently exceeds the estimate, and that appropriations are made from time to time as needed, especially where considerable time is to be taken in its construction.

The change in the westerly end of the tunnel from Scollay square to Hanover street or some other point, is accounted for by the fact that between the passage of the two acts the subway had been extended to Hanover street and elsewhere, so that it was no longer necessary to build the tunnel to Scollay square to reach it. Besides, to reach the square, it might be necessary to cross the tunnel in process of construction on Washington street.

We hold, therefore, that the connection between the westerly end of the tunnel and the subway is to be an actual physical connection, and that the tracks between them must come to the same grade at the point of junction.

Upon this construction of the statute, it is manifest that the Commission is not authorized to construct the tunnel which it has voted to build.

SUMMER CONCERTS BY THE MUNICIPAL BAND.

The first Municipal Concert of the summer season was given under the auspices of the Music Commission at Charlestown on June 17, when the Municipal Band composed of thirty-seven musicians, under the leadership of Emil Mollenhauer, entertained between 5,000 and 6,000 people with a programme of national and popular airs on the Monument grounds. The band had, previous to the concert, taken part in the afternoon parade, which was held under city auspices.

On June 25 the first concert of the season in the city proper was given on Boston Common at 3 P.M., and despite the rain which fell steadily during the band's performance, the music was heard and enjoyed by an immense gathering. Around the band-stand several thousand chairs have been placed for the convenience of those in attendance, and a corps of ushers have been engaged by the Commission to show people to seats, distribute the concert programmes, which are provided at every concert, and otherwise look after the comfort of the audience during the concerts. In addition, an ice-water fountain has been established near the band-stand at the Commissioners' request, and messenger boys carry the water through the aisles of the enclosure for distribution to those who want it.

Concerts on the Common have been given every Sunday afternoon since the opening one, and on July 4, after playing at the city celebration in Tremont Temple, the Band gave three concerts on the Common, viz., from 10.30 to 11.30 A.M., from 3 to 5 P.M., and again at the fireworks exhibition from 7.30 to 9.30 P.M.

It is proposed to continue the concerts on the Common every Sunday afternoon, weather permitting, during July and August.

At Marine Park, South Boston, concerts have been given on Sunday evenings June 25 and July 2, and it is estimated that nearly 8000 people were in attendance from all parts of the city and suburbs. During July and August a concert will be given in Marine Park every alternate Sunday evening at 7.30 P.M. The season's list of concerts also includes the following dates and places:

MUNICIPAL CAMP FOR BOYS AT LONG ISLAND.

The Municipal Camp for Boys at Long Island, under the executive direction of Penal Institutions Commissioner Marshall, was opened on Monday, July 10, 1899.

Sixty-two boys went to the camp on the steamer "J. Putnam Bradlee" Monday morning, and as many more follow on Thursday. Thus the camp, which will continue for eight weeks, will accommodate between 125 and 150 boys each week. The weekly per capita cost last year was $1.83, and it is expected that the expense for maintenance will not exceed that amount this year.

Mr. Edward P. Sherburne, head-master of the Lowell School, has been selected as Superintendent of the camp, and ten aids have been appointed to care for the boys while at the island.

NEXT MEETING OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

The next regular meeting of the School Committee will be held on the second Tuesday in September, i.e., September 12, 1899, at 7.30 P.M.

Messages from the Mayor.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, at 1 P.M., Wednesday, July 12, Chairman Barry presiding. Absent—Alderman Codman.

The Clerk read the call, as follows:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, July 10, 1899.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

You are hereby requested to assemble in the Aldermanic Chamber on Wednesday, July 12, at 1 P.M., for the purpose of acting upon the question of adopting a site for a new engine-house for the use of Engine Company 22.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Placed on file.

The following message was received from His Honor the Mayor:

Site for Engine Company 22.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, July 12, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a copy of an opinion given by the Corporation Counsel to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment relative to the order for the purchase of a site for Engine Company 22. It appears by this opinion that the appropriation has taken effect, but that the Fire Commissioner has not authority to expend it until the proposed site is approved by vote of the City Council. The option for the purchase of this parcel of land was originally secured by the Board of Apportionment to run for the term of forty days; it has already been once renewed for ten days, and I have now secured a second extension of the option up to July 20, and it probably cannot be further renewed.

The unanimous conclusion of the Board of Apportionment was that this site was the most economical one available, and in view of the necessity of deciding this matter one way or the other, owing to the near expiration of the option, I respectfully ask the Board of Aldermen to take action upon it.

I transmit herewith a draft of a suitable order for this purpose, and I desire to call attention to the fact that, as the appropriation has gone into effect and can be expended only for the purchase of this particular parcel of land, it will be necessary to rescind the appropriation order and pass a new one before action could be taken looking to the purchase of any other site. In view of the past difficulties which have been encountered in attempting to select a site for this engine company, I feel that it is almost hopeless to attempt to secure favorable action upon any other site this year, and that if the City Council is unwilling to approve the site in question, the present unfortunate conditions, under which a large amount of valuable property is exposed unnecessarily to extra fire risk, will be indefinitely continued.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

Boston, July 6, 1899.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT:

GENTLEMEN: In reply to your inquiry as to "whether the order passed by the Board on May 22, authorizing the Fire Commissioner to expend for the purchase of land on Warren avenue, adjoining the English High and Latin School building on the north-east side, containing about 7,500 feet, and to erect an engine-house thereon, the amount of $55,000 received for the engine-house on Dartmouth street, formerly used by Engine 22, takes effect thirty days from its submission to the City Council," I have to say that I find from an inspection of the records that the order did not pass through either branch of the City Council, but became an appropriation for the purpose stated by the expiration of thirty days, under the provisions of Chapter 434, Acts of 1898.

I add further, to prevent any misunderstanding that this order cannot give the Fire Commissioner power to purchase the land or to erect the engine-house.

The City Council has the power of determining where its buildings shall be placed, and if the order had passed through each branch without any alteration being made in it, I should construe it as being an approval of the site stated in the order, and as giving the Commissioner the said power, but as it is, he will not have such authority until the City Council has given it.

Respectfully,

ANDREW J. BAILEY,

Corporation Counsel.

Ordered, That the City Council hereby approves as a site for an engine-house the lot of land on Warren avenue, adjoining the English High and Latin School building on the north-east side, and containing about 7,500 square feet, and authorizes the Fire Commissioner to purchase the said land for said purpose.

The order was read a second time, and was assigned to the next meeting.

NEXT MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The next regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be held in the Aldermanic Chamber on Monday, July 17, at 3 P.M.

REPORT OF COMMISSION ON THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

In February last His Honor the Mayor appointed a "Commission to Examine into the Organization, Administration, System and Methods of the Building Department," consisting of Hon. William F. Wharton, Chairman, representing the Boston Real Estate Exchange, Mr. Osborne Howes, representing the Boston Board of Fire Underwriters, Mr. Herbert D. Jaques, representing the Boston Society of Architects, and Mr. Neil McNeil, representing the Master Builders' Association.

Document 114—1899, contains the majority report of the Commission, which is signed by Messrs. Wharton, Howes and Jaques, and a minority report by Mr. McNeil.

Following is a summary of the recommendations contained in the majority report:

It is recommended:

1. That the law be amended so as to require that the Building Commissioner should be possessed of technical education, combined with experience in the construction of buildings in addition to the present qualifications that he should be either an architect, a builder or a civil engineer.

(In the main part of the report certain suggestions have been made as to other qualifications of the Building Commissioner, for the consideration of the appointing power in the selection of a competent person.)

2. That at least two deputy commissioners should be provided by law who should have thorough technical training and wide practical experience in the construction of buildings, and one of whom should be an engineer. That they should be appointed by the Building Commissioner, subject to the approval of the Mayor.

That each deputy should have charge of a special department of the work, assigned to him by the Building Commissioner, and that he should have full control of his department, subject only to the direction of the Building Commissioner.

That if the salary of the Building Commissioner be maintained at the present figure, the salaries of the deputy commissioners should be from $3,000 to $3,500 a year.

3. That the law be amended so as to require that the building inspectors should be selected from men who have by civil service competitive examination been shown to be possessed of the elements of a technical education, and a knowledge of the practical details of building.

That their number be increased to thirty.

That they should no longer be required to attend fires occurring in the district to which they are respectively assigned.

That the Department should be so organized that a uniform system be pursued by the building inspectors in their work of inspection and in their reports thereon.

That the final report made by them should be simplified as far as possible, so as to relieve them of unnecessary clerical work.

That their compulsory attendance at the office of the Department from 12 until 2 o'clock should be abolished, as consuming too much time in the valuable portion of the day, and that a method of reporting to the office once a day, either early in the morning or late in the afternoon, be adopted instead.

That the clerical work to be performed by them should be reduced to the smallest possible proportion, so that practically their whole time may be devoted to the active work of inspection.

4. That there should be one or more engineers appointed to the Department in addition to the engineer deputy commissioner also recommended.

5. That the inspectors of plumbing and gas-fitting should be transferred from the control of the Building Commissioner and placed under that of the Board of Health.

6. That immediate steps should be taken for a thorough examination of all buildings occupied by two or more families, or as a tenement or lodging-house, or as a factory or workshop, for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not they are provided with sufficient means of egress in case of fire, and that summary proceedings be taken to cause sufficient means to be provided where needed.

7. That the law should be so changed that authority be given to the Board of Appeal, upon representation of the Building Commissioner, after due examination, to forbid the continuance of work done in contravention of the building laws until the requirements of the law are complied with, or to vacate a building insufficiently supplied with means of egress in case of fire until the same shall have been supplied with the means required, and upon failure to obey such an order for a period of ten days to forcibly prevent persons from continuing to construct or alter buildings in violation of the building laws, and to forcibly remove the occupants of buildings ordered to be vacated for want of proper means of egress.

8. That fees should be charged by the Department for all services rendered by it to persons for their private information or advantage.

9. That a suitable and safe place should be provided in which the records of the Department may be kept.

10. That the travelling expenses of the Commissioner and the deputy commissioners and building inspectors should be paid by the city.

Mr. McNeil in his minority report expresses the opinion that "the system of the Department is, on the whole, excellent." The following extracts from Mr. McNeil's report indicate the principal points in which he dissents from his colleagues:

"I believe that the law, as it now stands, and which provides that the Building Commissioner shall be either an architect, a builder or a civil engineer, to be a wise law, and it should, in my opinion, stand without the introduction of a provision for 'technical education,' which is neither essential nor necessary as a statutory requirement.

"As to the detailed criticism of the method of appointing department inspectors, I believe that such criticism is a wholly uncalled for intimation of lack of capacity in the appointing power, when the fact is, that the civil service law has been in no case violated or abridged, and when it is specifically provided by statute that 'the Building Commissioner shall appoint all subordinates, subject to the approval of the Mayor.' I disagree also with my associates in their implied criticism of the age capabilities of the individual inspectors.

"Again, I disagree with the majority in the recommendation that there be a change of the office hours of the building inspectors, because such a change would certainly result in serious inconvenience to the architectural profession, and prove a source of great annoyance to the master builders and those of the building trades generally.

"Nor can I sanction their recommendation which contemplates the transference from the courts to the Board of Appeal of jurisdiction in certain cases for the enforcement of the building laws, and the law requiring sufficient means of egress in case of fire to be provided in certain classes of buildings. In my opinion, these powers should be as at present exercised only by courts of law, not by any quasi-judicial body. I would suggest that the present efficiency of the plan division of the Department should be increased by the addition to its force of one architect and the addition thereto also of one engineer, as provided by law; that the inspectors of plumbing and gas-fitting should be retained under the Building Commissioner, for the reason that permits for and the inspection of the work of all building trades should be, as far as possible, included under one Department, and public convenience would, in my opinion, be best served without the division of authority recommended by the majority; also that no fees should be charged for services rendered the public, except in cases where written statements of record are furnished, and in such cases a nominal fee, fixed by the Building Commissioner and approved by the Mayor, should be charged.

"For the preservation of the records of the Department a safe and suitable place should be provided.

"I would suggest, also, that the number of building inspectors be increased to twenty-four, the present ordinance requirement, and that provision be made for the appointment annually hereafter of one additional inspector.

"Attendance at fires within their districts is, in my judgment, unnecessary.

"I desire to say in conclusion that the present high state of efficiency of the Building Department is owing largely, in my opinion, to the good business and executive ability, tact, sound judgment and strength of character of the present Building Commissioner, qualities rarely found, but which, I believe, are possessed by him in a marked degree."
